A Year In The Life Of...

A Year In The Life Of . . .

*... walking along and singing our little songs of the days we have had to know each other.
In the corners of classrooms and blue winter skies there were stars hands.*

A Year In The Life Of . . .

*. . . reaching and holding,
hoping to find comfort in friendly smiles and friendly places.*

And then one day discovering your own hand reaching out.

your own face beaming, helping others who reach and hold, hoping to find comfort in friendly smiles . . .

A Year In The Life Of . . .
... halls and classes and flashes of smiles . . .
on your way to a very important date with an English instructor holding your life in his grading pen
and all you want to do is rest your head in someone's all-understanding hands . . .

A Year In The Life Of . . .

... one . . . with miles and miles and miles before him, an athlete fighting up from the pit, breezing into empty flat zones to catch the pass. Rising higher and higher, flying out and above the arms of striving defenders, to teach . . . to touch . . . to break through that final mile and win.

Student Life

Student Life

Saga is studies, love, nostalgia

Ever met Thoreau or listened to a lecture by David Sixbey? Did you ever take long walks over the farm with someone you love? And did you ever filch crackers to feed the greedy ducks by the pond? Have you ever been in a panty raid? And have you ever felt that just one more class would be more than you ever could bear?

We have lived, smiled, complained, and sometimes loved for one year in our lives. Here, in this place, never to be again, we have shared time and space. We have endured Watergate, suffered from the energy crisis, and prayed for peace in the Middle East.

And when we leave . . . the friends, the familiar places, and the school routine, we carry memories and perhaps a better understanding of the world in which we live.

