COLLEGE CENTER

If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer.
Let him step to the music
which he hears,
however measured or far away.

—Thoreau

College in 1971 has become a unique way of life. Students believe in doing their own thing, traveling to the beat of their own drums.

Although each student travels his own path, he crosses those of others in the few, short years of college. In these crossings, emotions frequently flare and the student's drum rhythm is affected.

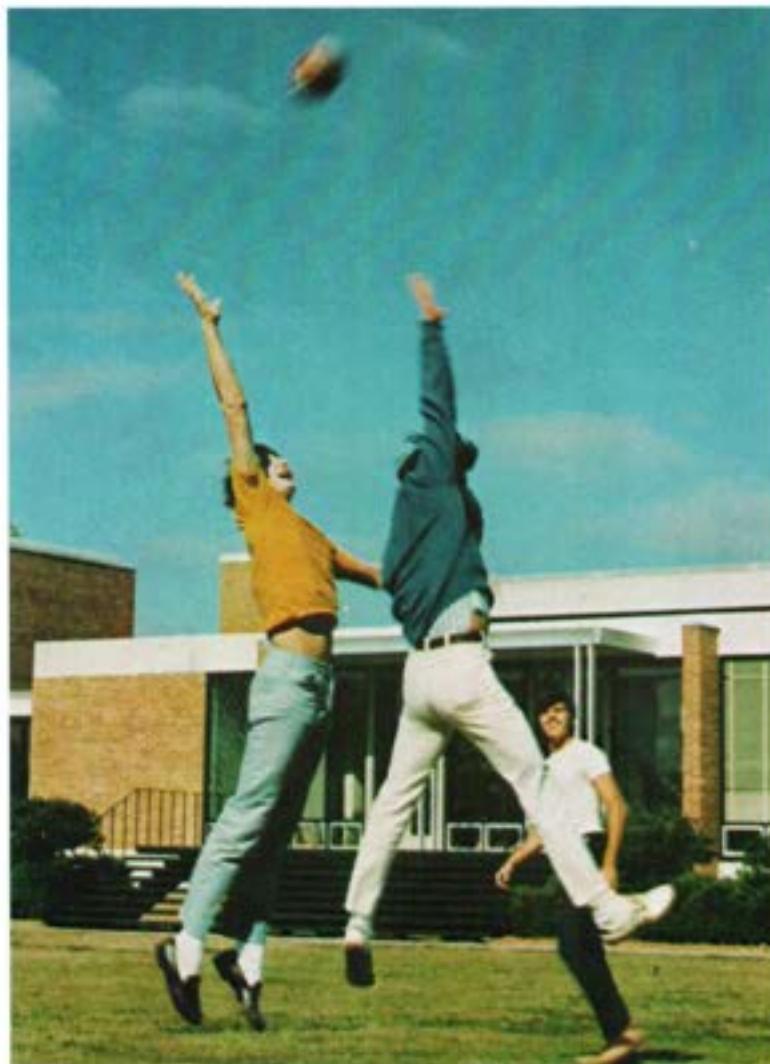

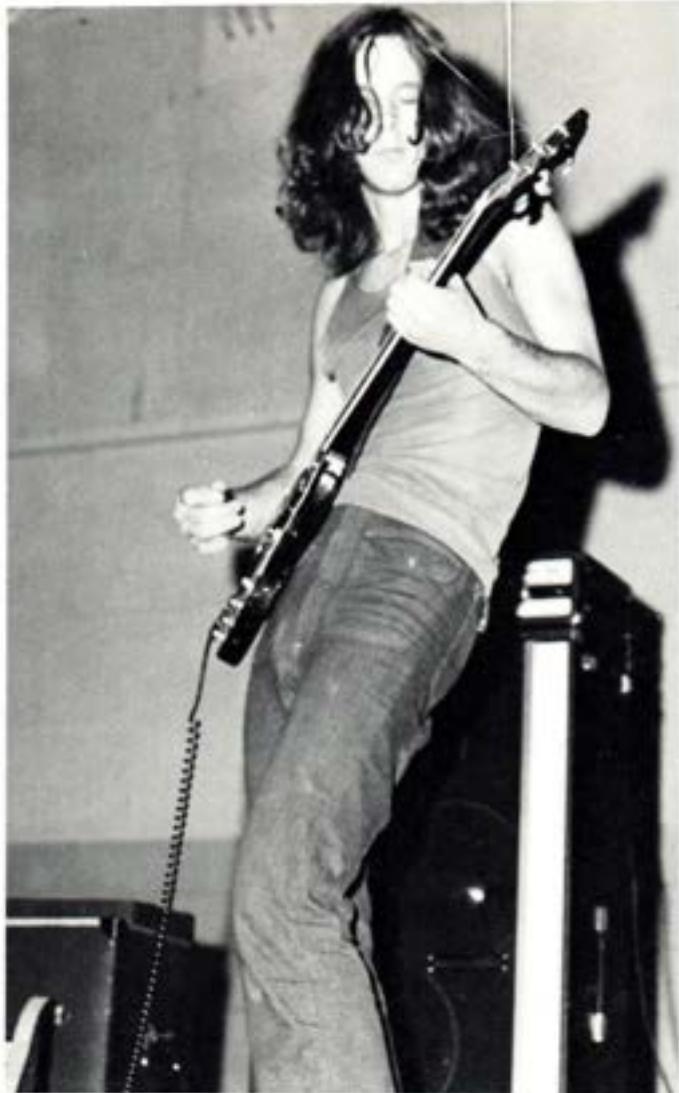

Education and college life each contribute to the moulding of students' sporadic drum beats into a rhythm which carries them through the rest of their lives.

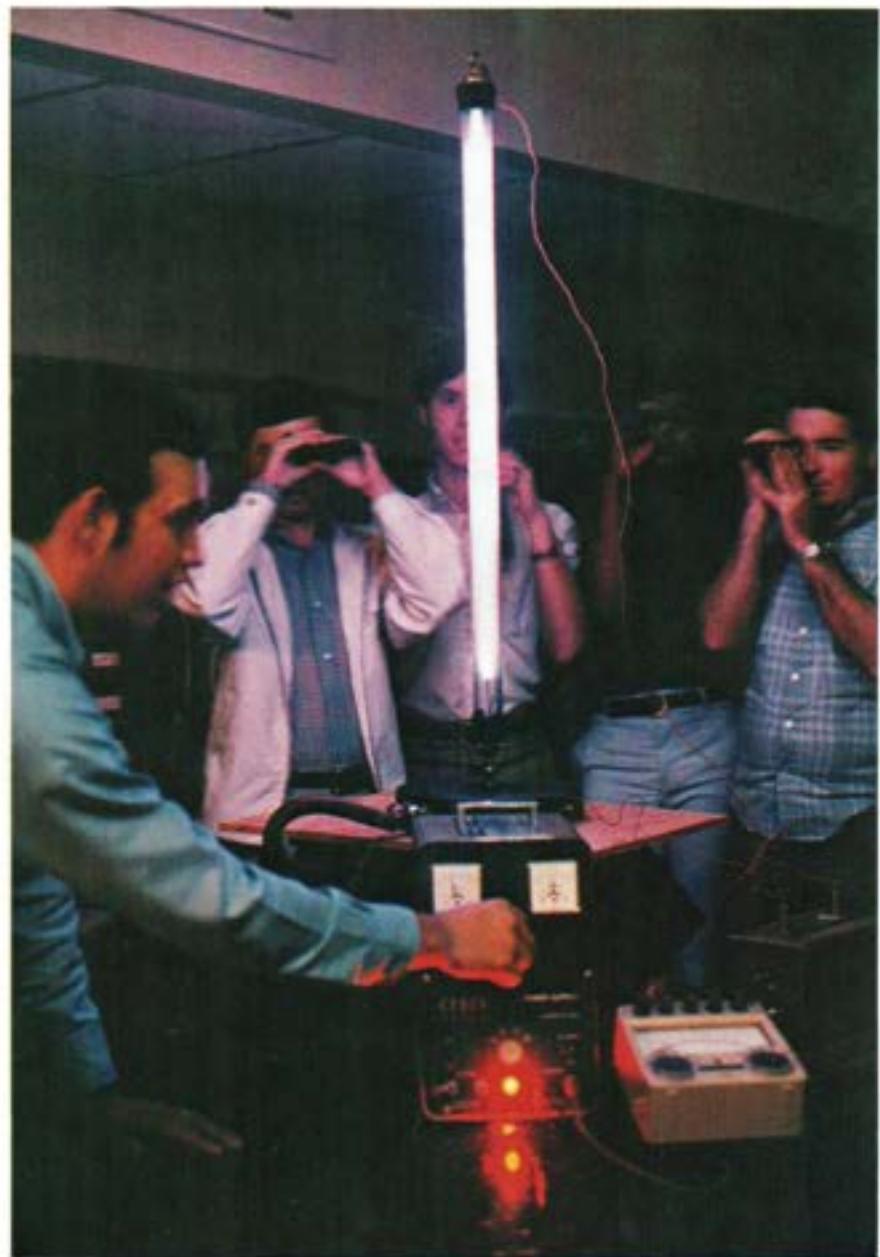

One's friends also have direct impact in the moulding of his drum beat. The deeper the love, the more their beats are tuned together.

