Through evaluation of the theories of others presented by college instructors
we shape our approaching future.

The mist of the future
moves before us forming shapes some dim and vague
others clear and vivid.

In brief moments of silence,
we greet ourselves.
Our ideas and concepts of the future are formed
during these times alone.

With contemporaries,
we exchange ideas and designs for the approaching tomorrow.

Experiences and people contribute to the formation of our future.
College students sketch their future from the models within the realm of education.

Buildings, streets, and meadows
await our exploration.
They exhibit to us
the shapes of the future.

We often listen and question, for our leaders contribute to the interpretation of our shape of things to come.

Dr. Bruce travels to check on school's goals

Under the direction of Dr. Imon Bruce, president of the College, Southern State began its 1971-72 academic year with the best academically prepared faculty in its history. Seven faculty members who had been in graduate school returned to the campus, and eight members left for a year's graduate study.

The freshman class increased in size, while the college's total enrollment of on-campus students remained the same. The construction of the Nursing Education Building went as scheduled, with installation of equipment, landscaping and the addition of a parking lot. Little Rock architects and members of the Library Committee and the administrative staff planned the new library building selecting carefully equipment to meet the needs of the College.

"Although we had the usual complaints about food and dormitory restrictions, many students, faculty, and staff consistently expressed their support of Southern State and attempted to work through channels to improve its program and expand its services," Dr. Bruce said. Alumni and friends established the Professor Inez Couch Endowed Scholarship, "indicating their growing interest in this institution and a desire to strengthen it," he said.

Dr. Bruce's agenda for the year was composed of meetings in Washington, D.C. where he attended meetings of the United States Chamber of Commerce in March and the American Council of Education in the fall. While he was in Washington he visited the United States Office of Education departments. His schedule included visiting the White House where he and other college presidents were given briefings by President Nixon's assistants. A February meeting included sessions with the North Central Association in Chicago.

Among colleges Dr. Bruce visited in the fall were the University of Wisconsin at Whitewater and Southeast Missouri State College at Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Board of Trustees

Attorney replaces trustee who served for 10 years

As the year progressed the appointment of a new board member was announced by Governor Dale Bumpers. A young attorney, James H. McKenzie of Prescott began his five-year term Jan. 14. McKenzie is a graduate of the University of Arkansas Law School. He replaced Mrs. Ned Stewart of Texarkana who had served on the board for 10 years. "We appreciate the service Mrs. Stewart has rendered to the College as a member of the board and vice president of the board for the past two years," Dr. Bruce said. Her husband, the late Ned Stewart, served on the board for 20 years and also served as chairman for five years.

In 1971-72 the board approved construction of the John B. Wharton Nursing Building and the plans for a new library. The nursing building was completed in late spring. Routinely the board approved faculty contracts, school budgets and new equipment purchases by the College.

Vice presidents

Administrator travels to check on programs

Traveling to Washington D. C. in October was Dr. Charles Jackson, vice president for administrative research along with Dr. Bruce, president of the College. They attended a national conference conducted by the American Association of State Colleges and Universities. Along with his traveling duties Dr. Jackson directs the federal programs connected with SSC.

As Director for Student Affairs, Dr. Donald A. Haefner coordinated student personnel services on campus. During the year he met with various student groups visiting the College. He met regularly with the personnel staff as part of the program to find new and improved ways to meet the needs of the students. Serving as Director of Admissions Dr. Haefner directed the summer freshmen orientation program.

As SSC's liaison and college representative, Dr. L. A. Logan, vice president for academic affairs, acted as a medium for the Danforth Fellowships which were awarded in March. Dr. Logan supervised academic affairs, constructed the curriculum each semester and headed the Academic Affairs Committee.

Former PE instructor returns as Dean of Men

Returning after a leave of absence at Northwestern State College, Natchitoches, La., Harold Krause replaced George Massingale as dean of men. Krause, before leaving, was assistant professor of physical education. Massingale is working on a doctorate degree at North Texas State University, Denton. Pat Weaver advised the new Compass Club and AWS and cheerleaders. Coordinating student entertainment activities on campus and working with the Upward Bound program, Rollie Flaherty also visited high schools in Southwest Arkansas.

Retiring at the end of first semester, Bernard H. Polk assisted students, needing aid, to continue their education. Auburn Smith, director of athletics, replaced Polk on a halftime basis. With the task of editing the alumni magazine, "The Southern Stater", Milton Talley, alumni secretary, scheduled an afternoon Homecoming game with Ouachita. He also added 400 to the Southern Stater mailing list.

James L. Smyth, registrar, and Maxine Porterfield, assistant registrar, were responsible for maintaining records on the enrollment and academic standing of students. Smyth attended the Arkansas Registrars Association meeting in Conway.

As business manager and purchasing agent Robert Cole handled the purchasing of college materials and equipment. He also managed the college's finances.

Filing insurance and financial reports is a daily task for Margaret Atchison, accountant. She was also responsible for the payment of materials and department supplies used in administrative offices.

New to the operation, Bonnie Atchison aided in keeping business office records in order and helped send out receipts, statements and business exchanges.

Despite a healthy campus discussion on the issue of censorship-censureship, publications, such as the student newspaper and yearbook, continued to be produced by the journalism department in Wilson Hall. Rhine Seymore was chairman of public relations and also replaced Marjorie Hipp who retired after 10 years of service. Seymore continued serving as sports information director, a capacity he filled during the 1970-71 academic year.

As director of the Print Shop, Vernon Hall supervised student typesetters, ordered supplies and published numerous brochures for Southern State.

James R. Willis Jr., journalism instructor, again advised The Bray, the newspaper published weekly during academic sessions. Maintaining a busy schedule, Willis also advised staffers on the Mulerider.

Directing the counseling center in Overstreet, Paul Kirkpatrick and Ann Thomas helped students with educational, vocational, personal and social problems. Mrs. Thomas supervised the testing program which tested for self-evaluation and occupational guidance in pre-law and graduate school education.

Under the direction of Ralph Wilson, Special Services counselors, Alvin Brannon and Ina Baker aided students requiring special help. The program includes four non-credit preparatory courses: basic math, English, social studies, and psychology. All students are required to pursue psychology; the other courses are optional, depending on the student's needs. Special Service students are scheduled in as many regular classes if it is felt they can pass them.

Construction continues on nursing education facility

Maintaining the 781-acre campus, the Physical Plant aided in supervising the construction of the Dr. Joseph B. Wharton Nursing Education Building. The Plant was also involved in the planning of the new library facilities and continued the maintenance and repair of teaching and extracurricular facilities.

The bookstore continued to supply students with textbooks, student supplies and SSC novelty items.

As students checked their boxes each day they encountered Aloyise Hipp and student assistants sorting and filing the mail.

Roy Deere supervised the planning of daily meals for students, in addition to scheduling meals for conventions, buffets and faculty dinners. He has spent 10 years leading cafeteria activities.

State council elects librarian, president

At the Conference of the Arkansas Council on Library Education, Kathryn Condray was chosen president.

Velma Lee Adams, head librarian, coordinated the annual workshop of the Arkansas Association of School Librarians, which was staged on campus.

With the help of other staff librarians Mary Looney and Jeanette Mosey, the library successfully changed to the Library of Congress style of classification. Miss Mosey was new to the library's operation.

A grant totaling $13,138 was received by Peace Library for acquisition of library materials. The College matched $5,000 of the grant which was part of $110,873 granted to eight Arkansas institutions.

Residence hall directors and select student staffs directed sports, social and cultural activities. During Freshman Parent's Day there was an open house in each residence hall. A Resident Hall Assistant Workshop was held in August.

Nurses, secretaries

Secretaries resign; nurses add supplies

Because several secretaries resigned their positions, some faculty members had to adjust to new secretaries and vice versa. Mrs. Francis Mullins, former secretary to the president, was replaced by Mrs. Linda Davidson who previously held the position but had resigned when her husband took a job in Houston. Mrs. Reta Dean resigned her position as secretary to the vice president for academic affairs. Until a permanent replacement could be found, three students assisted Dr. L. A. Logan. The Business Office also had a new face in Bonnie Atchison, who served as accounting assistant; she replaced Sara Couch.

Students saw two new faces in the infirmary, Magnelia Bostic and Hazel Richardson. The nurses treated numerous cases of colds, flu and minor injuries.

Tri-C reorganizes to become Phi Beta Lambda

Tri-C, SSC's business club, reorganized to become Phi Beta Lambda, a national business fraternity. New degrees offered by the commerce division were in finance and computer science. The Gregg/Pacesetter, a device designed to develop speed and accuracy in typewriting and transcription, was introduced by Ann Trexler. Field trips were made by Mrs. Goodwin's marketing class to Selbers in Shreveport, the business controls class to Murphy Oil Company in El Dorado, and the industrial management class to Shanhouse Corporation in Magnolia. Working on doctorates are Scott Boaz, Albert Stecker, Gayle White and Mrs. Goodwin.

Chapter of National Education Association forms

The creation of a student National Education Association (NEA) for elementary education majors was organized during fall semester. Advising it was Leon Hardin. The first regular group of kindergarten specialty-elementary education majors graduated this year, and the new Educational Media facilities will be housed in the new library. Admitted to the Teacher Education Program were 300 students. A breakdown shows that 109 were in elementary education, 58 in PE and 36 in social studies.

Dr. Don Lau served as visiting scholar for the 1971 first summer term at the University of Arkansas Graduate School of Education.

Members of the education department working on their doctorate degrees were Margaret Downing, Hal Krause and Susan Blackburn. Miss Blackburn was new to the department. Larry McNeal received an EdD degree from North Texas State in college teaching with a minor in health and physical education.

Fine arts earns accreditation from national group

The fine arts division received accreditation from the National Association of Schools of Music. Coeds finalized organization plans for Sigma Alpha Iota, honorary music organization for women. A video tape unit which allows students to see as well as hear their performances was added to the music department.

Jan Shaw, former Searcy band director, joined the music department as director of marching and concert bands. Richard Oliver retired as band director and taught music theory courses. He directed the Mulerider band for over 20 years. Both Shaw and David Crouse worked on their doctorate degrees.

Humanities faculty

Informal readings encourage future authors

Groups of students and humanities faculty members met in the College Center Reading Room for informal reading of original and favorite compositions. The purpose of the meetings were to bring together students who liked to write so that they might both give and receive constructive criticism about their writings.

Over 200 recordings of literary works such as plays, poems and short stories were now available in the English department's record library.

Jerry Cortez, Dan Skelton, and Michael Smalling returned from leaves of absence. A. M. Belmont worked on his doctorate at the University of Arkansas. Dale Whitman was on leave second semester at the University of Georgia. Billy Barnett attended the University of Mississippi; Robert Hartsell worked on his doctorate at Louisiana State University. A new instructor in the humanities division was Dan Ford.

Scientists studiously study Dorcheat Watershed

One of the many honors bestowed on the natural science division was a $2,000 grant to be used in studying the Dorcheat Bayou Watershed.