Folk from afar get education at prime time

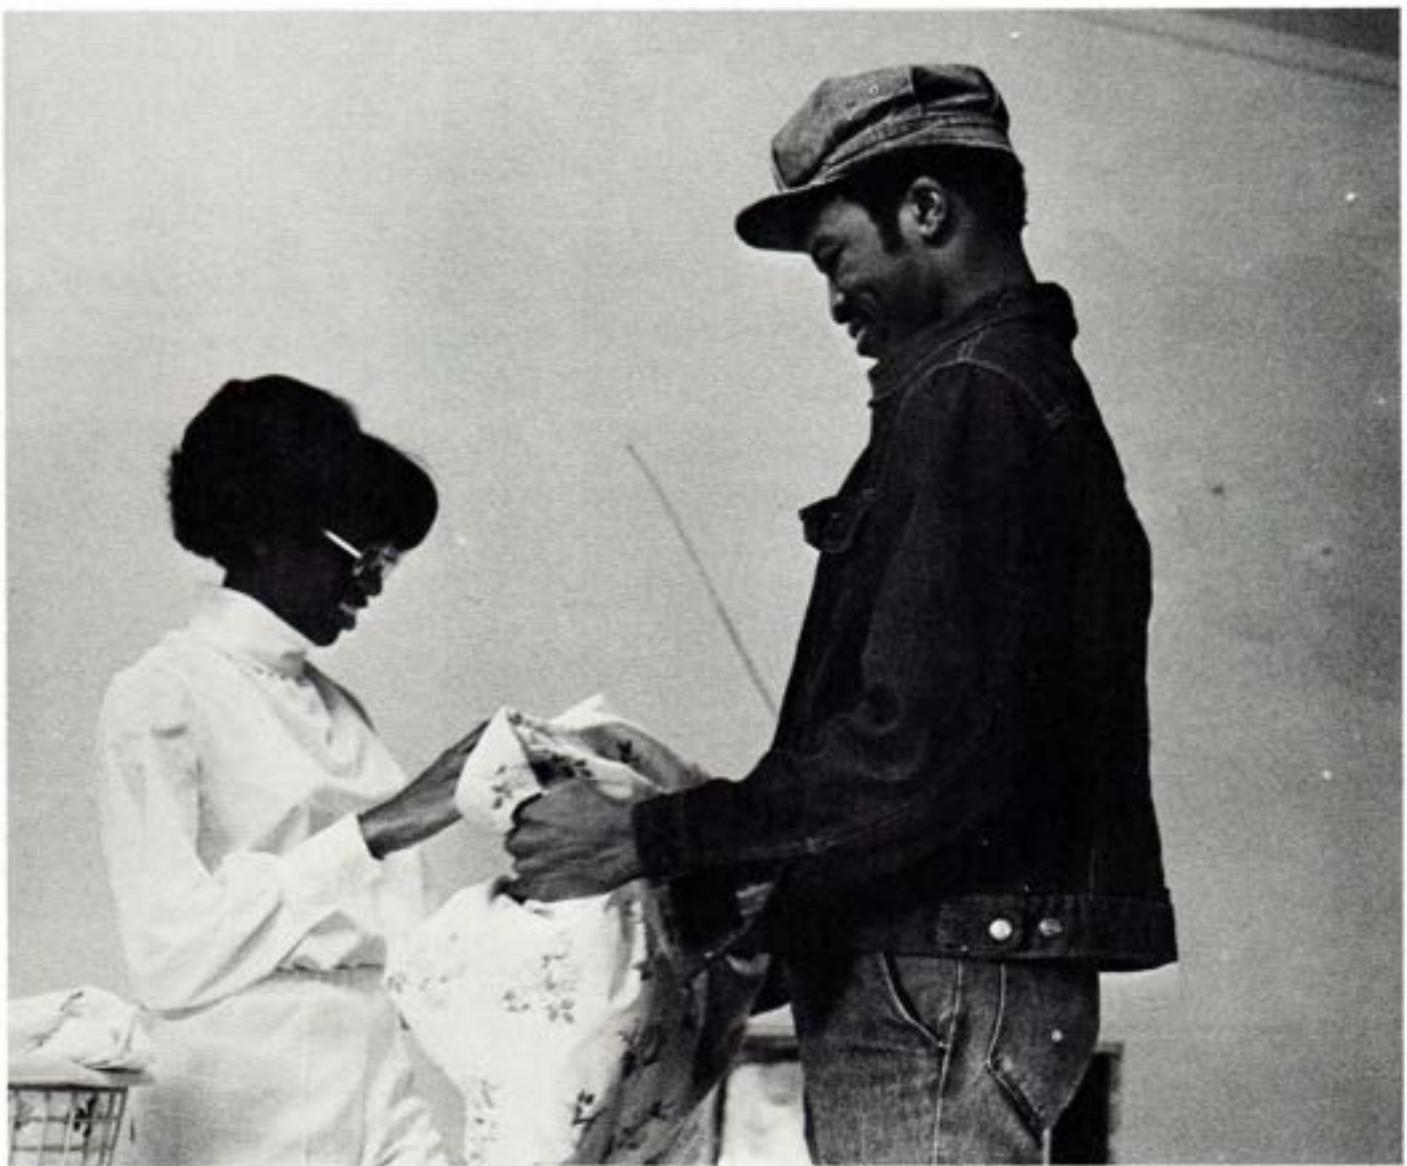

About 8 a.m. each morning a virtual swarm lights on the SSC parking lots from Stephens, Taylor, Camden, two blocks away in Magnolia, and who knows where. They are called commuters. Whether the power of the dollar, good ole mom and dad, or a neat place of their own is the draw, SSC offers prime time education in exchange for the rising price of gas plus tuition.

Many of the SSC commuters don't even see the sun until after they've been an hour on the road. The grind gets long and hard before semester finally ends.

RIGHT: It doesn't matter how you get there — as long as you get there. BELOW: The union is the common gathering place for commuters. (OPPOSITE PAGE) TOP: Hunting for a parking place is a major problem for commuters. BOTTOM: "I've got miles to go" is the thought of the commuter as he sees the road before him.

Married Students

So, love is good grades

Married students going to college together are on the rise. So are their grade points. Competing against housework, homework, and part-time jobs, these couples put marriage to a strenuous test. In small apartments, on big loans and help from U.S. Food Stamps, they learn to scrimp and plan and live on dreams.

A large percentage of married students find time to raise families, have babies, and then make good grades. How do they do it? For entertainment, a new baby is more fun than a show. And through some combination of "Hand me a diaper and pass the peanut butter," they get through and live to say, "Remember when."

Some of the starry eyes hit the rocks. But for those who manage to come through, they know they made it together.

Traveling all the way from Iran and China, the SSC international students have contributed to our lives in an immeasurable way. Friendly, warm and bright, they have brought us to realize that we are all just people. As Streisand would sing, "People who need people." They have slaughtered us in ping pong and we've enjoyed their accent. Yet, under it all, we wish we knew you better.