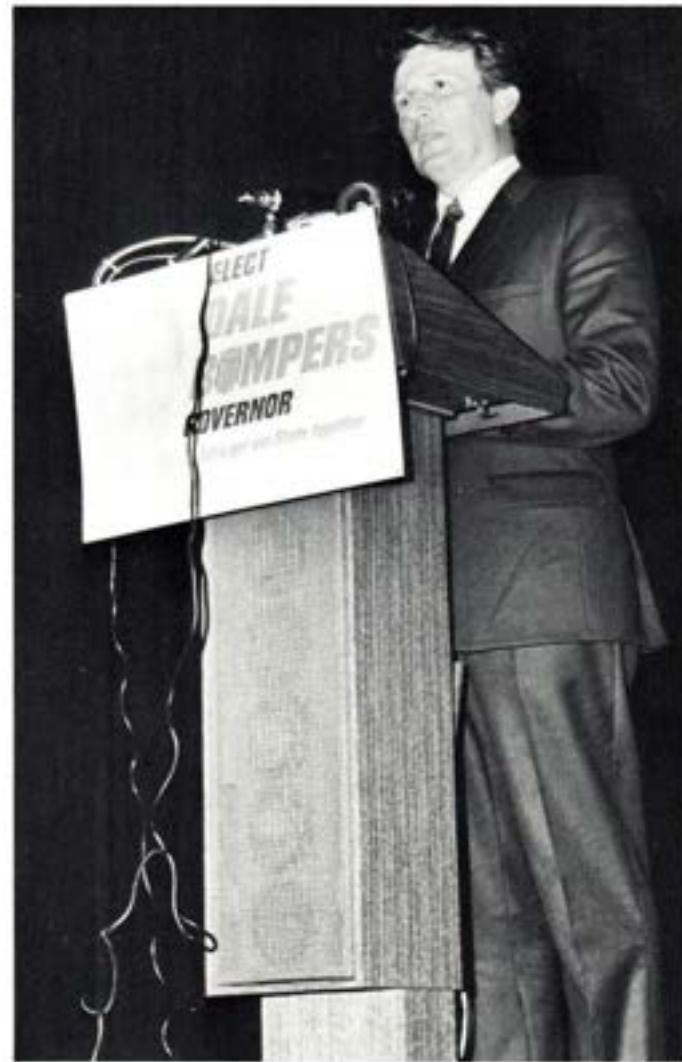

But college years are short.
Soon friendships must be held in memory only as the drum beat carries the student from college and on toward life's next challenge.

And in future life, each student may find his drum beat carries him back to where it received its foundation, always in search of knowledge and self.

Improvements point up president's twelfth term

In his twelfth year as president of Southern State College, Dr. Imon E. Bruce recorded major accomplishments, both academically and physically to the College. Construction began on a new nursing building after Dr. Bruce signed the $450,000 contract. Southern State also purchased a new Silver Eagle bus during Bruce's twelfth tenure in office. The college farm was improved with a poultry house and a new hay barn. New equipment and two additional labs were added to give the biology department a boost. Behind Bruce's leadership, a new Educational Media Lab was built in Carraway Hall. The art department also got new life as the area of training space almost doubled under his administration. Also, future students will gain from the newly founded Sage McLean Endowment Fund which originated during Bruce's twelfth term.

Board approves construction of nursing building

Finalizing plans for a new nursing education building was the major undertaking of this year's Southern State Board of Trustees. Headed by Chairman John H. Wilson of Magnolia, the board made the final approval of the plans submitted by Little Rock architects Wittenburg, Deloney and Davidson and accepted a bid by Whitehead Construction Company of Magnolia for the building of the Dr. Joseph B. Warton Nursing Education Building.

The board also showed an interest in the social life at SSC as it approved later curfew hours for the women living on campus.

Governor Dale Bumpers appointed two new members to the board this year. They were Dan Cook of Camden and Mrs. Beryl Anthony Jr., of El Dorado.

Authorities, publicists add to life of college

George Massingale, in his first year as dean of men, was sponsor of AMS and aided men students in a counseling capacity.

Pat Weaver, dean of women, worked closely with women students as sponsor of AWS and cheerleader adviser. As director of financial aid, Bernard Polk assisted students who had limited resources to finance their college education. He also helped in coordinating the scholarship program.

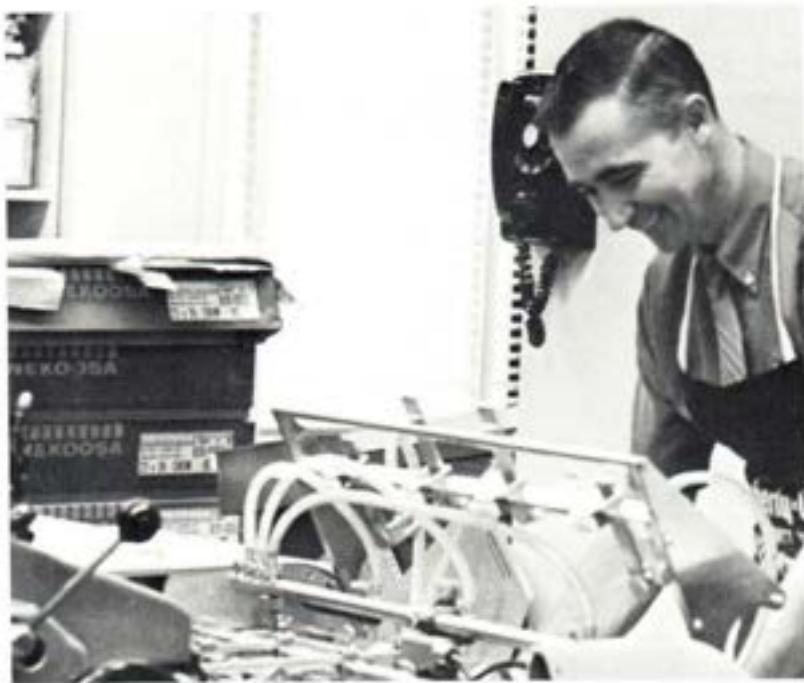

Rollie Flaherty served his initial year at the post of director of student activities. He also sponsored the College Activities Board and acted as assistant director of Upward Bound.

James Canter, in his first year at Southern State, served as assistant dean of men and assistant football coach.

As alumni secretary, Milton Talley edited "The Southern Stater." He was also director of student placement and head of 1970 Homecoming activities.

Responsible for student publications on campus was the journalism department. Staff offices of the department were located on the first floor of Wilson Hall. Rhine Seymore, director of public relations in his first year at SSC, also acted as sports information director. This was also the first year at Southern State for Vernon Hall, print shop director, and James Willis Jr., instructor in journalism and Mulerider and Bray adviser. Bonnye Powell, secretary of the print shop, was responsible for setting type on the justowriter and the IBM machine. Marjorie Hipp, director of the news bureau, sent information about students' activities to their hometown newspapers.