With two new biology laboratories at the disposal of the department, one designed for research, the students were able to carry on extensive scientific studies. Approximately $40,000 worth of equipment was purchased for the laboratories. Through the benevolence of the Gulf Oil Corporation the department also received a gas chromatograph.

To enable the students to understand science methods, video-tape facilities were used. The method course for teacher education was also upgraded this year due to the addition of $2,000 worth of equipment for laboratory experience. Students interested in teaching science on the junior high level were allotted a Natural Science Foundation grant to implement the new individualized inquiry approach.

Changes in the division's staff also occurred. Two new professors were added to the staff, Dr. Henry Robison and Dr. James Jones. Professors returning from a year's leave of absence were Jerry Anderson, who attended the University of Georgia, and George W. Henry, East Texas State University. Though two professors returned to SSC three left, Raymond Cammack went to North Texas State University at Denton, Texas; Richard Reed attended the University of Northern Colorado, Greeley; and Charles Rogers was at the University of Arkansas.

Historian revives black history, Russian courses

A new history course was offered for the first time first semester. The class, "American Social History" was an upper division course, open to juniors and seniors only.

Worth Conn's criminology class took an annual field trip to Cummings Prison Farm, located near Pine Bluff, and the Federal Prison in Texarkana, Tex.

Southern Historical Association met in Houston on Nov. 17-19. Dr. Robert Walz and Jerry Pyle attended. This too, is an annual affair.

David Sixbey is doing work on his doctorate at the University of Texas, Austin. Second-semester, Sixbey revived and taught "The Negro in America," a course he taught before taking a leave of absence to Texas during the 1970-71 academic year. He has revised also the content of his Russian history course.

Pyle is working toward his doctorate at Rice University in Houston, Tex. William C. Nolan is working toward his doctorate at the University of Mississippi. Joe Bates worked on his doctorate degree first semester at North Carolina University, Raleigh. James F. Willis is on leave of absence at Duke University, Durham, N. C.

Ed Lusby was named vice president of the Arkansas Sociological Association. Sixbey was elected as a member of the Student Affairs Committee.

The Criminology class heard numerous speakers including Arthur Wells, assistant special agent in charge of the Little Rock office of the FBI; Col. William C. Miller, director of Arkansas State Police; and Robert Britton, superintendent of Tucker prison.

Farmers visit factories, farms on field trips

Members of the agriculture department were on the go this year, visiting everything from the Texarkana Borden Processing Plant to the El Dorado Poultry Company. Each class was able to see methods in action due to the field trips. The poultry class visited a broiler farm in Columbia County; the animal industry class traveled to two collegiate judging contests in Fort Worth and Houston, and the forages and the crops classes toured farms in the Bradley area.

New courses offered this year were Agriculture Research Techniques and Agriculture Orientation. Poultry Production was also offered later in the year. Along with the new classes, modernization also occurred with the addition of three new tractors and an automatic feed mill. Much to the regret of the department, the year also brought 82 by-pass which ran through the college farm.

There was a metamorphosis in the engineering department also. Two night classes offered were Electrical Science and Industrial Instrumentation.

Features

1971 Homecoming

Week features 22-group rock festival, hayride

As Spirit Week unfolded, the Homecoming Committee scheduled events ranging from hayrides to a "rock festival". More than 22 groups performed in the College Center providing every type of music imaginable. Thursday night the ceremonies for the 1971 Homecoming Queen and her court were staged in the Greek Theatre to give the ceremony a natural outdoor atmosphere. After the presentation of the royalty, the cheerleaders led the students in yells. Following the pep rally the cheerleaders led a torch parade, with the "heartbeat" of the big drum representing the spirit of SSC, which culminated in the front of Greene Hall.

On Saturday the day's activities began with the Homecoming Parade featuring the Homecoming royalty, dorm and organizational floats and the SSC Marching Band. The highlight of the afternoon was the presentation of the court and the crowning of the queen at the Homecoming clash with one of SSC's oldest rivals, Ouachita. Maid Pam Freeman was introduced first and escorted by Joe Templeton and Billy Ray McKelvey. Gary Mooney and Mike Hardage escorted Maid Sylvia Thomas. The third maid presented was Ann Fawcett, escorted by Ken Smith and Randy Purdy. Karla Gibson was the last maid escorted by Mike Vines and Jackie Beene. Gwen Golden was escorted by Al Lockyer and Bill Fagan. Completing the day's activities was a dance featuring "The 1932 Ballroom Blues Band."

Scholarships Join 'Cruise to Land of Beauty'

Creating the most waves in "A Cruise to the Land of Beauty" was Pam Freeman of Camden as she was crowned Miss Southern State College of 1971 on April 12. A sophomore elementary education major, she won the Miss Congeniality award. For her talent, she performed a fire baton twirling act.

First runner-up was Debbye Hazelwood of Magnolia, and Jana Newkirk of Hot Springs placed second. Other finalists were Delane Wood of Smackover and Becky Hughes of Little Rock.

With her win Miss Freeman received, along with the traditional crown and trophy, a $200 scholarship. Also receiving awards were Miss Hazelwood and Miss Newkirk who received $150 and $100 scholarships respectively, which were new features of the pageant.

With an allusion of a ship deck as the background beauty contestants promenaded lightly onto a stage featuring a cyclorama which cast a blue-sky backdrop. In the evening gown competition a crystal chandelier added to the atmosphere. The set was designed as if the beauties were attending a ball on board a ship. The entrance to the ball featured two military escorts who awaited each contestant's entrance.

Talent show features comedy, rock, pop, pure soul

Out of the ten SSC coeds vying for the title of Miss Southern Belle, Debbye Hazelwood emerged as the winner at the Annual Aardvark show sponsored by Alpha Psi Omega. Miss Hazelwood is a sophomore home economics major. Karla Gibson was chosen as first runner-up with Jan Genestet, Gwen Golden and Bonnie Noble selected as semi-finalists after a sweater-and-skirt and formal competition. Taking first prize in the talent competition, which was $20, was Sharon Swift who sang "People." Winning a second-place prize of $10 was the "Gospel Five," who sang a medley of spiritual tunes. Other competitors in the talent competition included a hard rock group, a juggler, an acrobatic dancer, three soloists and a soul group. Featured at Aardvark were the winners of last year's talent competition, the Apple Corps. Master of ceremonies for the evening were Mr. Jake Whitehead and Rusty Johnson, graduate of SSC.

Margaret Harton, adviser of Alpha Psi Omega, recalled that in the beginning the show was an activity that club members wanted to do on their own. "And from the very start, it's been a popular show."

Actors portray animals, madmen, missing persons

Nelson Bond's adaptation of "Animal Farm" by George Orwell and Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland" were staged. On the night of Oct. 15 the comic fable of "The Madwoman of Chaillot" by Jean Giraudoux, was relived. The play was set in the shadowy realm of a dream. The play was written in 1943. "In spite of the play's age it is very much relevant to our times," said Jerry Cortez, director of the theater at SSC. The play was one of two major productions of the drama department during the academic year.

Bringing their first production of the spring to the stage were the Stagecrafters. "The Fantasticks," a musical with a cast of seven, was produced by the campus theatre group in conjunction with the speech and music departments. As their senior projects, speech students staged one act plays during the first semester, "The Days of Absence", a comedy featuring Blacks in white-face, and "The Footsteps of Doves."

Mulerider Band

Marching Riders stage 'We've Only Just Begun'

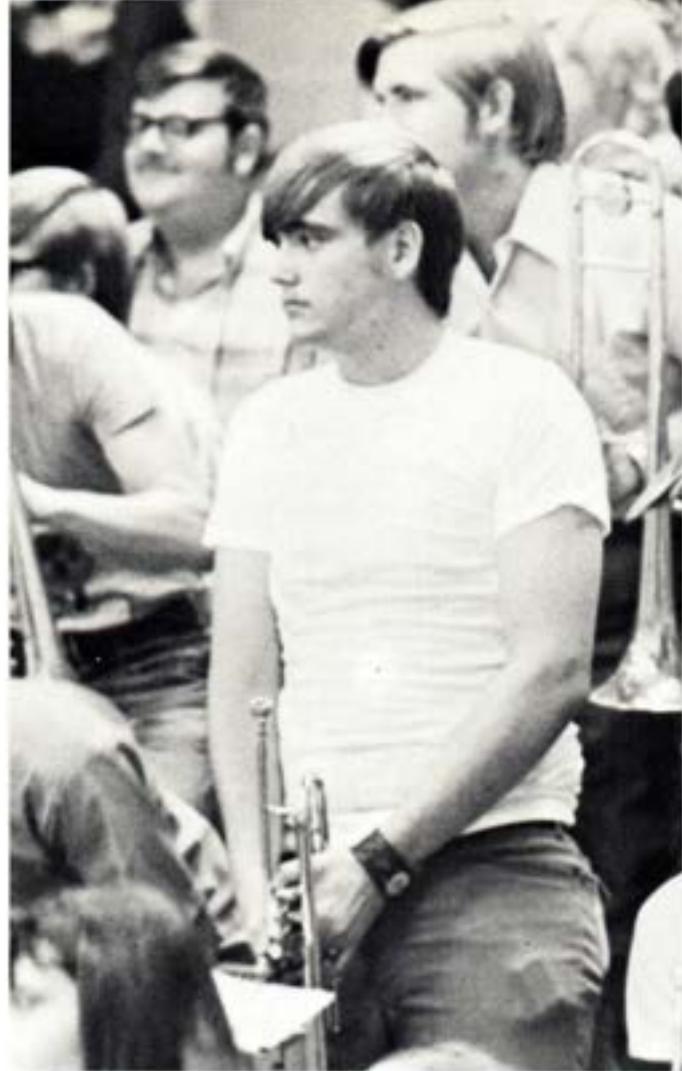

With long tiring practices each day the familiar sound of the band was heard. After pep rallies the band practiced on the intramural field for hours on end. Dedicated students composed the band as members confronted freezing weather to support the Riders and the spirit of the students, faced spring try-outs, acted as a pep-band for all out-of-town games, the farthest away being staged in Clinton, Mississippi. During football season the band traveled to Conway and Monticello for two away games. Entertaining fans each week with their precision marching and majorette routines, the band played such popular tunes as "Vehicle," "Get It On," and "We've Only Just Begun".

Spring was a time for putting away march folders and concentrating on concert pieces. The spring tour was a major band activity as members travel to surrounding high schools presenting concerts.