Homecoming

Celebration '74 is different

Characteristic of Homecoming this year was dorm displays — rather than floats, a snake dance — rather than a parade, and a floral coronation of Adolphus — rather than only the coronation of the queen.

There were, however, the usual heartbeat, after-game dance, corsages, and queen and court.

The queen was Judy Pierce. Marilyn Edwards, Laura Flanigan, Margaret Lewis, Rachel Lovett, and Angie

Pendrick formed the court.

The feature attraction of Homecoming, the football game, was played against the Austin College Kangaroos and was won by the Muleriders.

Show stars cast of tens

Alpha Psi Omega's Aardvark was conducted to the tunes of guitars, kazoos, and a piano or two. Ten talent show participants included Kathy Wright, soloist, first place winner; Camp Dolphin Chorale, kazoo band, in second place; and third place winner Danita Hall, also singing solo.

Margaret Lewis captured the Miss Southern Belle title from a pageant of ten women. First runner-up was Karla Gibson and Nancy Sharp was second runner-up.

The annual production, themed East Meets West took place in the Magnolia auditorium while Overstreet Auditorium was in renovation.

Theatre

Thespians act in four plays

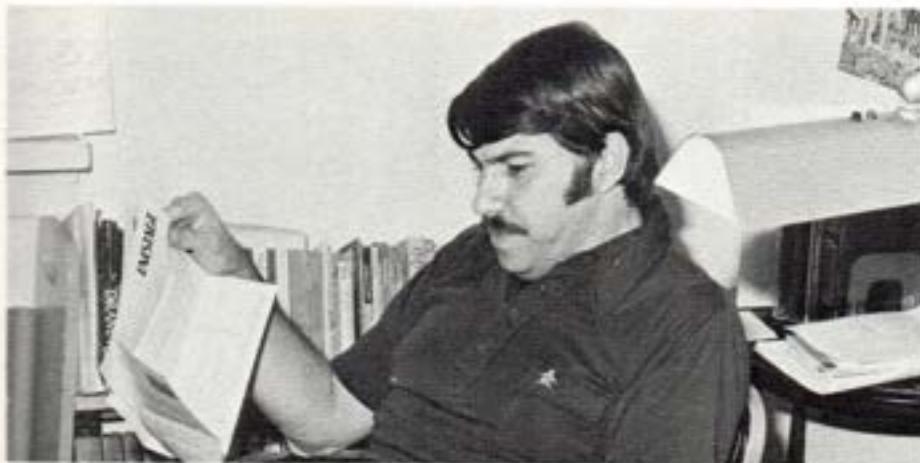

With sets on different scenes, the theatre department presented its activities amid falling plaster, cramped quarters, and creaking wooden bleachers.

Three three-act plays were presented during the year. The last play given in the old Overstreet auditorium, "A Doll's House," takes place during the Victorian era and depicts "the door slam heard 'round the world" or down trodden wife liberates herself. "The Night of January 16th" is a courtroom drama and was performed at the Columbia County Court House. A jury, taken from the audience, determined the verdict. "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man in the Moon Marigolds," was given in the Armory. A psychological play, it concerns an unhappy widow and her afflicted and mousy daughters.

Thespians also acted in "Froggie Went A-courtin'," a Children's Theatre production, also in the armory. This delightful little number features a love triangle, a kidnapping, and an attempted murder and has a happily-ever-after ending.

Meanwhile, Beatrice lost her old haunt and show biz mortals looked forward to new curtains and gang-bangs.

In SSC visit

“White Roots” highlights Indian culture

The CAB brought White Roots of Peace, an Indian group featuring American Indian folklore, history, dances and current discussion of Indian rights, to the SSC campus in February.

The Indians visited classes and presented lectures and demonstrations of their culture. Some were militant backers of the American Indian Movement.

The Arts

SSC students broaden art appreciation

Southern State students had lots of opportunities to broaden their artistic appreciation and develop their own artistic abilities.

CAB — sponsored concerts, recitals by students and faculty in the music department, and art shows by campus painters and sculptors highlighted the artistic year at SSC.