Counselors, registrars keep records in order

James L. Smyth, registrar, was responsible for operating the IBM machine which records students' grades.

Maxine Porterfield, assistant registrar, was in charge of filling out evaluation sheets for students.

As accountant, Margaret Atchison filed insurance and financial reports for the College. She was also responsible for payment of bills.

Business Manager Robert Cole took care of the College's financial matters. He also acted as purchasing agent in ordering equipment for the College.

Aiding in keeping records of the school were Sara Couch and Bonnie Smith who sent receipts and statements for the Business Office.

Physical staff maintains college campus, facilities

Responsible for maintenance of the 781-acre campus and farm operations was the physical plant department headed by Billy Ray Machen, plant engineer, and Doug Farrar, assistant plant superintendent in charge of buildings and grounds. The department handled nearly all of the maintenance or repair work needed by the College.

Assistants, personnel aid College, students

Helping to keep the College running smoothly, secretaries were a vital part of each administrative office. They were Arvia Askew, secretary to the vice president for student affairs; Reta Dean, secretary to the vice president for academic affairs; Marzelle Gillespie, secretary to the vice president for administration, research, and federal programs; Hazel Kirkpatrick, secretary of student affairs; Frances Mullins, secretary to the president; Janette Rogers, secretary to financial aids director; Helen Samuel, secretary to the business manager; Maxine Sanders, secretary to the registrar; Curtistine Walz, business office secretary; Jimmie Watson, admissions secretary; Jean Williams, secretary of data processing; and Mary Johnson, business office secretary. Each puts in long hours.

Business courses prepare students in commerce

The goal of the Division of Business and Commerce was to qualify students in the area of business and to train them as teachers of business education. Included in the division were the departments of management, marketing, accounting, economics, business education and office administration. New in the division was the business computations lab. Also added were new electric typewriters and dictaphone listening stations in the secretarial science department to give depth to the division.

Education division initiates kindergarten program

New in the education department was the Educational Media Center which opened last spring, and the kindergarten program. The media center, under the direction of Don Marshall, trained students to make and use teaching aids. Four new courses were offered in the kindergarten program in order to certify teachers in early childhood education. The program was directed by Orietta Berry, professor of education.

New instructors in the physical education department were Lynn Hall, sponsor of WRA and coach of the new women's volleyball team, and Monroe Ingram, assistant basketball coach and P.E. instructor. Among various clinics held in the department were drug workshops which dealt with the use and abuse of drugs.

Wilson Hall houses facilities for humanities classes

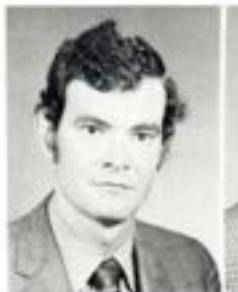

The Division of Humanities, headed by George Sixbey, included the Department of English, foreign language, journalism, philosophy and speech. New instructors in the division were Billy Neal, Robert Reid and Jere Williams in the Department of English; Sharon Thomason, Department of Foreign Language; James R. Willis, Department of Journalism.

New this year in the humanities division was the Omni-Lab Language Laboratory. The lab is one of the most modern of its kind in the world and was the third of which Wesley Childers, professor of foreign language, was director. From tape machines in the lab, students have 72 different language programs available for instant dialing. Also new in the department were film projectors, tape recorders, record players and album additions to the record collection in Wilson Hall.

New equipment advances science, math division

The Division of Science and Mathematics strove to educate students in the fields of biology, chemistry, geology, physics, general science and mathematics. The division was enriched by new equipment, eighteen new courses and three revised courses. New instructors in the division were William D. Bacon, instructor in mathematics, returning from a year of absence; Carl T. Rutledge, assistant professor of physics; Joseph West, assistant professor of chemistry and Hugh A. Johnson, assistant professor of biology. Head of the division was Dr. B. C. Dodson, professor of chemistry.

Professional division extends practical processes

Included in the Division of Professional and Technical Education were departments of agriculture, engineering, home economics, nursing and forestry.

Completing their first full year in Wilson Hall, faculty members of the engineering department utilized new facilities in instruction of skills such as wood and metal works and drafting.

Among new facilities put in operation on the college farm were a new barn and a pond. Both were built on land the College acquired to offset a loss of acreage for a new highway which was constructed through the farm.

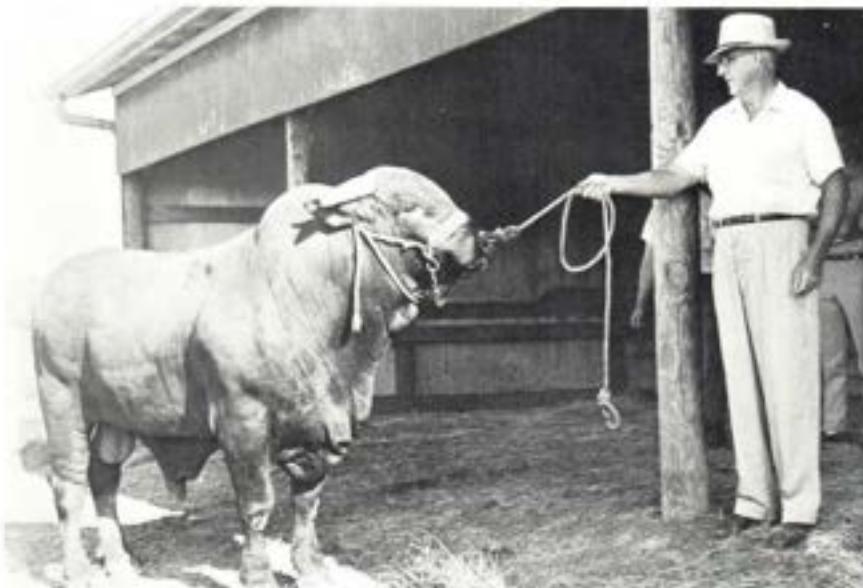

Headed by Pat Williams, the nursing department featured lab experiences in hospitals at Magnolia, Camden and El Dorado for student nurses.

The department of home economics trained students in the areas of foods, clothing, housing and equipment and family living. The Home Economics Association was active in serving at various college functions such as Freshman Parent's Day.

1970 celebration marks 50 years of Homecoming

Homecoming 1970 marked Southern State's fiftieth year of reunion and celebration. Student Senate President Fran Perdue of Camden initiated Spirit Week for the festivities. Bon fires, torch parades, shaving cream fights and special 12 p.m. permission for women, throughout the week, sparked spirit for the successful climax when the Muleriders defeated Northwood Institution of Texas during a Saturday night game. Southern State's ex-coach and administrator, Sage McClean was honored by the announcement of the initiation of the Sage McClean Endowment Fund. All in all, every student enjoyed the golden anniversary of the celebration.

'Miracle Worker' surpasses fall semester plays

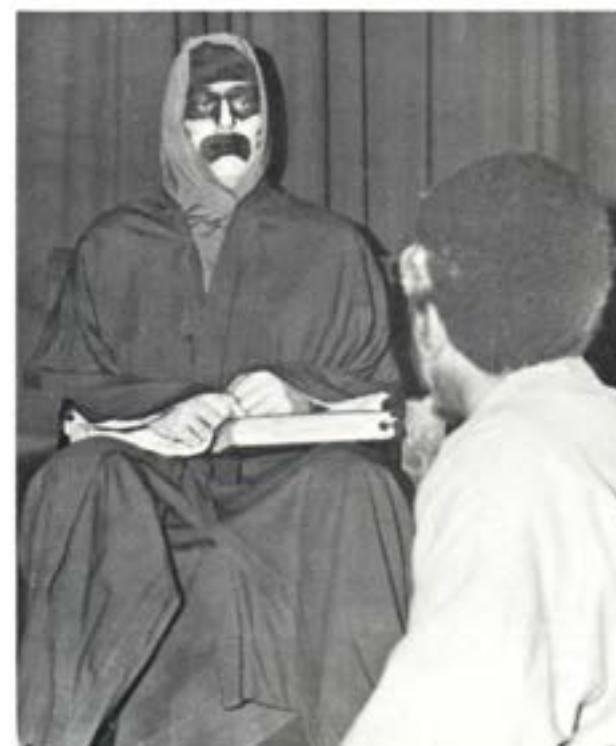

SSC Theater began the year with "The Miracle Worker" produced by Jake Whitehead. The play was followed by two senior projects: "Black Comedy" produced by Tony Delvecchio of South Plainfield, N.J., and "Aria DaCapo" produced by Dee Gates of Magnolia. The Reader's Theater, under the direction of Margaret Harton, presented "Pilate's Wife" in December and the speech and music departments combined to put on the musical "South Pacific," produced by Janelle Deckleman and Billy Barnett. The final play of the year was presented in May by the Children's Theater and was produced by Margaret Harton, speech professor.