Spring brings movies, lecture series, instrumentalis

After an active first semester, the College Activities Board had more activities planned for the spring. Starting the long line of events on Jan. 11 was the movie "A Fine Madness," starring Sean Connery. Another highlight was the CAB sponsored registration dance featuring "Second Nature." There were seven more free movies for the second semester including "Camelot," "Performance," "Bullitt," "The Great Train Robbery" and "Bonnie and Clyde." A highlight of the spring semester was the CAB Valentine Dance featuring Bandersnatch, a rock group from Monroe, La. A series of four ecology lectures was presented in February under the auspices of the S&H Foundation. The lecture series entitled "What Price Survival" featured such noted speakers as Dr. Howard C. Daugherty, ecologist and professor at the University of Georgia; Dr. Margaret Mead, anthropologist, writer and lecturer; Dr. Daniel R. Grant, president of Ouachita Baptist University, and Dr. E. Ramon Arango, professor of government at Louisiana State University. April 21, Texas Women's University Modern Dance Group performed twice at SSC after completing two appearances at Texarkana Jr. College.

Artists perform 'Shrew,' sing classics, exhibit work

The Fine Arts Series presented "Taming of the Shrew," which was staged in Overstreet Auditorium Dec. 10. Performed by the National Players, the oldest touring theatrical repertory company in the United States, the group has played in 39 states, in Canada and by special invitation at the White House, Washington, D.C. Soprano Lynn Blair and baritone Mark Howard were featured in January. They sang classics written by Purcell, Strauss, Wolf and Mozart. Accompanying them was The Waverly Consort, an ensemble of six musicians specializing in the performance of early vocal and instrumental music, performed in Dolph Camp Fine Arts Recital Hall, April 14. The ensemble draws on a repertoire of over five centuries of music from the courts and churches of the Middle Ages, Renaissance and Baroque. Members of the consort had versatile backgrounds that included not only the mastery of unusual instruments but extensive study of the history of the periods mentioned previously.

Opening an exhibit of recent works in the A. H. and Theo Blank Performing Arts Center at Simpson College in Iowa, was Larry McCarty. The exhibit consisted of paintings, collages, sculpture and graphics. McCarty graduated from SSC in 1972. Performing "Musical Classics to Musical Comedy" and songs composed by such men as Mozart and Schumann were Lynn Blair and Mark Howard. They were accompanied by pianist Bruce Eberle.

Miss BSA Beauty Pageant

Speech major takes crown in ceremonial competition

The emergence of Joyce Elliott as the new Miss BSA for 1972 culminated a night filled with excitement, nervous anticipation and a display of Black SSC beauties.

After the contestants promenaded on stage Diane Fields, Miss BSA 1971, appeared on stage dressed in modish African attire to captivate the audience with a satirical reading on the creation of man.

To test the five finalists' poise in a tense situation each contestant stepped to the microphone to answer questions originated by the judges. Named fourth, third and second runners-up, respectively, were Brenda Butler, Marion Beard and Dorothy Savage. Brenda Wilson was announced first runner-up. Pandemonium broke loose in the audience as the new Miss BSA received her crown from Miss Fields. With excitement at a peak the crowd applauded continuously.

Contestants who entered the pageant other than the five finalists, were Donna Wiggins of Hot Springs, Joyce Williams of Stephens, Sharon Browning of Louann, Peggy Isiah of Homer, La., and Loretta Smith, Leah Lilley and Silvia Thomas, all of Camden.

Miss Elliott is a junior majoring in speech. For her talent in the contest she did a comedy monologue on the drug problem. "I will do the best I can to be the kind of Miss BSA you'll be proud of."

Halloween brings invasion of comic characters

On an evening when ghosts and goblins were all about, waiting for the Great Pumpkin was the most important thing of the night. With ideas taken from the Peanut comic strip, Harrod, sponsor of the annual Pumpkin Vigil, made large cardboard peanut characters dressed in Halloween attire. Yes! Even Snoopy was there, dressed as a clown. The Greek Theatre was transformed into a pumpkin patch where students waited with sincere anticipation of seeing the Great Pumpkin. Students amused themselves by dunking for apples, playing football and participating in a pumpkin hunt of small pumpkins which contained prizes of candy and money. Awarded with their sincerity and patience, while waiting with joyful anticipation, students were not disappointed as the Great Pumpkin appeared with merry laughter and threw Halloween candy.

Frolic merriment and laughter could describe the annual Harvest Carnival sponsored by the DaCapo Club. Students entering the Armory were flabbergasted at the humorous, comical happenings. Numerous games, exhibitions and shows, sponsored by campus organizations, gave the Armory a festive Halloween atmosphere. The revenge booth was probably the most popular as many students took a chance of getting the best of the instructors by landing pies in their faces. Highlighting the evening was the election and crowning of the Harvest King and Queen, Gwen Golden and Mike McGuire.

Nominating one SSC student for the honor of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," each faculty member determined the recipients of the honor, along with campus organizations who also named students to the select group.

The number of second-time winners increased from three the previous year to eight this year. Chosen on the basis of scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities and citizenship and service to the College, 23 seniors and 7 juniors were selected for inclusion in the 1971-72 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

"The contributions made by these people to our campus program are varied, and the award is particularly meaningful in that each of these people was a leader in a unique way and can be recognized equally with others in areas such as athletics, drama, campus service, student government and other areas," stated Dr. Donald Haefner, vice president for student affairs.

Spring, Summer Graduation

Scholar addresses graduates on 'growth of wisdom'

Tests, exams, and classwork came to an end when a total of 310 spring and summer graduates received their degrees in 1971.

After listening to Ed D. Trice, superintendent of schools at Texarkana, who spoke on the "Accountability in Education", Dr. L. A. Logan, vice-president for academic affairs, presented 64 summer graduates with degrees.

Anticipating the moment of receiving their degrees, 245 spring graduates heard Dr. Wesley Childers, internationally known folklore specialist and an SSC visiting scholar and professor, who spoke on "The Growth of Wisdom".

For many the thought of ending their college career at Southern State brought mixed emotions but was replaced with the joy of finally receiving their degrees May and August.

Athletics

Coaches try to retain athletic supremacy

Receiving the 1970-71 AIC All-Sports Trophy, the athletic department of Southern State entered the 1971-72 school year determined to maintain its place atop the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference. The man responsible for organizing and supervising this department was Athletic Director, Auburn Smith. Under his direction, Southern State participated in the major AIC sports of football, basketball, cross country, track, baseball, tennis, swimming, golf and bowling. In addition, SSC sponsored teams in women's basketball, swimming, tennis and volleyball. Added to these duties, Coach Smith served as chairman of the District 17 NAIA committee as well as director of financial aids at Southern State.

Working with Coach Smith in trying to maintain the standards of athletic excellence was the coaching staff. The 1971-72 staff included football: head coach "Rip" Powell and assistants Calvin Neal, Sonny Whittington and Eldon Hawley; basketball: head coach W. T. Watson and assistant Monroe Ingram; cross country and track: George Henry; baseball: Ingram; men's swimming: Delwin Ross; women's swimming and basketball: Margaret Downing; men's tennis and bowling: Richard Carter; women's tennis: Katherine Brown; golf: James Kimbell; and women's volleyball: Linda Hall.

S-Club

Athletes enjoy outings, recruit in high schools

Drawing its membership from varsity lettermen, it is only natural that the S-Club would seek to promote the Mulerider athletic program. This they do in several ways. Their primary job is the handling of the concessions at the various sports events throughout the year. The money derived from this work is spent on such projects as this year's purchase of blankets and sheets used to furnish dorm rooms for visiting high school athletes who are prospective Rider recruits. In addition the club provides activities for their members. This year the club sponsored two cookouts on the farm of Burton Miller, a Magnolia businessman, and at the home of Rip Powell, football coach at SSC; a steak dinner sponsored by the Rider Booster Club, which was organized this year and which consists of Magnolia businessmen and Rider fans; and on several occasions free tickets to movies.

Grid team goes 9-2, second in league race

With mixed emotions Coach Raymond "Rip" Powell entered his third season as Rider head coach. Having placed second in the 1970 AIC race, the Riders in 1971 appeared to be blessed with a veteran defense and an untested offense loaded with freshmen. However, the freshmen soon gained experience as the Riders opened the season with a victory over Southeast Oklahoma. These winning ways were not to last, for their next opponent was Livingston University which downed the Riders and marched onward to a national championship. The Riders bounced back, however and won five straight over such opponents as Mississippi College, Harding, Henderson State, Austin College and State College of Arkansas.

This set the stage for the game of the year with Arkansas Tech. With the conference title at stake, Tech proved that its No. 1 national ranking was justified as the Wonder Boys romped over SSC. Undaunted, the Riders regrouped and closed the season with victories over Millsaps, Ouachita and U of A at Monticello. Thus, the 1971 Muleriders finished the season second in the AIC with their best record in 20 years and having lost only to the No. 1 and 2 teams on the NAIA poll.

Riders open season with non-AIC clashes

With 39 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter, the Muleriders' first game of the 1971 season looked very much like their first defeat. The Riders had opened strong, and a one-yard touchdown plunge by Cleo House combined with Doug Neely's 41-yard field goal gave them a 9-0 first-quarter edge over the Southeastern Oklahoma Savages. However, the Savages fought back to score 13 points on two long touchdown drives to take the lead. Then, the miracle happened. Head Coach Rip Powell put running back Cornell Williams in deep punt formation, and the Malvern speedster skirted the left end for a 67-yard game-winning TD. The final score was Muleriders 15, Savages 13.

The Riders' next clash came with the Livingston State University Tigers at Wilkins Stadium. In a hard-fought defensive battle, Southern State held the nationally ranked Tigers to 176 yards total offense as compared to 232 for the Muleriders. However, points—not statistics—win ball games, and Livingston scored the points. Livingston quarterback Clemit Spruiell completed a three-yard TD pass to halfback Johnny Mahaffey late in the third quarter to down the Riders 7-0.

Mississippi College's Choctaws were the Muleriders' next foes, and their next victims. Despite a 36-yard touchdown pass from Phil Brooks to Eddie Choate in the second quarter, the Choctaws led 17-6 going into the fourth period. Then, Roy McLemore blasted out a one-yard TD score which was followed by a six-yard scoring plunge by Cornell Williams, making the final score 19-17.

Riders Buffalo Bisons in 34-7 win at Searcy

Conference play began in Searcy, where the Riders took on the Harding Bisons. Safety Steve Waller intercepted a Harding pass early in the first quarter to set up Cornell Williams' one-yard scoring plunge. Doug Neely's PAT was good. Next, Steve Lamb took the Riders 72 yards in 11 plays as Roy McLemore's one-yard plunge and Neely's PAT raised the score to 14-0. The second quarter belonged to the defense. Action began with Waller's second interception, which he carried 25 yards to paydirt. This was followed by a 15-yard interception return by Steve Arnett and a similar 25-yard return by Boyd Rosser. Two successful PATs by Neely gave the Riders a 34-0 half-time lead. The second half saw the Bisons grind out a single TD, and the game ended 34-7.