Marching Riders

Instrumentalists make excitement, sound, smiles

When anyone talks about spirit at Southern State the key to everything lies in the band. Excitement and sound are seemingly inseparable. From yelling in the stands to performing on the field, band members work throughout the week getting ready for the game. Long hours are spent marching in soggy fields on cold mornings and on hot humid nights. Individual practice hours sap precious study time. Long bus trips are all part of their routine.

In the spring, the band goes on tour in the Arkansas high schools. Extending a handshake or a smile, band members make personal contacts all over the state. Sponsoring an invitational ensemble and solo contest, the band encourages achievement in high school bands. The contests let high school students see SSC for themselves.

Giving a fall concert and two concerts in the spring, the band learns a wide variety of music. In addition to the marching band and concert band, woodwind ensembles and brass ensembles perform.

Two band fraternities are active on the SSC campus. Kappa Kappa Psi, a national band fraternity, and Tau Beta Sigma, a national band sorority, offer social opportunities along with service projects.

Greene Hall

Late night card games, phone calls home, finding a date, or trying to bring up a D, the men in Greene Hall never pass up a chance to get together and hash over last night's score, the pro games, or the new freshmen girls. Both football and basketball teams call Greene home. Whether it be intramural playoffs, Monday night with Howard Cossell, or Frisbee football, you can count on Greene Hall.

Harrod Hall

From that first day with a new roommate until the last semester exam, Harrod Hall throbs with footsteps, laughter, and the next door stereo. When the dust settles and quiet seeps in, the makeup comes off and the rounds of friends sharing Ro-tel dip; philosophy, and how to win and lose beaus, converse until study can no longer be denied. Hey! Anybody for cards?

Nelson Hall

No matter what the world outside may deal, getting away inside your own room to hold friendly Teddy bears and sip coffee over soup is a vital part of making the college week. Inside Nelson Hall girls can get together and hash over cruel professors, untrue loves and Florida for spring break. Nelson has the homey charm of big rooms and wood floors, quiet halls and warm hearts.

Talley Hall

Winning the homecoming float competition is only one expression of the wholehearted spirit of Talley Hall. Whether they are manning a panty raid, smearing friends with shaving cream, or taking a late night trip to the 66 Kitchens for a sandwich, Talley Hall has a long tradition of mixing good-hearted fun with the academic routine.

LEFT: Oblivious of his surroundings, a Talley male turns his full attention to perfecting his golf strokes. BELOW: For this Talley resident a phone conversation could go on . . . and on . . . and on! BOTTOM: Relaxing with the help of his stereo system is Ricky Murphy.