Top: Mrs. Keller and son, played by Julia Kelly and Rusty Johnson, both of Magnolia, move a trunk during a heated discussion. Middle: Kay Porterfield of Nashville portrays Annie Sullivan, Helen Keller's strong willed teacher. Bottom Left: Miss Sullivan seeks Percy's help (played by Charles Hildreth of Magnolia). Bottom Right: Dee Gates of Magnolia portrays Miss Keller in the Rider version of "The Miracle Worker."

Band members march at games, present concerts

Helping to boost Rider spirit and provide well-performed concert music, the SSC band was under the direction of Richard Oliver. The marching Riders played at all home football games and performed in the Homecoming, Christmas and Columbia County Fair parades. The pep band played at all home basketball games and pep rallies, adding much to the spirit. Members of the band kept the "Heartbeat of Rider Spirit" going from Thursday night until Saturday night during Homecoming week. The concert band presented two performances at Southern State and went on a tour to several Arkansas high schools in the spring. Adding beauty to the band were the six majorettes who performed with the band and entertained with special routines at each home football game in Wilkins Stadium.

Activities board provides entertainment for College

Headed by senior Cheryl Terai, the College Activities Board worked to provide the best quality activities possible with the money available. CAB sponsored all of the Fine Arts presentations including pianist Ursula Oppens and New York Trio Da Camera. Pat Paulsen headed the list of lecturers brought to SSC by CAB. Several dances were sponsored by the activities group including the Christmas, Valentine and Homecoming dances plus the Spring Formal. Two concerts, one by Dawn and one by the Shadows of Knight were also presented by CAB. Free movies were shown throughout the year in the College Center. Miss Terai and the board also initiated a drive to secure a five dollar activities fee for SSC.

Harvest Carnival, Action Day stimulate activities

"A Night Under the Big Top" was the theme of the annual Harvest Carnival, sponsored by the DaCapo Club. Each dormitory and organization had booths featuring dart throwing, cake walks, musical entertainment, refreshments and varied activities. Prizes were awarded for the best-costumed boy and girl. Costumes were to relate to the circus theme and were judged by members of the various departments on campus. The main attraction of the evening was the crowning of Gwen Golden of Magnolia as Harvest Carnival Queen and Billy Barnes of El Dorado as King. Proceeds of the carnival were used by the DaCapo Club to give receptions after faculty recitals and contributions to the music department.

Pumpkin Vigil adds to Halloween atmosphere

Featuring food, games and entertainment, a Pumpkin Vigil, sponsored by the women of Harrod, provided students with an opportunity to watch for the Great Pumpkin. Games included apple-dunking, relay races, a pumpkin hunt and a fortune-teller told believers of their future. Hot chocolate and caramel apples were served and a campus band provided entertainment.

X-mas spirit overcomes stress of final exams

Although slightly dampened by finals, Christmas spirit abounded at Southern State with parties, decorations and Santa Claus. A Christmas tree lighting ceremony was held in the union, and the various dorms sponsored parties and open houses. AWS members participated in Secret Pal Week, and the cafeteria gave a special Christmas buffet. Religious organizations gave parties and programs for members.

Spring, summer graduation raise mixed emotions

M. Olin Cook, executive director of the Commission on Coordination of Higher Education in Arkansas, delivered the commencement address at the 1970 Spring Graduation exercises. Dr. Cook spoke on "Problems vs. Opportunities." Bachelor's degrees were conferred on 239 students and associate degrees on five students. Speaking at Summer Commencement was F. Jay Taylor, president of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. He addressed the 100 graduates in the Greek Theatre on "The Responsibilities of an Educated Citizen" on August 14.

Athletics

Director, coaches promote athletic procedures

The central figure in any successful college athletic program is the athletic director. The man that fills this position at Southern State College is Coach Auburn Smith. The coordination of all Mulerider sports activities revolves around his office. It is under Coach Smith's guidance that SSC participates in all nine of the Arkansas Intercollegiate conference sports. Included are football, basketball, cross country, track, baseball, tennis, swimming, golf and bowling. In addition, the Muleriders field a women's basketball team, swimming team, tennis team and volleyball team.

Working in conjunction with the athletic director are members of the Southern State coaching staff. It is their job to produce the best athletic teams possible and, at the same time, instill the ideas of sportsmanship and pride which go into the development of each individual. The 1970-71 Mulerider coaching staff includes: head football coach Rip Powell and assistants James Canter, Calvin Neal and Sonny Whittington; basketball: Head Coach W. T. Watson and assistant Monroe Ingram; cross country and track: George Henry; baseball: Monroe Ingram; men's swimming: Delwin Ross; women's swimming and basketball: Margaret Downing; men's tennis and bowling: Richard Carter; women's tennis: Katherine Brown; men's golf: James Kimbell; and women's volleyball: Linda Hall.

Top Right: Athletic Director was Auburn Smith. Right: Women's coaches were Margaret Downing, Katherine Brown and Linda Hall. Bottom: Men's coaches were Delwin Ross, James Canter, George Henry, Monroe Ingram, Sonny Whittington, Calvin Neal, James Kimbell, W. S-Club gives support to Rider sports program

The S-Club is the Southern State varsity letterman's club, and, as such, their major objective is giving support to the Mulerider athletic program. The club fulfills this goal primarily through the operation of the concession stand throughout the year. With money earned from this project, the club has purchased equipment for the athletic department and maintains facilities for visiting high school athletes who are prospective Muleriders. In addition, the club sponsors a steak supper and an annual weekend campout to provide fellowship.

Powell, footballers grab runners-up spot in AIC

The Mulerider football team began the 1970 season with a young yet confident group of athletes intent upon being the AIC contenders they were projected to be. The Riders kicked off their second season under Head Coach Raymond "Rip" Powell on a low note, as they lost two in a row to Livingston State and Mississippi College. They then gained their composure and won four-straight games before losing a hard fought battle to Arkansas Tech. The loss was followed by two more defeats, before the Riders closed the season with a win over Arkansas A&M to give them second place in the AIC and an even 5-5 season.

Non-league foes prove bad news for Muleriders

Despite showing signs of future sharpness, the Muleriders were plagued by mistakes in their opening game with Livingston State. The Tigers capitalized on two Rider fumbles and a pass interception and scored a 24-0 victory over a disappointed Southern State team.

The first half of the Mississippi College game was all Southern State as the Riders scored on the first play from scrimmage on a 24-yard keeper by quarterback Larry Cloninger. Doug Neeley's PAT made it 7-0. Six minutes later the score was raised to 13-0 on a 21-yard pass from Phil Brooks to Cornell Williams. The Choctaws were not to be denied, however, and they came back to score a touchdown in each of the remaining three periods for a 21-13 victory over a still winless Mulerider squad.

Nursing injuries and coming off a hard fought battle with Arkansas Tech, Southern State lost to a fired up Millsaps' eleven. The Majors scored TD's twice in the first half and once in the second while the Riders could muster only a safety in the first quarter. The result was 21-2 in favor of Millsaps.