Passer spurs Riders past Henderson 20-14

Quarterback Steve Lamb led the offense to its finest performance of the young season. Henderson drew first blood by marching 75 yards in 13 plays to score on a one-yard blast by Billy LeFear. The PAT gave the Reddies a 7-0 first-quarter lead. In the second quarter, Lamb lateraled to Cornell Williams, who faked a run and handed the ball back to Lamb, who promptly passed 43 yards to Eddie Choate to score. Doug Neely's PAT failed. Minutes later, Williams returned a Reddie punt 70 yards to score. Bill Bolinger's PAT made it 13-7 in favor of the Riders. Another Rider score came on a 10-yard Lamb to Williams pass. Once again, Bolinger converted. Although the Reddies scored half, the Rider offensive power proved too much for them to overcome. With Cleo House carrying 26 times for 100 yards, Williams carried 25 times for 54 yards, and Roy McLemore gained 38 yards on five carries. SSC carried off one of its most impressive wins of the season by a score of 20-14, making the season record 4-1.

Kangaroos, Majors buckle against ground attacks

Victory No. 4 for the Riders came in their clash with the Austin College Kangaroos at Sherman, Tex. The Riders jumped out to an early lead as Cornell Williams took a pitchout from quarterback Steve Lamb and streaked 59 yards to score. Bill Bollinger's PAT made it 7-0. However, the Kangaroo's bounced back to run up three TD's complete with extra points. The Rider's met the challenge, however, with a three yard TD blast by Roy McLemore and a one-yard blast by Mike Rubinski. These scores, complete with a two-point conversion by Williams and a second PAT kick by Bollinger, allowed SSC to go to the dressing room at halftime leading 22-21. The second half was a defensive struggle. The team from Sherman went ahead in the third quarter on a 28-yard field goal. Once again the Riders responded. Their final score came on a 23-yard romp by Cleo House. This was followed by a two-point conversion pass from Bill Brooks to Eddie Choate. The game ended 30-24.

Southern State's final non-conference game of the season turned into a soggy romp for the Riders as they downed the Millsaps Majors 21-0 at Wilkins Stadium. The game had been pegged as an aerial battle, but the damp weather changed it into a rugged ground game. However, this was to the Rider's benefit. Their first score came on an 11-yard surge by Roy McLemore. Bill Bollinger's PAT was good. In the second quarter, Doug Neely made a diving catch of a Phil Brook's pass for the Rider's second score. Bollinger's PAT was good. The final score came as a result of Bill Perry recovering a Millsaps fumble on the 28-yard line. Four plays later Mike Rubinski plunged into the end zone from one yard out. Bollinger's PAT ended the scoring as the Rider's improved.

Riders show off 'offense' against hungry Bears

In one of their most outstanding offensive exhibitions of the season, Southern State toppled the SCA Bears 35-14 in Conway. The Bears drew blood first on a 79-yard first quarter drive which put them on the board 7-0. The Riders came back with an 80-yard drive of their own which was capped by a 10-yard TD scamper by Cornell Williams. Bill Bollinger's PAT tied the score. Following the interception of an SCA pass by Bill Perry, Williams scored his second TD from the three. Bollinger's kick was good. The Bears met the challenge and tied the score in the second quarter 14-14. However, the Riders were not to be denied as Williams was to score his third TD of the night. It came on a 7-yard burst by the Malvern speedster. Bollinger's PAT made it 21-14 at halftime. The Riders third-quarter score came as a result of hard running by Mike Rubinski and Cleo House with the later plunging into the end zone from the one. Once again, Bollinger's extra-point try split the uprights. The final Rider score came in the fourth period, and once again it was scored by Cornell Williams. His fourth TD of the night came on a 15-yard pass from Steve Lamb. Bollinger ended the scoring with his fifth PAT of the night as the Riders swept to their sixth win on Estes Field.

Muleriders bow to Tech in conference title clash

With the Muleriders having their best season in recent history, emotions were at a fever pitch as they met league-leading Tech's Wonder Boys in Wilkins Stadium. Unfortunately, the fever subsided on the first play of the game as Tech's Benny Shepherd took the opening kickoff 98 yards for a TD. The PAT made it 7-0. Despite a determined effort on the part of the Riders, which included a 19-yard TD pass from Phil Brooks to Cornell Williams, the Wonder Boy's ground game could not be stopped; thus they led at the half 34-7. Tech continued scoring in the second half and added a TD and a field goal to their statistics. The game efforts of the Riders enabled them to take the ball 85 yards in the fourth quarter to score on a two-yard plunge by Roy McLemore. Bill Bollinger's second PAT ended the game's scoring 44-14. Thus, the Wonder Boys remained unbeaten as the Riders' season record dropped to 6-2.

1971 Homecoming

Riders shut out Tigers to place No. 2 in AIC

Homecoming saw the Muleriders execute an almost perfect ground attack and score a touchdown in each of the first three quarters to defeat the Ouachita Tigers 21-0. The balanced rushing of Cornell Williams, Cleo House and Roy McLeMore spearheaded the attack. McLeMore capped the first-period scoring drive on a two-yard TD plunge. Bill Bollinger's PAT was good. Williams climaxed a second quarter 95-yard drive by scooting four yards for the team's second TD. Once again Bollinger's PAT was true. The third-act star was Cleo House whose bone-crunching running gave him an 11-yard TD run. Bollinger's kick ended the scoring at 21-0. The Riders totally dominated the game as their defense allowed Ouachita only 74 yards while the Rider offense rolled for 337-yards rushing and 97-yards passing. The game clinched a second place AIC finish for the young Muleriders.

Riders demolish Weevils in year's finale finish 9-2

The Muleriders closed out their season by blanketing the University of Arkansas at Monticello 49-18. The SSC scoring began on the Rider's first play as Doug Neely gathered in a 50-yard TD pass from Steve Lamb. Bill Bollinger's PAT made it 7-0. Later in the first quarter, Roy McLemore plunged one yard to score, and Bollinger made it 14-0. The Boll Weevils made it on the board in the second period with a 16-yard TD pass play. The Riders countered with a 37-yard scoring pass from Lamb to Cleo House which combined with Bollinger's PAT to make the halftime score 21-6. The Weevils pulled closer in the third period on a five-yard TD run. However, the fourth quarter belonged to the Muleriders. Doug Neely scored his second TD on a 35-yard pass from running back Cornell Williams. Lamb got into the act three minutes later with a one-yard scoring plunge. The Weevils were then heard for the last time on a 72-yard scoring pass. The undaunted Riders came back with a 30-yard TD run by Williams and a 15-yard fumble return by Glen Bucy. Bollinger's seventh successful PAT closed out the scoring as the Riders won their ninth game.

Basketball team, coaches

Dribblers take second in state conference race

Coming off a championship season in 1970-71, Coach W. Y. Watson's 1971-72 basketball players made a valiant effort to retain their crown. While they fell short of this goal, they posted an impressive 24-4 overall record and took a close second behind Ouachita in the AIC race. In addition to the regular season action, the Muleriders participated in the Pine Bluff Kiwanis Holiday Tournament where they emerged victorious for the second straight year. This year's team was led by two-time All-AIC guard Al Flanigan and All-AIC honorable mention Johnny White along with regulars James Armstrong, Shady Patton and Harry Hughes. Newcomer Ron Fluker showed future promise as did Chester Hlasta and William Carr.

Roundballers win three against non-league foes

The 1971-72 Mulerider basketball team opened its season against Louisiana College in a fashion befitting the defending AIC champions. Behind the 20 points of Johnny White and the outstanding rebounding of James Armstrong and Harry Hughes, the running Riders dominated the Louisiana five by a score of 89-72.