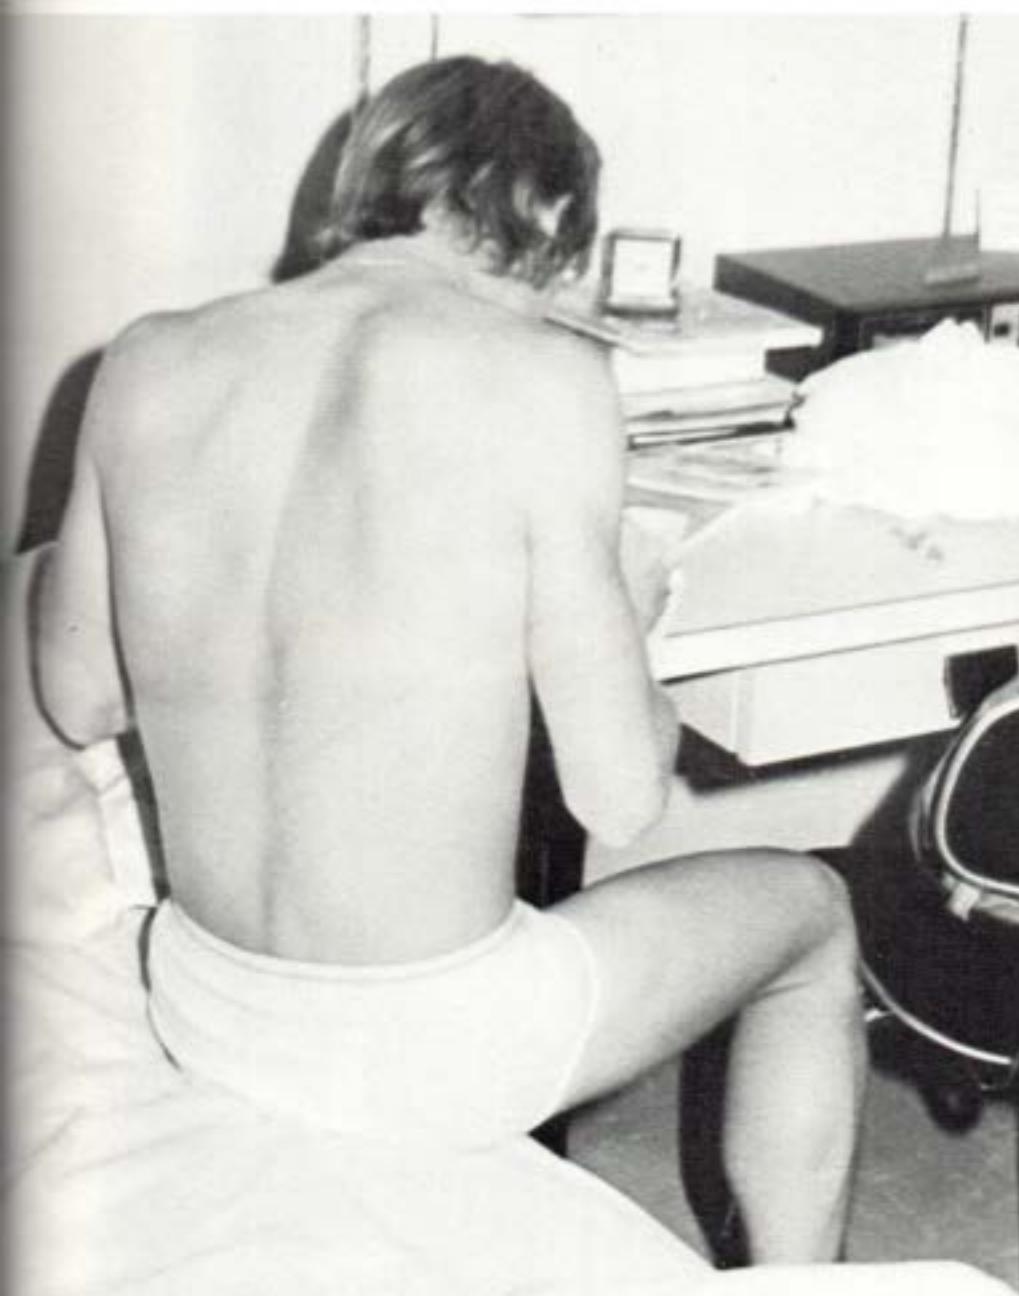

Bussey Hall

A place to go... alone or find a friend... Bussey Hall is made of sounds — soul, rock, soft guitar, new words to old songs. It is piles of laundry to take home to mom and stacks of books that you have to read and the feel of warm blankets on rainy mornings. Living in Bussey is wanting to go home for Christmas and being impatient to come back in January.

BELOW: These two Bussey coeds spend their free time reading up on the latest events. RIGHT: Forced by friends, Darnelle Fontenot takes a lick of a sucker. BOTTOM: Studying for a big exam are two students in Bussey Hall.

Talbot Hall

Talbot is the hesitating scrawl of ballpoint Bic to the tune of a nearby popcorn popper, the soothing silence of being up early, and the late night blare of music. And the first time ever to live so far away from home... to learn to do our laundry without coloring everything blue, to wonder why am I here, to ask where am I going, and sometimes to be lonely in a small room away from someone you love...

Graduation

Ceremonies are year's end for 292 graduating seniors

At the Spring commencement ceremonies '73, 216 seniors donned caps and gowns. After their years at SSC, they begin different separate lives. Changing, moving and work — to establish and realize dreams, the seniors left us. Soon we will leave too and inside ask, "Where will I go and can I find a job?"

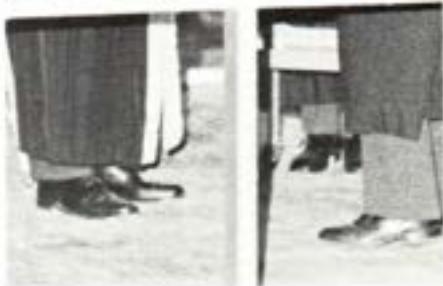

Addressing the Spring commencement, Dr. George L. Sixbey spoke to the graduates in his last year at Southern State.