Riders outscore Bison in first league conflict

Winning their first game of the 1970-71 season, the Riders defeated the Harding Bison in a 25-14 conference gridiron clash. The Bison drew first blood as they capitalized on a SSC fumble and scored a touchdown and a 2-point conversion for an 8-0 lead in the first quarter. The Riders came back to tie it up with a pass from Phil Brooks to Doug Neely and a conversion pass to Teddy Atkison. Brooks struck again in the second quarter with a touchdown pass to Atkison. Telford's PAT was good and the Riders took the lead 15-8. Scoring opened in the second half with a field goal by Telford early in the third quarter. Then in the fourth quarter, Brooks and Atkison combined on a 65-yard bomb to put the game away. The Bison had the last word as they scored late in the period on a 2-yard pass, but the final score was 25-14 with the Riders coming out on top and an inexperienced quarterback, Brooks, showing he could get the job done.

Defensive unit scores 4-0 win over Reddies

Defense was the name of the game in the Southern State-Henderson State clash. The strong Rider defensive unit not only held the Reddies in check, but put the winning points on the scoreboard to boot. The first quarter was the period of the defensive scores. First, defensive end Cleo House trapped Reddie running back Don Tison in the end zone to put the Muleriders ahead 2-0. Then, only a few minutes later, following a Teddy Atkinson punt which backed the Reddies up to their own three-yard line, the defensive eleven pressured Henderson quarterback Louis Pryor into fumbling out of the end zone for two more points. The remaining three quarters were hard fought but scoreless. The Riders were able to move the ball, but were consistently halted on crucial plays by penalties. The Reddies, on the other hand, were stymied by the Southern State defense, which prevented the Reddies from gaining a single first down until the fourth quarter. The game ended as had the first quarter, 4-0.

Riders joust Knights for Homecoming victory

Cornell William's blazing speed, added to the scrambling of freshman quarterback Mark McCrary, provided Southern State fans with a happy Homecoming win over the Northwood Knights. The game began slowly as both teams missed field goal attempts in the first quarter. But, midway through the second quarter, Williams burst 48 yards for a touchdown. Mike Telford's PAT made it a 7-0 halftime lead for the Riders. McCrary opened second half scoring on an 11-yard touchdown scamper in the third quarter. Telford's PAT moved the score to 14-0. Williams was not through yet. In the fourth quarter, he took a Knight punt 72 yards for the final Mulerider touchdown. Telford kicked his third PAT of the night, and the game ended 21-0 in favor of the Riders.

Center: Cornell Williams (24) breaks a kickoff all the way. Bottom: Phil Brooks (15) takes off on a keeper behind the blocking of Ross Oglesby.

Riders exploit miscues to tame stubborn Bears

SCA mistakes and a strong SSC defense combined to give the Riders their third conference victory. The first SSC break came late in the first quarter when Teddy Atkinson went back to punt, but he ran instead for a key first down. Seven plays later, the Riders scored their first touchdown on a 10-yard pass from Phil Brooks to Atkinson. Mike Telford's PAT made the score 7-0. Two plays later, SSC got the ball back on a Bear fumble. Brooks marched the Riders 26 yards in four plays and threw another 10-yard touchdown pass, this time to end Bill Palmer. Telford's PAT was good and the Riders led 14-0. SCA came back to capitalize on a Cornell William's fumble and scored on a one-yard plunge by Larry Miller. Their conversion attempt failed, and the Riders led at half-time 14-6. The second half was hard fought but scoreless. Neither team could sustain a drive, and the strong SSC defense hung on to give the Riders the 14-6 victory in Wilkins Stadium.

Wonderboys blitz SSC in crucial gridiron battle

SSC's big game of the season was also a disappointing one as the Muleriders journeyed to Russellville to take on the Tech Wonderboys. The first quarter started bright as the Riders took the opening kickoff and scored nine plays later on a five-yard plunge by James Channel. Mike Telford's conversion made it 7-0. Tech came right back in 11 plays and tied it up. SSC retaliated with a 26-yard field goal by Telford to regain the lead only to lose it again as Tech scored the second touchdown. The second quarter was all Tech as they scored twice more to lead at half-time 28-10. Tech scored once again in the third quarter as the Riders could not mount a drive. However, SSC came back in the final period with a nine-yard TD pass from Mark McCrary to Bill Palmer and a successful PAT by Telford. The Wonderboys were not to be denied, however, and they scored one more time to take the game 37-17 over the Muleriders.

Ouachita downs Riders in mud-slinging bout

Southern State spoke first, but the Tigers had the last word when the Muleriders and Ouachita met in a heated conference battle. The first half was dominated by the Riders as both teams failed to score in the first period with the "Mule" team taking a halftime lead of 7-0 to the dressing room. The score came on a 25-yard TD pass from quarterback Mark McCrary to Bill Palmer and Mike Telford's conversion in the second quarter. The Tigers charged back in the second half, and the momentum was all theirs. They capitalized on a Rider fumble for a third-quarter tying score and went on to score three more touchdowns in the fourth period. The Riders could not get anything going, and the game ended 27-7 in favor of Ouachita at Arkadelphia.

Riders edge rival A&M in season's final game

Grueling and sluggish was the battle between Southern State and arch rival Arkansas A&M. A second place conference finish was at stake for the Riders. Neither team showed much enthusiasm in the first quarter, and this was reflected in the fact that neither team could gain more than one first down. The second period appeared to be much the same until Glenn Buey recovered an A&M fumble on the Aggie 27-yard line. Three plays later the Riders scored on an eight-yard pass from Phil Brooks to Bill Palmer. Mike Telford's PAT gave SSC a 7-0 halftime lead. The second half proved more sluggish than the first as neither offensive units could mount a drive. The Rider defense hung on with determination and SSC gained a victory and the No. 2 spot in the AIC.

The 1970-71 Southern State basketball team, under head Coach W. T. Watson and new assistant Monroe Ingram, proved to be the class of the AIC. With a team boasting only one senior, Billy Barnes, the Muleriders went 18-3 in conference play and 24-4 overall to post one of the most impressive seasons in AIC history.

In addition to the regular season games, the Muleriders captured the Pine Bluff Kiwanas Holiday Tournament, with Al Flanigan bringing home the most valuable player trophy and the all important NAIA District 17 Tournament which sent the Riders to Kansas City for the NAIA National Tournament.

Team leaders were all-AIC players Bill Barnes and Al Flanigan, along with regular starters Johnny White, James Armstrong and Shady Patton. Outstanding backup men included Harry Hughes, Danny Watson and Dennis Rivers.

Riders overcome initial jitters to open season

The Southern State basketball team suffered a case of first-game jitters and lost their season opener to a more poised Dallas Baptist squad by a score of 88-74. However, Johnny White, Al Flanigan and Bill Barnes all scored in double figures to foreshadow better things to come.

All signs of the jitters disappeared when the Riders took on East Texas Baptist College in their second game. Led by Barnes' 32 points and 16 rebounds, the Riders downed the Tigers 88-75.

The Riders went on to win their conference opener with Harding in an impressive 72-57 rout. Johnny White led all scorers with 18 points.

The Muleriders continued their streak and outstanding team play with a 69-51 victory over Hendrix prior to the first semester break.

Riders continue streak, clinch holiday tourney

The Christmas holidays proved happy ones for the Mulerider roundballers as they continued to win and gain championship poise. Their third conference victory came in Clarksville where they soundly defeated College of the Ozarks 91-73. The action saw Bill Barnes pull down 22 rebounds.