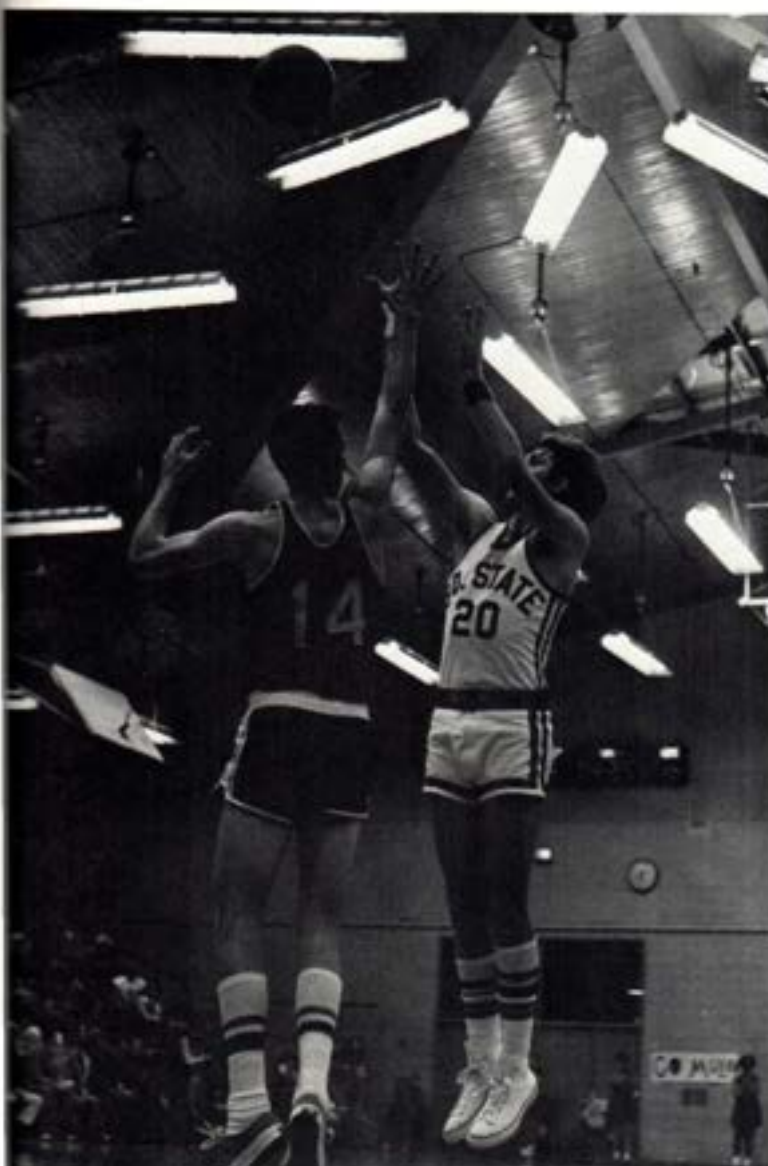

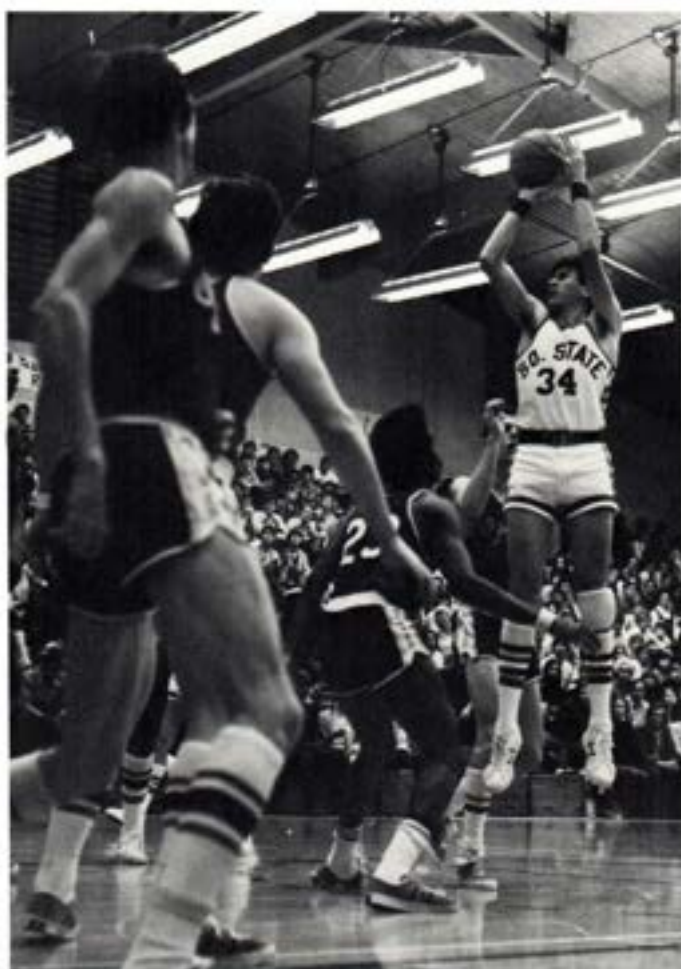

Opponent number two was East Texas Baptist. The Texans proved to be a second victim as the balanced Rider attack was once again unstoppable. With four starters scoring in double figures, the final tally was 68-65.

An enthusiastic home crowd witnessed the Riders' third win of the season as Southern State downed Dallas Baptist 81-80. Rider play was led by the 19 points of Harry Hughes, the 17 points of Johnny White and the defensive play of Shady Patton.

Riders open the league with 2 wins, 1 loss

Conference play for the Riders began at Searcy where they faced the rugged play of the Harding Bisons. Once again, the balanced SSC attack prevailed as the Blue and Gold rolled over the Buffaloes 89-74. Al Flanigan led all scorers with 29 points. The Warriors of Hendrix ended the SSC streak at four in a hard fought battle in Conway. Despite a 22-point effort by Flanigan, the Warriors ruled the court 66-62. Returning to their home court, the Riders bounced back to take their fifth victory by downing College of the Ozarks 66-64. Southern State was led by the 22 points of Al Flanigan and the 12 rebounds of big James Armstrong, center on the team.

Dribblers lose to Reds, capture holiday wins

Arkadelphia was the site of Southern State's first encounter with conference-leading Ouachita. Despite a 17-point effort by Harry Hughes, the Riders gave up a hard fought, 67-68 battle to pace behind the balanced Tiger attack.

Taking a break from AIC competition, the Riders journeyed to Pine Bluff during the Christmas holidays to defend their title in the Kiwanis Tournament. Their first obstacle was State College of Arkansas. Led by the 22-point productions of both Johnny White and Al Flanigan, SSC downed the Bears 84-76. Moving into the finals the Riders faced the Ouachita Tigers. Once again the Blue and Gold rose to the occasion and carried home their second straight title by a score of 71-70.

Returning home, the Riders faced the Golden Lions of Arkansas AM&N. The fast breaking Lions proved too much for SSC, and despite James Armstrong's 13 points and 14 rebounds, the Riders lost 76-78.

Blue, gold take four, stretch record to 11-3

Licking their wounds from their defeat by AM&N, the Riders took out their frustration on the University of Arkansas at Monticello. The Muleriders, led by James Armstrong's 16 rebounds and Al Flanigan's 24 points, devastated the Boll Weevils 73-54.

Southern State ran its season record to 9-3 with a 72-64 romp over SCA. Leading the SSC assault was big James Armstrong with 23 points and 17 rebounds.

Their string of victories ran to ten as the Blue and Gold downed the Arkansas Scots 67-50. Leading the effort was Al Flanigan with 16 points and Johnny White with 13.

Arkansas Tech proved to be SSC's next victim as the Riders downed the Wonder Boys 60-52. Once again it was the balanced play of Armstrong that made the difference as the big junior scored 16 points and pulled down 14 rebounds.

Red hot Riders add Reddies to win column

Victory No. 12 came as the Riders dumped Henderson 71-54 in the SSC fieldhouse. The clutch shooting of Al Flanigan and the Rider defense which forced 25 turnovers led the way for SSC.

Next the Riders journeyed to Northwestern Louisiana State where their streak was ended. Despite the scoring of Johnny White and Al Flanigan, the Demons prevailed 87-77.

The Riders rebounded by taking out their frustrations on the Harding Bisons in an 80-71 SSC bout. Leading the way for the Muleriders were Harry Hughes, Flanigan, James Armstrong and Ron Fluker, all scoring in double figures.

The Riders' next victory was against the Hendrix Warriors who they downed 94-69. Once again White paced the team with a 23-point scoring effort.

Team sweeps onward, downs next four foes

The Muleriders continued their winning ways against College of the Ozarks by downing the opposing five 64-52. Al Flanigan led all scorers with 17 points. Conference-leading Ouachita came next, and SSC rose to the occasion by dominating the game 61-49. Flanigan scorched the nets for 23 points while James Armstrong pulled down 20 rebounds.

The determined Riders had to make a comeback effort against Arkansas AM&N, but the 19-point efforts of both Johnny White and Armstrong enabled them to pull it out 75-73.

The University of Arkansas at Monticello met a similar fate as the Riders downed the Weevils 85-67 to advance their season record to 19-4 overall and 12-3 in the AIC.

Team completes season with 21 key victories

SSC won its twelfth consecutive AIC contest by edging SCA 65-64 in an overtime contest.

A much more confident Mulerider team downed Arkansas College 97-61. Seven Riders scored in double figures. They were led by Johnny White's 21 points.

The tables were turned as SSC journeyed to Russellville to take on powerful Arkansas Tech. The Wonderboys ended the Rider streak 79-94. James Armstrong was the only effective Rider threat with 15 points and 12 rebounds.

Not to be denied, the team bounced back to demolish Henderson in the last game of the regular season by a score of 83-68. White and Al Flanigan led the scoring with 26 and 23 points respectively.

Muleriders place three on two All-AIC teams

Riderettes share first in AWESA tournament

Led by senior co-captains Cindy Gladney and Linda Williams, the 1972 Riderette basketball team defended its 1971 championship in fine fashion, struggling through a rugged 21-game schedule with a 14-7 win-loss record. This record looms as even more impressive because four of the defeats were at the hands of nationally-ranked Ouachita Baptist University and Seminole College of Oklahoma. The high point of the season came at the Arkansas Women's Extramural Sport Association's annual championship tournament where the girls finished in a three-way tie for first place with Arkansas Tech and Henderson State College.

Harriers cop fourth place; returnee sets records

A defense of their 1970 AIC cross-country title was not in the cards for the 1971 Mulerider harriers. Despite a strong regular season and the addition of some strong young talent, Coach George Henry's charges fell to a disappointing fourth in the championship meet behind the winner Harding, runner-up Hendrix and third-place finisher, University of Arkansas at Monticello. The team was led once again by senior Martin Nolasco who placed fifth in the conference meet at Hendrix and set a new school record for the SSC five-mile course with a 26:43 clocking. Nolasco was joined by veteran Jerry Hayes and freshman standout Mike Healer who finished seventh in the conference finale which was conducted on Hendrix's course. Finishing with 54 points on the cold course at Conway, the Riders were edged by Harding with 37; Hendrix had 81, while UAM had 82.

Ross' Riders swim to dethrone AIC leader

Having finished 2nd in the 1971 AIC swimming championships, Coach Delwin Ross' wet-set entered 1972 with plans of de-throning the champion Hendrix Warriors. These plans were well-founded due to the return of experienced team members and the addition of a crop of talented freshmen. Despite the loss of several key team members at semester, the Riders splashed through a rugged 10-meet schedule with stoic determination. SSC's hopes in the conference meet rested with Butch Jordan in the backstroke, Mike Silliman in the butterfly and individual medley, Tommy Holman in the breaststroke, Bill Fagan in the backstroke, Jerry Hayes in diving and Chris Ames in the sprints. The team was led in its 1972 campaign by senior captain Mike Silliman who was SSC's first four-year letterman in swimming.

Riderettes break record; second in state meet

Despite the presence of only one senior and the lack of experienced depth, the Riderette swim team copped one of its finest seasons ever by placing a close third to the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville and UALR in the Arkansas Women's Extramural Sports Association annual swimming and diving championships. Included in their 65-point performance was a 150-yard medley relay record of 1:33.4 and a 100-yard individual medley record of 1:08.4, a 200-yard free-style record of 2:16.9 and a 146.1-point showing in the one-meter diving competition, all won by Edith Santoli. In addition to her fine performances Mrs. Santoli served as team captain. Debbie Howell and Ann Sizemore participated in the 50 and the 100-yard freestyle events. Miss Sizemore was a member of the relay teams. Also attending the state meet, conducted at the pool in the Field House, were springboard divers from Hendrix and SCA.

Spring Sports

Sprinter leads team through cinder schedule

After finishing a disappointing third in the 1971 AIC championship meet and with the graduation of several key performers, Coach George Henry looked to 1972 as a year of rebuilding for the Mulerider track team. However, led by AIC sprint champion Tony Knight, the Rider thinclads approached the grueling 11-meet season determined to demonstrate the type of outstanding talent that has marked Southern State track in recent years. Along with Knight, the team boasted Eddie Barter, Claude Robinson and Cornell Williams in the sprints; Tim Henry, Brian Young and Al Walker in the middle-distances; and Jerry Hayes and Mike Healer in the distances. In the field events, James Burns, Steve Clark and Jim Jamison competed in the jumps, and Joe Hale, Corky Frances and Milton Cowling competed in the weight events. The AIC meet was May 4-5.

Tech wins opener 12-2 despite baseman's help

Coach Monroe Ingram entered his second season at SSC with hopes of bringing the AIC baseball championship back to Southern State. The path to that championship was studded with 15 doubleheaders that included the strong opposition of State College of Arkansas and Ouachita who were co-favorites with the Riders. Leading the well-balanced SSC attack was All-AIC third-baseman Johnny White and All-AIC honorable mention catcher Denny Burdine. Other talent included first-year man Ron Fluker in the outfield, Rance Rewis, Darrel Smith and Jim Bonsal on the pitcher's mound and Mark Pierce and Steve Brown out in the infield.