Summer graduation ceremonies were held for 76 seniors. The address was given by Read

Admiral Jor Williams, Jr. U.S. Navy.

Meaning far more than just a long tradition, the graduation ceremony symbolizes a great investment of time, effort and money. And it's a good time to invite the relatives to celebrate and share your spotlight.

Academics

President Bruce okays new facilities

Saddled with the impossible job of working with the legislature, directing campus improvements, working with faculty, students, and alumni, Dr. Imon E. Bruce must find that common ground where they may all work together.

This year plans and dreams became reality . . . the new library — a cool two and a half million, a new physical plant sprung up to the tune of $600,00. Work began on the speech addition to Overstreet which included the renovation of the auditorium, new classrooms, offices and speech laboratories to be completed next year. A new bookstore will be included in the library. New storage facilities for the cafeteria were also added.

Leaders advise, economize

Ever wonder what happens in a meeting of the SSC Board of Trustees? All big moves and decisions must be okayed by them. Appointed by the governor for five year terms, they meet on set dates six times a year. They must review bids for construction work, set salaries and approve major curriculum changes. With more community colleges draining state funds, four year colleges like SSC will be on tight budgets.

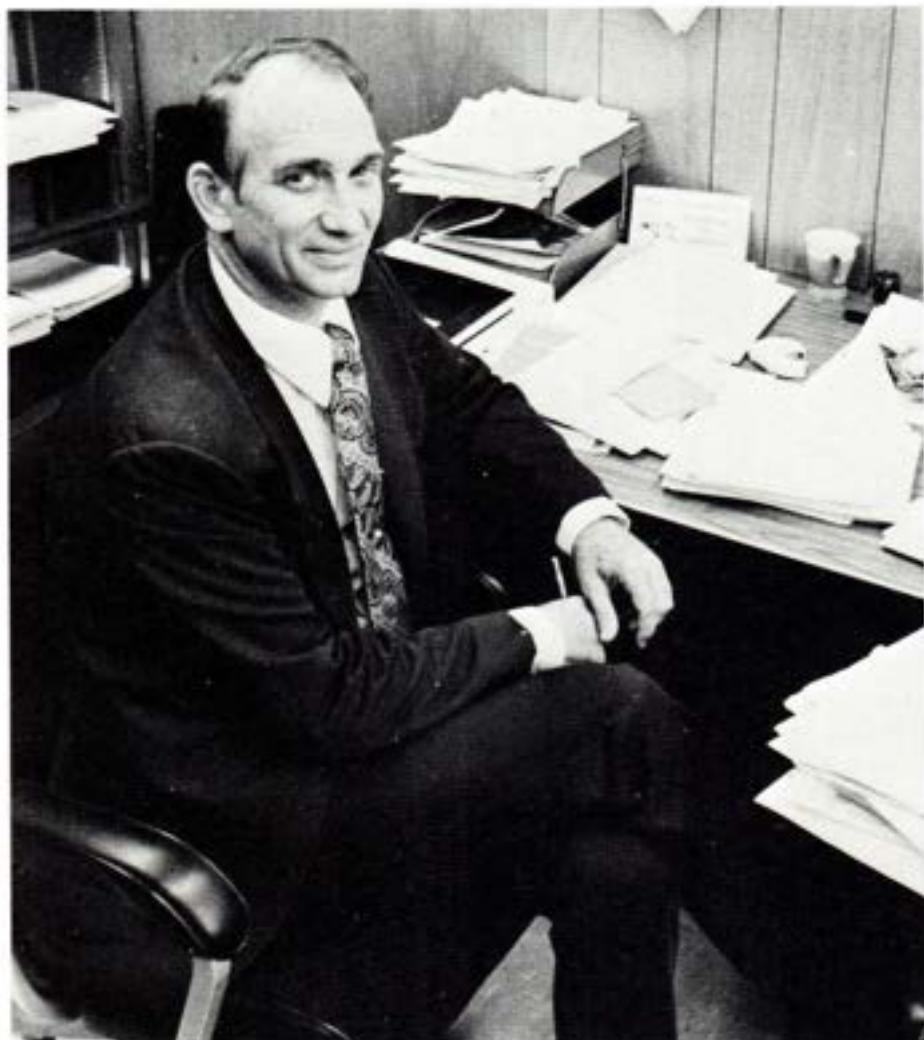

Dr. L. A. Logan, Vice President for Academic Affairs, must police registration, assemble the catalogue, schedule and prepare faculty meetings, and run the committees.