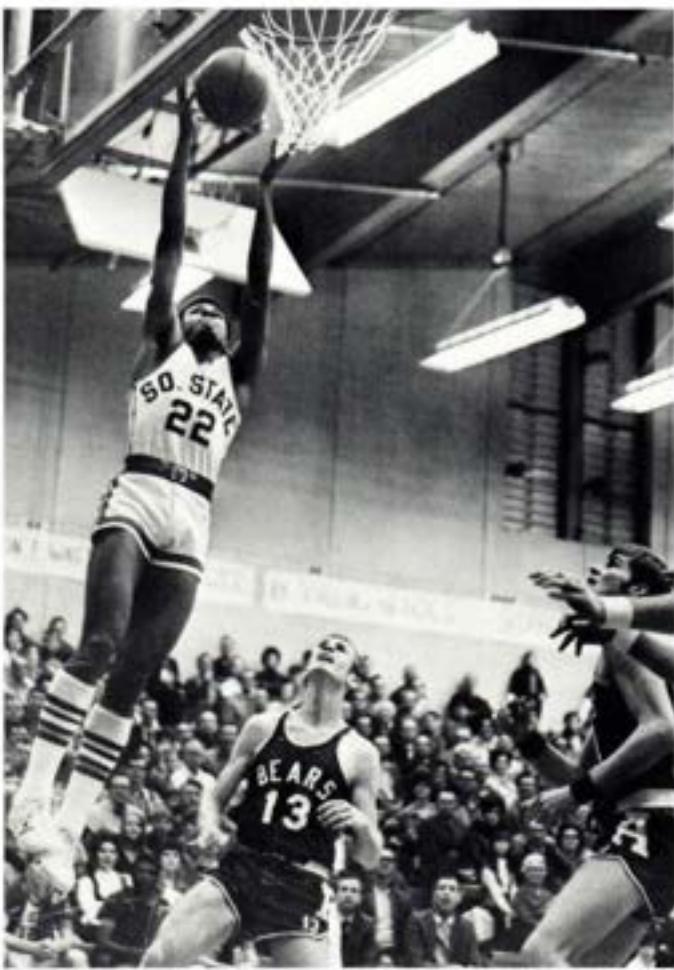

The next conference opponent to fall was Ouachita which the Riders downed 81-61.

Next, the Southern State squad took on the strong Golden Lions of Arkansas AM&N in a game that saw Al Flanigan score a career high of 40 points in leading the team to an 76-74 win.

The conference race was interrupted by the Kiwanis Tournament in Pine Bluff, which the Riders swept in grand fashion defeating AM&N 87-84 and Henderson 70-69. Al Flanigan carried home the Most Valuable Player trophy as the Riders took all honors.

Riders continue to roll, stretch win skein to 11

Southern State's next victim was arch rival Arkansas A&M, who went down 74-56. Harry Hughes led the scoring with 23 points followed by Bill Barnes who had 21 points and 15 rebounds.

Conway was the site of the Riders' tenth victory as they defeated SCA 57-50 in a game that saw all five Southern State starters score in double figures. Al Flanigan was high man with 22 points.

The streak reached 11 straight as the team returned home to meet the Arkansas College Scots. Four starters broke into double figures, and the Riders polished off the Scots in impressive fashion 59-46.

Wonderboys, Reddies halt Riders' winning ways

All things come to an end, and the Mulerider winning streak was no exception. It ended at 11 straight as a hard-pressing Tech team downed Southern State 83-79. Al Flanigan led the scoring with 21 points followed by Johnny White's 17. James Armstrong pulled down nine rebounds.

Virtually the same fate awaited the team in the Henderson game. The red-hot Reddies shot 60 per cent from the floor and downed the Riders 78-61 despite a 20-point effort by Flanigan.

The Riders bounced back against Northwestern and broke a five-game Demon winning streak by the score of 90-73. Harry Hughes played one of his best games ever as he poured in 25 points and pulled down 15 rebounds.

Roundballers win three, drop one to Ouachita

Harding proved to be the Riders' next victim as the team took a close conference game 71-67. Harry Hughes, Bill Barnes and Johnny White were all in double figures.

Their fourteenth victory came against Hendrix with Bill Barnes dumping in 20 points and pulling down 15 rebounds to spearhead the 83-60 victory.

The highest scoring game of the season came when Southern State took on College of the Ozarks. The Riders poured in a record-breaking 42 field goals and carried off a 107-76 rout.

The Riders' luck ran out once again, however. The Ouachita Tigers were responsible. The team played their poorest game of the year. Barnes was the only player in double figures, and it showed on the scoreboard as they lost 76-60.

Riders extend wins to 19 with strong team play

Excellent team play and a strong zone defense were the keys to Southern State's win over Arkansas AM&N. Bill Barnes had one of his best games ever. The big senior scored 24 points, pulled down 17 rebounds and held AIC scoring leader Gerald Lockett to seven points as the Riders rolled over the Lions 83-69.

The next victim was A&M, and they proved to be one of the most rugged opponents of the season. In a game filled with contact, the Muleriders won No. 18 by a score of 78-55.

Win No. 19 came against State College. The ever-improving Riders bombed the Bears 77-64 with all five starters scoring in double figures.

Muleriders finish strong, take conference crown

With the conference title at stake in their last two games, the Riders warmed up for the stretch drive in fine fashion against Arkansas College. The awesome Southern State defense held the Scots to only four shots from the field in the second half.

The Riders had to beat Tech to insure a tie for first place in the AIC and win they did. Al Flanigan scored 40 points and Bill Barnes pulled down a record breaking 27 rebounds to head the 75-65 victory before a capacity crowd of avid fans.

Arch rival Henderson remained the only obstacle between Southern State and the undisputed AIC crown, and an overflow crowd packed Mulerider Field House to view the showdown. With two minutes remaining, Henderson led by three, but a quick field goal by Harry Hughes and two free throws by Shady Patton gave the Riders a lead which they never relinquished. The clock ran out with the score reading 59-58.

Rider harriers capture distance-running title

Under the direction of Coach George Henry, the Mulerider cross-country team compiled its finest record ever by bringing home Southern State's first AIC championship in the five-mile event. The Riders finished out the season by competing in the NAIA national cross-country championship at Kansas City, Mo., where they finished a respectable 37th in a field of 77. Pacing the Riders were junior Martin Nolasco, senior Ron Isom and junior Jerry Hayes. Other point winners were sophomore Al Walker, junior Mike Bolam and freshman Gary Rogers. Al Lockyer won the annual "Old Blue" spirit award.

Riderettes win AWESA state girls' tournament

Despite the presence of only two seniors, Margaret Downing's young Riderette basketball team entered the 1971 season on a note of optimism which was soon well grounded. Through hard work and excellent team play, the Riderettes completed one of their most successful campaigns ever. One of the highlights of the season was the Southern State Invitational Tournament from which the Riderettes emerged victorious over a strong five-team field. The team was led by its two senior co-captains, Betty McNeil and Peggy Butler.

Mulerider wet-set strive to improve AIC ranking

After finishing a strong third in the 1970 AIC championships, the Mulerider swim team, under the guidance of Coach Delwin Ross, entered the 1971 season with hopes of still further improvement. The team competed in a rough 12-meet schedule which included the grueling Hendrix Relays. Team leaders included upperclassmen Sandy Santoli and Mike Silliman and freshmen standouts Gary Cislaughti and Jack Jordon, who proved their worth at the AIC meet.

Riderette swimmers win second in state meet

After losing several key members off last year's co-championship team, the Riderette swimmers faced what appeared to be a rebuilding season. However, the situation soon changed. Stroking through a seven-meet season, the young team came on strong to finish second in the AWESA championship meet, missing another championship by only one point. During the season, Debbie Howell broke school records in the 50-yard backstroke, the 50-yard freestyle and the 100-yard freestyle. She was joined by Edith Frazier who broke records in the 200-yard freestyle and the 100-yard individual medley and set a new diving record.

Mulerider thinclads work to defend league crown

Coming off a brilliant 1970 season in which the Riders recaptured the conference championship in one of the most exciting AIC title meets in history, the 1971 track team was determined to maintain their supremacy. Led by AIC sprint champion Bruce Hamlin and NAIA 440 finalist Greg Brown, the Muleriders competed in a grueling 14-meet schedule aimed at preparing the team for the championships held in Little Rock on May 17-18. Once again, the Riders were strong in the sprints and relays where Hamlin and Brown were joined by Bill Brooks and freshmen Eddie Baxter and Tommy Davis. Other standouts included Al Walker in the middle distances, Ron Isom and Martin Nolasco in the distance events and Glenn Perry in the pole vault.

Baseballers face new foes, tougher schedule

After finishing fifth in 1970, the Southern State baseball team under new head Coach Monroe Ingram entered the 1971 season with the idea of rebuilding. The squad returned eight lettermen and was noted for their strength in the infield and outfield. Their lack of depth in their pitching staff was overcome by hard work and desire. The Riders waded through a tough schedule of 14 double headers which included AIC newcomers Arkansas A&M, College of the Ozarks and Arkansas AM&N.