New additions assist top returning netters

With three top lettermen returning and the addition of some talented new-comers, the Southern State tennis team was the strongest in the history of the College. Veteran point makers Gordon Tiner, Gary Earlywine and Dennis Rivers were joined by junior college transfer Gary Snay in making up the brunt of the Rider's success. In addition Willie Stroope and Patrick Hayes made strong contributions. The Riders faced a rugged 26-match schedule arranged by Dr. Richard Carter that included the SSC Spring Invitational, the AIC Tournament and the NAIA District Tournament.

Women netters figure strong in AWESA meet

Under the guidance of Dr. Kathryn Brown, the 1972 Riderette tennis team entered the season determined to make it their best ever. Dr. Brown's charges were a well-balanced mixture of veteran players and new talent. Led by two-year lettermen Nita Harder and Edith Santoli and three-year letterman Cindy Gladney, the team faced a demanding twelve-match schedule that was capped by the rugged AWESA State Tournament in Little Rock. With the aide of such new faces as Sharon Antoon, Kathy Brown and Rhett Jackson, the coeds figured to be among the tournament favorites.

Talented Rider golfers young but experienced

Coach Jim Kimbell entered the 1972 season with a young yet talented and experienced group of golfers. Led by returning lettermen Alan Duncan, Chuck Kaiser and Mike Rogers, and spurred on by talented first-year men Tommy Malan and Chip Rayford, the links drove their way through a tough eleven-game season which ended in April. In addition to the AIC championship Tournament, the season was highlighted by SSC's first trip to the Holiday in Dixie Tournament in Shreveport, La., on April 28-29. The team was the guest of Centenary College and team members played on the 54-hole course at Hunington Park.

No. 2 bowling team pursues No. 1 ranking

Having completed their finest season ever in 1971 by placing second in the AIC behind two-time NAIA national champions, Harding, the Mulerider bowling team looked to 1972 with mixed emotions as they practiced in El Dorado. Graduating many key team members, the 1972 keglers faced the season with only three returning lettermen. However, behind the leadership of team captain Tim Young, new talent, mixed with experience, helped the Riders roll through the eight rounds of AIC and NAIA District 17 competition as they sought once again to challenge the Harding Bisons' No. 1 ranking.

Intramural program aids SSC recreational needs

Variety is the keynote of the Southern State intramural program. Sponsored by the PE department, the program is designed to provide all interested men and women members of the student body and faculty and staff with some form of recreational activity. This is accomplished through a broad slate of over 50 different sports activities which range from popular team sports such as touch football, basketball, softball and volleyball to individual sports such as handball, paddleball, badminton and gymnastics. The highlight of the program is the annual Spring Sports Festival which displays the skills of numerous intramural participants. Dr. McNeal is aided in administering this program by two part-time assistants, a part-time secretary, student directors from each unit of competition, student officials and volunteer workers.

Enthusiasts debate food, dorm visitation, workers

A plunge into action describes the Student Senate as they worked on many major issues and projects. Concentrating on such matters as food in the cafeteria, dorm visitation and role of workers on campus, the Senate made progress.

The new SGA Constitution provided three separate branches of the student government, those being the traditional legislative, judicial and executive, which replaced the old system under which SSC worked in the past. The Senate frequently discussed the cafeteria's planning and scheduling of meals and formed committees to investigate the situation. A dorm visitation poll, conducted in the fall by the Housing Committee of the Senate, revealed that 92.6 per cent of students polled voted in favor of some form of visitation. As a means of investigating and to report on reasons why blacks were not permitted to handle cash registers in the College Center, committees were formed to successfully dissolve the matter.

Group will host session to be led by SSC coeds

Winning primary chairs at the Arkansas Association of Women Student's annual convention, Feb. 4-5 were Kerri Lusby who was elected president and YeVonne Fleming who was chosen vice president. Staged at Ouachita Baptist University, the convention featured two other delegates from SSC, Mary Rister and Jackie Thornton. The theme of the gathering was "A Question of Life" with discussion groups on "Marriage and Career," "The Law and Women's Lib," "Sensitivity" and "The Supporting Role of a Woman" which was led by Mrs. Bob Riley, wife of Arkansas' lieutenant governor. Guest speaker was Dr. Phyllis Garnett, educational director at Arkadelphia's Children's Colony. Because SSC boasted the AAWS president, the College will host the 1972-73 convention in the spring of 1973.

Men, women decide on dorm open-houses

The Association of Men Students served as the official recommending voice of men students. The organization utilized the same constitution which was used last year. All regularly enrolled full-time male students at SSC were eligible for membership. Some purposes of the organization were promotion of wholesome activities conducive to the establishment of positive campus spirit, promotion and coordination of areas of campus life which concern residence-hall life. The president, Mike Hardage was elected from the executive board which was composed of presidents, vice presidents and secretaries from each of the men's residence halls. Only the presidents of each hall were eligible to serve as president of AMS. In the spring AMS met with AWS to set the guidelines for dorm open-house.

Visits by Chicago mayor, governor highlight schedule

For the benefit of those who jumped into their cars and sped off into the wild blue yonder each Friday, CAB has done an excellent job of creating special weekend activities. The age-old complaint of having nothing to do was no longer valid.

Special lecturers such as Carl Stokes, mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, and entertainers also appeared to help liven up the dull spirits of the students. CAB also got Governor Dale Bumpers to address the students in an informal talk session. As the watermelon feast got underway pandemonium was the keynote as students, faculty members and children began appearing at the Greek Theatre. A coffee house/concert atmosphere was the setting for the Art Porter Trio as they entertained students with music of all types. Dances after football games and other activities were popular as CAB brought in groups such as the "Saint James Group" of Memphis and "1932 Ballroom Blues Band" which performed at the Homecoming Dance. A free Christmas Dance was also included on CAB's busy schedule.

An array of movies were shown, among them were "Joe" starring Peter Boyle, "Up the Down Staircase" with Sandy Dennis, "Bullet" featuring Steve McQueen and "Who's Afraid of Virginia Wolf" displaying Elizabeth Taylor.

International Club

Foreign scholars learn about Mexico's culture

With the primary purpose of providing a common meeting place for the promotion of cultural and social interests and to further understanding among all nations, the goals and interests of the International Club centered around increasing the club's membership and the presentation of speakers who spoke on their travels and educational experience in foreign countries. Creating an activities committee and a public relations committee, members of the club, through guest speakers, received an insight into the traditions and customs of foreign countries.

Highlighting a fall meeting, Velma Lee Adams was guest speaker. Her subject dealt with a summer trip to Mexico City. Miss Adams displayed a collection of materials which she obtained on her trip.

Aardvark displays love; pledges seek names

With an array of talent the annual Aardvark show, sponsored by Alpha Psi Omega, composed selections of talent which included everything from dance routines, acting and musical groups to a display of campus beauties for the title of Miss Southern Belle. "Love American Style," the theme of the Aardvark Show, was carried out through the night with skits related to the theme. Rusty Johnson staged and directed the production.

A student must have earned 75 points in drama productions to be initiated into Alpha Psi Omega. Learning the Greek alphabet, memorizing 12 lines of Shakespeare and carrying a raw egg around while having members sign it are a few examples of the activity pledges went through to become members.

Stagecrafters

Set builders view films, construction techniques

Stagecrafters worked a countless number of hours on the "Madwoman of Chaillot," the major play of the first semester. It was a joint production of the Stagecrafters and the SSC drama department and was under the direction of Jerry Cortez. In class the students discussed different types of scenery with the use of films to assist the class in building techniques; students also reported on theatrical techniques used in building sets. The class helped put up stage props and build sets. A class project, in an area of the theatre, which was to be left for other Stagecrafters to use, was the semester goal for several students.

Men run to Conway, treat kids to fairway

The Tauran Society, the College's first social fraternity, treated five to 10 welfare children to an expense-free night at the Columbia County Fair in the fall. Other projects included assisting with the Heart Fund campaign and supplementing the Tauran Scholarship Fund. On the Friday and Saturday before the SSC vs. State College game, the Taurans ran to Conway before the game. The purpose of the 175-mile run was to arouse and maintain spirit for the Riders. After the first two miles, 14 active members and four pledges alternated running one mile each so each participant would only have to run every eighteenth mile. The previous year the group ran to Arkadelphia for the Henderson State College game.

Biology Club

Group recycles cans, paints display cases

Projects headed the activities of the Biology Club. At the September 14 meeting the club members were informed of various projects which they could attempt, including a pickup campaign of aluminum cans to be recycled.

William J. Hammett, director of the North Carolina Museum of Natural History, spoke to the group. The club's pie-throwing revenge booth at the Harvest Carnival gained popularity with many students who took revenge on their instructors. The annual spring party was conducted at Lake Greeson at Murfreesboro. The club built snake display cages for the biological science department. In the fall the group attended a party at Dr. Hugh Johnson's home.

Pre-Medical Science Club

Students see schools, visit pathologist

Highlighting one of the Tuesday night meetings of the Pre-Med and Science Club was guest speaker Dr. M. W. Barker of Mississippi State University. Dr. Barker, professor of chemistry and coordinator of graduate studies at MSU, lectured on free radical pathology. The group toured medical schools in Little Rock and Memphis. Programs were presented by professionals in the fields of science and medicine, and the group's members also traveled to several hospitals in the surrounding Southwest Arkansas area.

Nurses conduct party, discuss older citizens

Approximately 27 students and faculty advisers from the Nursing Students Association traveled to Little Rock Oct. 28 to attend the state workshop sponsored by the Arkansas State Nursing Students Association. The meeting which took place at the University of Arkansas Medical Center was concerned with the topic of care for the aged. Workshop topics dealt with care of the aged and sociological, emotional, communicational and interpersonal viewpoints. During the workshop, SSC officers met with the state officials in an effort to discuss the organization's progress. The organization also conducted a Christmas party to benefit the underprivileged children in the Southwest Arkansas area.

As second vice president of the American Student Nurses Association, Kerri Lusby of Starkville, Miss., traveled to Detroit, Mich. for the association's national convention, April 25. Miss Lusby is the first SSC student ever to be elected to an ASNA office on the national or state level. She is the first and only executive board member to represent an associate degree (two year) program.

Geology Club

Group views shell, limestone, sandstone

A field trip to Lake Texoma, located on the border of Texas and Oklahoma, was the first field trip of the year. Because Lake Texoma had a marine depositional environment, members found such fossils as cephalopods, uchnoids, pelecypods and gastropods, all of which were about 80 million years old. They also found different rocks including shell, limestone and sandstone. At a Sept. 7 meeting, Meredith York, vice president of the group, entertained members with a fluorescent mineral display and some of the geology department's minerals as well as his own. In the spring the club traveled to Arbuckle Mts. in North Arkansas to explore the old mining districts. As a result of the excursion many geological specimens were added to the College's collection. During various club gatherings throughout the year, special illustrated lectures were presented by numerous club members.

ABS

Baptists set up circus; 'Share, show we care'

"Let's share and show we care," was the theme for the Association of Baptist Students' informal meetings to discuss and share the joys and burdens of the members. The program was highlighted by arrangements done by ABS members.