Southern State netters strive for court crown

After a slow 1970 season, Coach Richard Carter's Mulerider tennis team entered the 1971 season with hopes of capturing the AIC court crown. The team made good use of Southern State's new grass-tex courts in preparing for the 20-match season. As usual, Harding was the team to beat as was newcomer AM&N. Sophomore standout Gordon Tiner was joined by freshman Gary Earlywine to form a formidable doubles team.

Female netters bounce back to capture third

After losing their first two matches, Coach Kathryn Brown's Riderette tennis team bounced back to win the rest of their regular season matches and place third in the AWESA state meet for one of their best seasons ever. One of the highlights of the season was the AWESA Invitational Meet which was hosted by Southern State.

Standouts for the team were Kathy Brown, Nita Harder and Dinah Taylor in singles and Nita Harder and Cindy Gladney in doubles.

Southern State golfers seek improved ranking

New head golf Coach Jim Kimbell entered his first season with only one returning letterman. However, he set about establishing a program for improvement which included the recruiting of several key freshmen and strong schedule of matches with opponents such as Centenary, Northwestern and Louisiana Tech, in addition to AIC opponents. Standouts for the team were Richard Fenwick, Chuck Kaiser and Allen Duncan.

Right: Chuck Kaiser sharpens up his stroke. Bottom: Members of the golf team were Chuck Kaiser, Randy Ingersoll, Dick Fenwick and Alan Duncan.

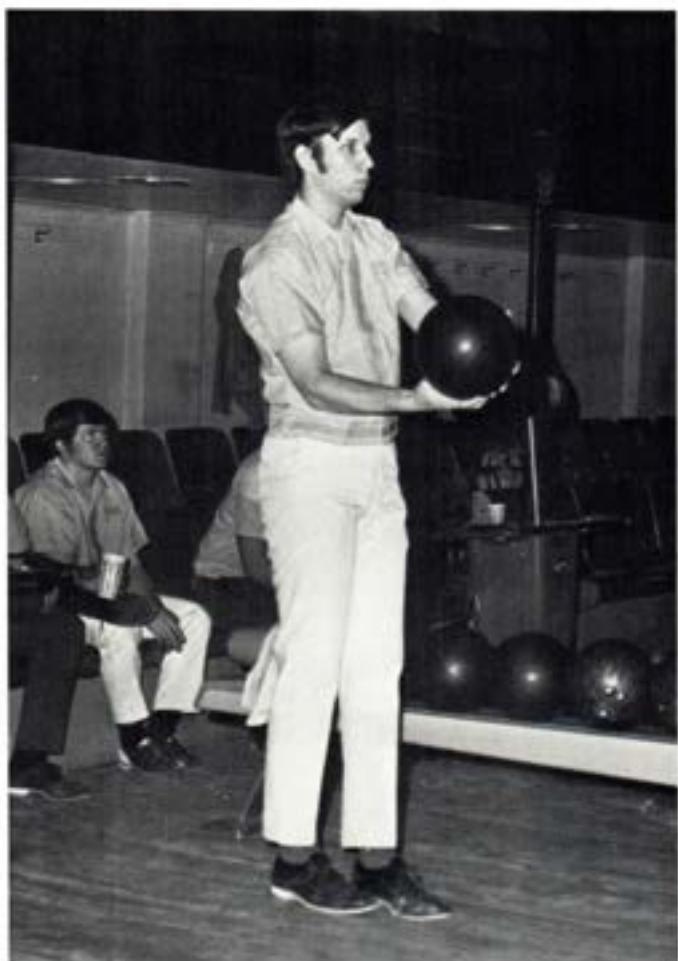

Mulerider bowlers seek conference tenpin title

After finishing third in 1970, the 1971 Mulerider bowling team, under Auburn Smith, sought to do something no Southern State team has ever done. That something was win an AIC tenpin championship. The big obstacle in their way was AIC and NAIA champion Harding. However, led by team captain and scoring leader Nathan Evers, they literally rolled through a demanding season in search of their goal.

Intramural slate offers Staters varied activities

Sponsored by the physical education department of SSC and directed by Larry McNeal, assistant professor of physical education, the intramural department provided an extensive program of activities designed to give every student an opportunity to participate in a competitive or recreational activity which was attractive to him. The 1970-71 program included over 50 activities which varied from team sports, touch football and basketball to such individual activities as table tennis and billiards. In order to carry out a broad program, Coach McNeal was assisted by two part-time assistants, a part-time student secretary and student athletic directors from each unit of competition: commuters, dorm-wing residents and Magnolia residents.

Senate sponsors activities during Spirit Week

Carrying out the services of student government, the Student Senate was responsible for sponsoring some of the activities on campus. Oct. 12-17 was declared Spirit Week by the Senate. Activities of the week included a shaving creme fight, hayride, a free dance featuring the "Merging Traffic" and a parade. The week was climaxed by the Homecoming game and dance. The association sponsored a mock election before the gubernatorial race in the fall and established a Forum Committee which became active in the spring semester. Members initiated a teacher-evaluation program and operated a student book exchange for spring registration. The Senate approved constitutions this year for cheerleaders, biology club, home economics club, desert club, Music Educators National Conference, nursing club, Presbyterian student group and SSC Girl Scout club. Members were also active in voicing student suggestions to administrators.

Association coordinates residence hall activities

Responsible for coordinating activities for each resident hall, the Association of Men Students was made up of a president, vice president and representatives from each men's dorm. In the spring they sponsored a Bike-a-Thon, a fishing contest and a chess, checker and bridge tournament. The AMS worked closely with other organizations on campus in a legislative capacity during its second year on campus.

AWS sponsors 'penny' nights, honors top coeds

Association of Women Students, helping to unify and provide activities for women on campus, sponsored Secret Pal Week in December, Smarty Party in January and Orphans Day and Sadie Hawkins Day in the spring. They also sponsored three penny nights during the year and had a poker booth at the Halloween Harvest Carnival. AWS gave a banquet, honoring senior women, and an awards and convocation ceremony to highlight the year.

CAB furnishes incentive for campus activities

Designed as a brother organization to the Student Senate, the College Activities Board was formed to take some responsibilities from Senate members. CAB was in charge of the Fine Arts Series, a lecture series, dances and other campus activities. The board was divided into a recreation committee, public relations committee, hospitality committee and fine arts committee during the second year of CAB.

Honor societies recognize intellectual maturity

Lambda Sigma Alpha, senior women's honor society, strove to promote scholarship for women, to honor college women who have achieved high scholastic standing and to encourage women to continue their intellectual development. Qualifications for membership in Lambda Sigma Alpha include maintaining a cumulative grade point of B average or above, possessing admirable character traits and participating in school activities.

Alpha Chi, scholastic honor society, recognized the top scholars of the College. Sponsored by George Sixbey, membership was open to juniors and seniors with high scholastic records. Various guest speakers and other programs were presented during the year. Several members planned to attend a national meeting in Memphis in the spring.

Actors receive awards from drama organization

Members of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary drama fraternity, must have accumulated a certain number of points from backstage work and participation in plays. They must also have a 2.00 grade average. The club sponsored Aardvark and the Miss Southern Belle pageant in February. Drama awards of best actor and actress and best supporting actor and actress were presented at the annual picnic.

Phi Sigma Chi offers practical work experience

Phi Sigma Chi's theme this year was "Children in an Expanding World." The organization tried to give members an opportunity to see things before they started teaching and to show them practical things which they can use. Activities included a Christmas party for the Methodist Children's Home, a visit to the Columbia County Library and to Eastside Elementary School and a practical view of Caraway Hall's Educational Media Lab.

Society encourages interest in literature, writing

Designed to encourage an interest in literature and writing, Sigma Tau Delta is an honorary English society open to junior and senior majors and minors with a 3.00 grade point average. The club pledged eight students and one teacher and held an initiation and formal party in the fall. Evenings of poetry reading were held several nights during the year and a party was given at Christmas. "Beginnings," an SSC student publication, was entered in a contest of literary magazines in the spring. This was the fourth year for "Beginnings."