Not only is autumn a time for falling leaves but also a time for the circus to begin. On a brisk Saturday night ABS began its "A Night Under the Big Top" with roasted peanuts, popcorn, hot dogs, soda pop and a long program of entertainment.

A chapter of the Association of Baptist Students from Arkansas Tech were guests of SSC's ABS, and the ABS choir journeyed to Rosston, La., to present a concert at the First Baptist Church.

Wesley Foundation

Methodists host picnic, parties, Peace Lectures

Professor of Preaching, Dr. K. Morgan Edwards of Claremont, Calif., was the 1971 lecturer at the annual series of M.E. Peace Lectures. The lectures were presented at the First United Methodist Church. "These lectures," according to the Reverend Howard L. Williams, pastor, First United Methodist, "offered us the joy of a great spiritual feast as well as an opportunity of fellowship." The Peace Lectureship was established in 1954 to bring outstanding preachers to Magnolia "in the hope of deepening the spiritual life of the community and its surrounding areas," he added.

A fall dinner was staged by the United Methodist Churches for all SSC Methodist students. The Wesley Foundation also sponsored a Christmas party for underprivileged children. Several students assisted in helping with a picnic, sponsored by Wesley, for the boys at the Magale Manor Boys Home.

Baptists host hayride, spring banquet, retreat

Excitement ran high at the first annual Christmas conference staged in Hot Springs. The conference included Bible lessons, a session on how to "rightly divide the word" by John Penn, seminars which included Richard Sorrells, John Goodman and Larry Pillow and a music festival.

At the state fall retreat at Bogg Springs, students from the Missionary Baptist Student Fellowship participated in part of the program. The prime purpose of a proposed trip to the University of Mississippi was to encourage the MBSF chapter members there to become more active. MBSF also sponsored a hayride, a skating party, a Christmas party, a spring banquet and a Thanksgiving buffet.

Chi Alpha

Group gathers to plan for church in Ecuador

In the process of building a church in Ecuador as a missionary project, Chi Alpha planned for the church to be completed late in 1972. Two gospel singing concerts were staged on campus. An evangelist and an alumnus of SSC, Paul Dougherty, spoke to Chi Alpha members. Sponsored by the Assembly of God, Chi Alpha members traveled to Hot Springs in October to attend a weekend retreat.

'Superstar' reaches out, youth welcomes director

"Jesus Christ, More Than A Superstar" was the theme of the Youth Christian Association's fall outreach campaign in October. Students from Harding College's association participated with the SSC students as they visited the residence halls. A non-credit Bible course was conducted in both the fall and spring semesters. They were directed by Gary Walker, the group's new director. Monroe, La., was the site for the YCA's retreat at camp CH-YO-CA.

'Three Kings' perform at Homecoming luncheon

Many parents of freshman students had their first opportunity to visit the BSU's center in the fall as the BSU sponsored an Open House for freshman parents. On Homecoming Day the BSU hosted an after-the-game luncheon for students from Ouachita Baptist University. A musical group, "The Three Kings" from Fort Worth, Tex., performed at the luncheon. Members of the union participated in a 10-week Bible study. Bible classes were conducted in Talbot and Bussey halls and in homes around the Magnolia area for commuters. Getting acquainted was the purpose behind the BSU's retreat in the fall. The retreat was conducted at Wolf Creek Camp outside Monticello; the meeting was staged in conjunction with the U of A at Monticello BSU.

Newmans, Society of Physics

Catholics clean area; physicists visit U of A

Newman Club, an organization for Catholic students, helped members develop a concern for spiritual needs by providing activities and fellowship. The club sponsored a spaghetti supper and weiner roast for students and showed various films for members. Students of the Newman Club also assisted with the clean-up program during Students Against Pollution Week.

The Society of Physics was composed of students interested in physics and those who previously had taken a physics course. In the spring the group journeyed to the University of Arkansas for the annual meeting of the Society of Physics. As an inter-club project, members of the organization introduced materials on physics and projects at their monthly meetings. Advising them was Carl Rutledge.

Kappa Kappa Psi

Groups make Top 10, creates new brochure

Celebrations were in order as SSC's Delta Chi chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi, national band fraternity, commemorated the fifty-second birthday of the organization, Nov. 27. In March, Kappa Kappa Psi's sister sorority at SSC, Tau Beta Sigma, celebrated its 25th anniversary. Working together, both organizations were ranked last year in the Top 10 in the more than 100 chapters in the nation.

As a service organization, the local chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi sponsored the Homecoming Corsage Sale, the Rider Heartbeat during Spirit Week and the pep band journeyed to all away-from-home football games. A project of the SSC chapter, working with band director Jan Shaw, was the publication of a band brochure with the purpose of recruiting additional band members. In the spring the fraternity awarded the annual Richard O. Oliver scholarship.

Rodeo Club

Annual event features bareback, bull riding

Inter-collegiate competition highlighted the Southern State Rodeo Club's annual rodeo which was staged April 7-8. Colleges in the Arkansas radius sent teams to participate in the rodeo which is approved by the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association. Events included bare-back riding, bull riding, saddle bronch riding, calf roping, barrel racing and steer wrestling. The competition was staged at the Columbia County Fairgrounds in Magnolia.

Clubs join Top Ten ranks as women hear trustee

Journeying to Ann Arbor, Mich. to the national convention, Aug. 22-27 were members of Tau Beta Sigma and Kappa Kappa Psi. On Aug. 27, the Gamma Omicron and the Delta Chi chapters at SSC were ranked in the Top Ten chapters across America. In March the sorority celebrated its 25th anniversary. Mrs. Beryl Anthony Jr., an SSC trustee, spoke to Lambda Sigma Alpha in the spring. Students in the senior women's honor society participated in a number of school activities and possess B averages.

Farmers receive scholarships from credit association

Highlighting an October meeting of the Agriculture Club was the selection of the Agri Sweetheart and maids. After the selection, the nationally observed Farm-City Week, which the club annually sponsors, was discussed. During Farm-City Week, Magnolia farmers and businessmen cooperated with the SSC agriculture department in bringing about a better understanding between all sections of the community. The Farm-City Week banquet was staged in the College Center Cafeteria. The Family of the Year Award was given to the Linville Hunter Family, and recognized for helping the agriculture department was Harry Oswald, general manager of Arkansas' Rural Electric Cooperative. He spoke on the progress Rural Electric Cooperatives had made in the state. Scholarships totaling $2,000, provided by the Nashville and Central Arkansas Production Credit Associations, were presented to 16 SSC students.

Agriculturists move floats at Homecoming

Housing 26 men, Child's Hall and the Annex was designed for men who chose some field of agriculture. To reside in Child's Hall men students must maintain a grade average which would allow them to work and participate in farm activities. Residents were active in intramurals and provided moving equipment for the Homecoming floats.

Choral Society

Choral director judges voices in NATS contest

Dr. Gene Kelsay, director of Concert Choir, Monster Choir, Madrigals and men's and women's ensemble, attended the regional meeting of the National Association of Teachers of Singing at Baylor University, Waco, Texas, Nov. 7-9. As NATS Lt. Gov. for the state of Arkansas, he served as a judge for student auditions and participated in a four-member panel discussion of "Vocal Vibrato." Dr. Kelsay was among four Southern State faculty members who were chosen for placement in the 1970 edition of "Outstanding Educators of America."

Choral Society presented two major works each semester, and its membership was open to all students. First-semester group members worked long, strenuous hours to prepare for the major production, "The Oratorio" by Saint-Saens, a Christmas work which portrays the birth of Jesus. The spring practice hours were devoted to an Easter production.

In its winter concert, Concert Choir presented "Kodaly," a work in Latin. Members of the Concert Choir were selected during spring and fall auditions.

Musicians host party; adviser visits Boston

With the Harvest Carnival at the head of the slate as one of DaCapo's major events, in October the Armory on campus underwent an annual transformation from its official appearance as a military base to the site of the Harvest Carnival. A junior music major, Sue Brian was awarded the Beulah Goode music scholarship for 1971-72 by the Magnolia Music Club. The award was given annually on the basis of auditions to a member of the DaCapo Club at SSC. Miss Brian was club secretary and past president of Music Educators National Conference. The agenda for the year's activities included a picnic and a Christmas party. Dr. Robert Campbell, adviser, attended the annual meeting of the National Association of Schools of Music in Boston, Mass., Nov. 21-24.

Engineers Club

Adviser joins session of Southwest chapter

Attending the National Society of Professional Engineers meeting was Frank S. Root, adviser for the Engineering Club. The meeting was staged in El Paso, Tex., Oct. 1-2. Root represented the Southwest chapter of professional engineers. The business meeting had two themes. These were the professional engineers' roles in improving engineering employment and their place in helping education. One of the topics which was discussed included "Professionalism vs. Unionism." The Engineering Club was composed of those students with an interest in engineering.

Black Students Association

'Get in the spirit by giving' becomes Black slogan

"Get in the spirit of Spirit Week with the spirit of giving" was the slogan for Black Student Association's annual food drive for needy families at Thanksgiving. The drive occurring in Spirit Week coincided with the Spirit Week slogan. As a means of raising funds a movie "The Good Guys and the Bad Guys" was shown in Overstreet Auditorium. The food was distributed to families in the Magnolia area. In the fall a dance and fashion show was sponsored by the group. In the spring BSA also sponsored a dance in which a local group was featured. During Black History Week various speakers and performers were presented. The Miss BSA pageant was staged on February 25. Last year's winner was Dianne Fields. In conjunction with Black Emphasis Week, J. M. Peace Library had a display of books by black authors and about black men and women who have made great and often overlooked social achievements.

Psychology Club, Sigma Tau Delta

Larger number contributes to literary magazine

Honorary English fraternity, Sigma Tau Delta was an organization composed of men and women students who were interested in writing. As a requirement for prospective membership submitted to members were original literary works, which were presented to current members before invitations were issued to the prospective initiates. After all requirements were met a pledge ceremony followed. Preparations were made for the spring publication of "beginnings," Southern State's literary and art magazine. The magazine was published in April. "Every college campus needs a literary magazine in order to encourage its students to write and to provide an outlet for expression to the college community," said Elinor Hartsell, co-adviser. Dr. Jere Williams was the other co-adviser. Editors and staff members were selected by the executive board and officers.

Speaking at the Oct. 11 meeting of the Psychology Club was Dr. B. C. Dodson. He discussed the methods of Jean Piaget, a Swiss psychologist who studied thinking processes in children. Dr. Dodson uses his methods in teaching prospective elementary school science teachers. Students of educational opportunity volunteered for work at the West Side Kindergarten in Magnolia.

Members sold hot dogs and candied apples at the DaCapo Club's Harvest Carnival. In the spring they had a special program on "Behavior Modification" with Dr. Larry Roberts with the Eighth Regional Education Service Center. They sold miscellaneous items in the Phi Beta Lambda Flea Market, and at their last meeting of the spring semester they recognized two outstanding general psychology students.