Program, retreat highlight Chi Alpha activities

Sponsored by the Assembly of God Church, Chi Alpha encouraged and provided Christian activities for students. Highlighting the fall semester, the group sponsored the Oak Ridge Boys and the Faith Quartet in concert. Chi Alpha members also attended a retreat in Hot Springs and gave various parties and socials throughout the year. Lillie Miller was the group's faculty sponsor and Charles Northcutt was Chaplain of Chi Alpha.

Taurans achieve status as only social fraternity

Leading the way for social organizations at Southern State, the Tauran Society was the first social fraternity on campus. Members included eighteen men students and pledges who joined the organization in January. Working committees of the Taurans were the executive committee, social committee, and budget committee. The club sponsored two annual dances and one service project each semester to provide funds for the scholarship program. In the fall the Taurans ran eighty miles to Arkadelphia for the Henderson-SSC football game. Sweetheart of the Tauran Society was Connie Bailey of Magnolia.

Striving to unify students on campus, the Black Student Association opened membership to everyone. In an attempt to have better public relations, they were in charge of a Thanksgiving food and clothing drive and a toy and clothing drive at Christmas. Also sponsored by the group was a fashion show and dance in the fall, a formal dance in the spring and a film, "Raisin in the Sun," featuring Sidney Portier. Scheduled for February was an elaborate Negro History Week with guest lecturers each evening and a concert choir from a neighboring school.

Religious clubs further spiritual growth of members

Newman Club, an organization of Catholic students, furthered spiritual, intellectual and social interests of students on campus. The club sponsored activities such as folk masses and guest speakers throughout the year. The highlight of the year was the participation of members in "Search," a weekend retreat for Catholic college students.

Wesley Foundation, an organization for Methodist students, helped members develop a concern for spiritual things by providing activities and fellowship. Included in activities were concerts by the "Rebeccas" and "Dust and Ashes."

ABS strives for more effective campus ministry

As in the past, the Association of Baptist Students has strived to aid in an effective campus ministry to SSC students. The association held vespers services each Wednesday night with programs designed to inspire and strengthen students for greater service in Christian living. A soul-winning campaign with a "Living Is . . ." theme was originated in the fall to emphasize opportunities for Christian witnessing. The Baptist Collegiate Center, located at the southwest corner of the campus, has served as the center of all ABS activities.

Baptists cultivate religious activities on campus

Baptist Student Union is an informal fellowship of students, existing to provide religious, social and service outlets to college students. The BSU conducted a regular program of religious services at the Baptist Student Center, adjacent to the campus. Programs of study and discussion; social activities and the organization of various ministering projects such as weekend services in nearby churches also took place in the center. Baptist Student Union has no formal membership roll. The Baptist Student Center was owned by the Arkansas Baptist State Convention, and funds for local program expenses came from Baptist churches of the surrounding area. Jesse D. Cowling served as director of both the center and Baptist Student Union programs.

The Missionary Baptist Student Fellowship was sponsored by the Calvary Missionary Baptist Church. It provided for its members a Sunday evening meal and transportation to all services. The main purpose of MBSF was to promote the spiritual growth and development of the students through devotionals, inspiration, Bible study, prayer, fellowship and personal soul-winning. Other activities for the year included hosting a weekend visit from State College and A&M College groups, Parents' Day at Calvary Missionary Baptist Church and Christmas and Spring Banquets. The highlights of the year were the state and national retreats at Bogg Springs Baptist Encampment.

Sponsored by the Jackson Street Church of Christ, the Youth Christian Association promoted Christian responsibility and fellowship among students at Southern State. The group met each Wednesday evening in the College Center Conference Room for Bible study, devotions, and gospel singing. After the Sunday night church services every week, the members met at the home of Dr. William Loe for food and fellowship. The group worked with the local congregation in publishing a student directory of all students listing the Church of Christ as their religious preference and helped distribute the directories to students.

Clubs give members advice on vocational chances

Promoting interest in geology beyond classroom studies, cultivating fellowship among geology students and giving students an opportunity to observe the working and professional aspects of geology were the purposes of the Geology Club. Field trips were made to the lower part of Louisiana to observe delta formations, to Hot Springs to look for minerals and to Arizona during the spring break. Members of the club also participated in a summer field camp in Colorado last summer.

Giving psychology students an opportunity to further their knowledge of the various aspects and vocational possibilities, the Psychology Club helped foster interest in the field. The group presented programs, guest speakers and films at their monthly meetings. An annual spring picnic was held at the end of the year.

Engineers sponsor dance, rifle match, banquet

Offering fun, fellowship and an opportunity for students to learn more about the field, the Engineering Club was advised by Frank Root. The group met each first and third Tuesday. A dance featuring the Jamestown Flood from Little Rock was sponsored by the club after the last football game and a rifle match was staged in November. Climaxing the year was the annual banquet during National Engineering Week and the election of Martha Mosley, a sophomore elementary education major from Hope, as sweetheart.

IN MEMORIAM

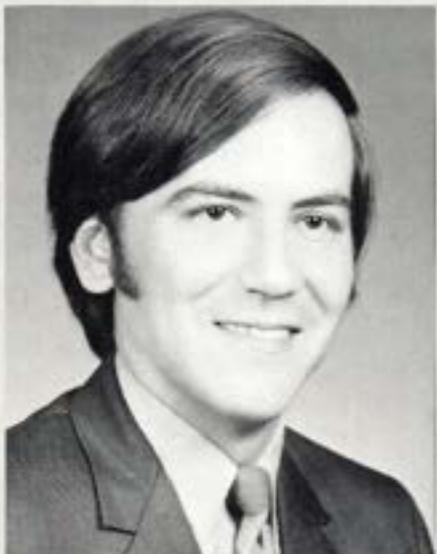

Ronnie Tucker, Norphlet

Leeda Sue Hockaday, Ashdown

Though untimely death may take us from this earth, we live forever in memories and rejoice in laughter of our loved ones.

Richard Sava, Texarkana

Nell R. King, Calion

Thought for the times

In a time of war and dissension let us be careful lest we forget:
even as those who live have their own reasons for living, so once did those who succumb to war.
Let us unite to search for peace, within ourselves and throughout the world.

The "Bath scene" provided the audience with good entertainment during the SSC presentation of "South Pacific." The presentation marked the first time that the drama department and the music department combined to present a musical.

Students at Southern State were keenly aware of the school's problems. Ron Isom of Texarkana, Kandi Corbett of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Tony Knight of St. Petersburg, Fla., were only a few of the many students who attended the Educational Crisis Rally in Little Rock.

Jerry Guess of Chidester glances over his textbook before classes. The new bench just outside of Wilson Hall offered students a place to relax and do a little "cramming" before having to go to classes.

Southern State's pep band displays some of its undying spirit at a pep rally. The band performed at all of the year's pep rallies, all of the football games and at all home basketball games. They kept the spirit high, even when the chips were down.

The year passed, acting as a common bond among the different drummers.

The year has touched each person, has changed each person. And as the year slips by, so does the latest chapter of our lives.

Mulerider Staff

From separate ways; to separate ways

As my staff assembled, each came from separate ways to join together for the purpose of building a book. In the process, we built bonds of friendship and love.

Now that the book is done, we depart and, again, each goes his separate way.

But memory and the book remain as reminders of one of the most memorable experiences of my life.

A special thanks to my staff who worked with me and to all the friends and acquaintances who inspired me.

Russell Gunter
Editor

Top: Life as the editor wasn't all work. Unexpected pleasures, such as the surprise birthday party made this year, one of my best. Middle Left: Typing the index was a lot of tedious work, but the staff worked without complaining. Middle Right: Jo Ann, Judy and Dianne could always find time for a good laugh. Bottom: The female members of the staff loved to cut up. Here they posed together in the back seat of a van returning from a yearbook convention in Conway.

Farewell to you and the youth
I have spent with you.

It was but yesterday we met in a dream.

You have sung to me in my aloneness, and I of your longings have built a tower in the sky.

But now our sleep has fled and we must part.

If in the twilight of memory we should meet once more, we shall speak again together and you shall sing to me a deeper song.

And if our hands should meet in another dream we shall build another tower in the sky.

Gibran