WRA

Girls lead Play Day, revise constitution

Freshmen introduction and a softball tournament discussion highlighted an acquaintance meeting Sept. 20 in which new freshmen members were introduced to their Women's Recreation Association officers. At the gathering Sandra May was honored as the outstanding unit manager of last year and Janet McNeil was selected the outstanding WRA member of the year. The activities such as the softball tournament was outlined at an Aug. 30 meeting of the group. The tournament continued for two weeks followed by a paddleball tournament. During the year the association sponsored various intramural activities. The winners of the athletic events were awarded "T-shirts". Selling programs at football games increased the group treasury. Girls' State "Play Day" for high school girls was directed by the women's association. In the spring, a revising of the organization's constitution took place.

Group heads meeting with volleyball clinic

For the second consecutive year the PE Association sponsored the student section meeting of the Arkansas Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation Convention, Nov. 23 at Hot Springs High School. Southern State presented an advanced volleyball workshop-clinic demonstration. Rod Shall organized the clinic along with his Graceland College team from Lamoni, Iowa. Different drills and new ideas in training techniques for varsity volleyball were presented. The convention was attended by Arkansas colleges and universities. Over 100 PE majors and minors represented SSC. The PE group also sponsored students who traveled to Houston, Tex., to the SPAAHPER and National AAPER meetings. An intramural festival and a Senior Send-off Banquet was on the groups' agenda for the year. At the close of the school year the organization presented awards for the most outstanding senior man and woman.

Phi Beta Lambda

Group changes name; sells decals, artwork

Previously known as Tri-C, SSC's business club applied for a membership charter in the national business administration fraternity, Phi Beta Lambda, early in the fall. The conversion to a national fraternity was put into effect at the end of the first semester. Phi Beta Lambda consisted of young adults enrolled in business and office procedures programs in post-secondary institutions. At the state convention in the spring, tests for different areas of business were given to all those attending the convention. High scorers on these tests qualified for participation in the national convention. Linda Beene, state and national president of Phi Beta Lambda spoke at the installation of officers in September. Numerous projects were undertaken through the year such as the selling of calendars as a money-making project, a float in the Homecoming parade and working with the March of Dimes campaign. The group ordered Phi Beta Lambda auto decals and sweat-shirts and a flea market sale was staged in the spring.

Scholars act as host to region II meeting

In the spring Alpha Chi was host to the region II convention which is composed of Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma and East Texas. The gathering brought together over 75 participants March 17-18. One of the highest honors which has been achieved by an SSC student was to become a member of Alpha Chi, scholastic society open to juniors and seniors who rank in the upper 10 per cent of their class. The organization was composed of students from every department on campus. There were two new sponsors, Avalee Cox and Marette Jackson. The sponsors were selected for a one-year term with the exception of one who served for a three-year term. Serving in this position was Dr. George Sixbey. This was his second year as sponsor of the scholastic group.

Shoot organizations, campus activities, life

The College's photographers, Roger Head, head photographer and two year veteran, Alan Berry and Jimmy Knight carried the major task of producing pictures for the student yearbook and newspaper. Photographers developed and printed their own pictures. Many times photo-assignments were scheduled at night. To capture sports action a photographer was on the scene for every sporting event at SSC. The photo staff also took pictures for all of the departments, brochures and for the News Bureau. Part-time photographers included Wendell Franks, Willie Wilhite, Ken Love and Bill Scains. Except for Franks and Love, each had had little photography experience. Knight and Love did much of the printing of pictures for the 1972 edition of the yearbook.

Cafeteria column creates controversy for writers

"For those of you who don't know, The Bray has been censored by an administrative committee," was the cry of The Bray in a fall issue. The issue arose when the Publications Committee met with the adviser to decide whether or not a column on the cafeteria was in "good taste." After many meetings and discussions, the committee decided it would not prohibit the publishing of the column. No guidelines or any type of censorship was enforced. Even though the committee censured The Bray, it left censoring of questionable material to the paper's editors and page editors.

An award winner, The Bray continued to receive an All American, excelling in such areas as content, writing and editing, editorial leadership, makeup and layout. At the spring convention of Arkansas College Publications Association, The Bray placed second in "General Excellence," first for the editorial page, second for headlines and honorable mention for makeup and typography.

Reporters kept a busy schedule as they were constantly on the move to find articles which would interest readers. More in-depth reporting was done due to an increase in reporters. The editors of The Bray kept late hours Tuesday night to put out a good paper. One Bray editor was in charge of helping decide the content of four news pages. The other editor helped plan many of the editorial pages.

'Shape of Things' . . . cast by future events

By giving a sketch of the events, activities and the unforgettable moments of the past year, the Mulerider staff chose "The Shape of Things to Come" as the theme for the 1972 book. A number of subtle changes were made in the '72 book, but, basically, the book's plan remained similar to past books. Changes included the use of more photos, the addition of color to the sports section and the use of a silk screen for the cover design. Action shots of organizations were taken to give an accurate picture of the organizations' activities. More students were added to the staff as the year progressed. Through an accurate account of the past year's activities, the staff attempted to give an insight of what may come in the future for Southern State students, Staters, faculty and staff members. The past was recounted also.

Print Shop

'Living and Learning,' brochures aid prospects

In cooperation with the journalism department and public relations office, the Print Shop published numerous brochures which included "Living and Learning", a magazine prepared to introduce students to Southern State and to advise individuals on how they may learn more about the College. A guide to SSC's football team, is the "Mulerider Football" booklet, edited by Rhine Seymore. Each semester the Print Shop publishes a campus calendar to keep students, faculty and staff informed on Stater activities. Bulletins for divisions, departments or administrators, and student recruiting pamphlets were also printed. To aid students in the selection of classes, the Print Shop publishes a class schedule guide each semester, which contains a listing of all courses to be included in the College's curriculum.

Girls form Just People to combat racial strife

"Love thy neighbor as thyself", which was the theme of a Bussey Hall devotion, led to the formation of Just People. The group was initiated to combat racial problems on campus. Dorm coeds maintained the spirit stick for three consecutive times during the football season's pep rallies. To aid in the March of Dimes campaign many of the coeds went from door-to-door collecting funds in the Magnolia area as a gesture to express that they cared for the handicapped. During the spring, teams were organized to compete in intramural softball games and tournaments.

Cross Hall

Coeds sponsor float, say 'Pooh on Tiggers'

Cross Hall, whose residents must be a junior or senior with a 2.5 grade point, is an example of experimental residence hall living maintaining the honor system in both studies and activities.

Cross sponsored the dance after the first home football game with Livingston University, had an open house and sponsored a gambling booth at the DaCapo Club's Harvest Carnival. They entered a float, "Pooh on the Tiggers," in the Homecoming parade Saturday morning, Nov. 13 and sold items in the Flea Market, sponsored by Phi Beta Lambda, a business fraternity.

Graham Hall

Riders create storm, defend soccer award

As a means for showing their support for the Riders Graham Hall constructed a float as an entry in the Homecoming Parade. The float depicted a tiger being held up by the effects of a storm which created a rider. Fittingly, the display was called "Riders on the Storm." Throughout the year Graham men participated in intramurals. In soccer competition Graham, the defending champion, edged Talley West to win. In the intramural program for the spring, dorm men defeated Talbot North in a volleyball tournament.

Greene Hall

Men tie with Talbot for basketball crown

During Spirit Week a different type of activity was scheduled, a music festival. The concert was staged in the College Center with over 20 groups performing, and the concert featured music ranging from hard rock to soul to spirituals. Greene's entry in the Homecoming Parade was a float entitled "Don't Mess with the Riders." The float consisted of a Rider making an end of the remains of a tiger. With a total of 22 teams four leagues were formed for the intramural basketball season, in which Greene West tied with Talbot East for the team championship.

Coeds buy T-shirts, stage vigil, high-kick

Sponsoring activities ranging from freshman initiation to the ordering of T-shirts, Harrod continued to be one of the most active dorms on campus. To show dorm spirit nearly 200 coeds ordered Harrod Hall T-Shirts. In August the upperclasswomen of Harrod initiated the freshmen, who numbered half the dorm residents. At a party conducted on the dorm patio each of the six wings had its freshmen going through various acrobatic stunts including the high-kick in front of the dorm. Halloween may be a date to be observed by children only, but not to the residents of Harrod as they transformed the Greek Theatre into a setting for a Pumpkin Vigil.

Nelson Hall

Girls march for dimes; present secret gifts

As volunteers in the March of Dimes drive, Nelson Hall coeds dedicated their weekend time to collecting contributions. In the spring the dorm coeds sported their brightly colored Nelson Hall T-shirts. During Dead Week before the Christmas holidays secret pals were selected. The students did favors for their secret pals, made their beds and served them breakfast in bed. Christmas gifts ranged from lollie pops, perfumes, stationery and stuffed animals.

Talbot Hall

Men show Vega tiger, open their home again

Unable to have their Dorm Sweetheart on a float because she was a member of the royalty, the men of Talbot sponsored a "Vega tiger" in the Homecoming Parade. Scheduled on Feb. 3 was the dorm's second open house during the year. Refreshments were served to the residents and their dates. The residents also had a spring outing in the spring. As an active participant in the intramural program, Talbot East tied for first place in the basketball tournament.

Talley Hall

Float baptizes Tigers in first-class manner

Winning the "spirit stick," Talley Hall staged an elaborate tiger hunt at a fall pep rally. In the Homecoming Parade the dorm took a different turn. Although the theme of their float was "Baptize the Tigers," the baptismal pool was a commode. With this vivid picturization of SSC's victory over Ouachita the dorm's float was selected a first place winner. In the spring a movie was sponsored by the men. Talley participated in intramural soccer and basketball.

IN MEMORIAM

Clifford Creech

Death is the liberator of him whom freedom cannot release;
the physician of him
whom medicine cannot cure;
the comforter of him
whom time cannot console.

Colton

Wind of change

Quietly, like the breeze
that blows the olive tree, the wind of change has come down from the hills
to lead me home again
through the last mile of sunshine.

McKuen

May '72 book remind you of year's events

Throughout the past few months I have seen change. A change which has come about through the formation of ideas. We have tried to bring together these changes and these ideas in pictures and in words to give you an idea of the shape of things to come at Southern State.

I would like to give a special thanks to my staff and also to those who were not on the staff but gave willingly their time and efforts to help create the '72 Mulerider.

I hope that this book will serve to remind you of the events from the 1971-72 academic year which helped to shape your life.

Dennis Little
Editor

unknown factors to determine shape of many things to come

TAKE JOY

I salute you!

There is nothing I can give you which you have not; but there is much, that, while I cannot give, you can take.

No heaven can come to us unless our hearts find rest in it today. Take Heaven.

No peace lies in the future which is not hidden in the present instant. Take peace.

The gloom of the world is but a shadow; behind it, yet within our reach is joy.

Take joy. And so I greet you with the prayer that for you, the day breaks and the shadows flee away.