Dr. Charles Jackson, Vice President of Administrative

Research, served also as Vice President of the Department of Higher Education of the Arkansas Education Association.

Dr. Donald Haefner, Vice President of Student Affairs, must oversee the student services while keeping the path between the student body and the administration open.

Deans of Students, Alumni Secretary

Deans hold glamour jobs

The job of assistant dean is half the story for Pat Weaver. Traveling with the SSC cheerleaders or filling in as dorm director, she is always busy, concerned and needing more rest.

When Richard Reed started as assistant dean, he didn't know he would be called in the midnight hours to police panty raids and direct egg removal from Harrod Hall. Regardless, he keeps his sense of humor and can use a laugh even when it's on himself.

Forever friendly, Jake Whitehead is in and out of the Student Affairs Office as Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association. He publishes the Southern Stater which is mailed to alumni.

Staffs give services to students

Whenever something goes wrong, be it a clogged drain, a heating problem or a contrary machine, the physical plant always gets the call. The staff is made up of men like Earl Miller who drives the Mulerider bus and almost any machine on campus that moves and has gears. Bobby Smith keeps the work crews moving. The list goes on and on.

After the terrors of registration and a poor student's woes, the bookstore staff will smile and try to ease your pain.

Looking for that letter filled with love or money? Mrs. Aloyise Hipp works to see that you get it.

Dorm, Clinic, Library

Library, dorms, clinic have a busy year

Rising up behind the student union, the new library at last assumed a brick and concrete form to replace the Peace Library facility. While plans to move the books had to be made, the library staff still found time to help students with their research work.

Interested in a 24-hour-a day job including weekends? Apply for the position of dorm supervisor. Coping with stereos and panty raids, they are never free to rest.

Registered nurse Mrs. Mary Johnson, was on call 24 hours at the Student Health Clinic.

Ranging from very serious crises to normal student problems, Dr. Paul R. Kirkpatrick, counseling director, and Mr. Alvin Brannon, counselor, are available for any student who wants to talk with a trained counselor. The nature of the confidential discussions are left to the student.

The Special Services Program serves freshmen and sophomore students who are not well prepared for college. They receive developmental courses in addition to tutoring in all of their subjects. The program enables students with a low ACT score or low grade point to receive financial aid.

To a senior student trying to graduate, Mr. Maxine Porterfield is probably the most important person on campus. Making sure that every senior has all those "requirements" before graduation is a big job.

The terror of registration and a poor student's pocketbook, the SSC Business Office secretaries keep the records of who owes what.

Jeff Christenson, in his first year as the Director of Student Activities and Admissions Counselor traveled throughout Arkansas to tell high school seniors about Southern State.

In the Journalism Department, George Henry was the man that sent information about SSC students to their hometown papers. Manning the presses in the college print shop was Vernon Hall. Purchase of a new headliner made for better technical production for various publications.

Home Ec to be abolished, Agri department flourishes

Perhaps the most pleasant work of the year for Mr. Orval Childs and the Agriculture Department staff was the uncrating of $6,000 worth of equipment and teaching supplies awarded them by the National Science Foundation.

Former SSC student, Eddie Plunkett returned to teach animal science here after receiving his M. A. from the University of Arkansas.

The Agri Department sponsors the Agri Club and the annual Farm City Banquet.

A tighter educational budget and the pressure to teach "saleable skills" closed the doors of the Home Economics Department according to Peggy Root, department head.

Art, music students create individualism

Ever hear 12 pianos play at the same time? With the new electronic piano lab, 12 students practice in the same room, and hear themselves through individual headphones. The new lab will increase practice space and multiply teacher coverage.

The SSC music department emphasizes individual freedom and the development of senior leadership. For the senior recital, a music student works four years in his applied field—vocal, instrumental, or keyboard.

The Arkansas Arts Center selected a painting by SSC art instructor Fred Henry for its private collection. Entitled "Evolution of a Dinosaur," the painting was exhibited at the Arkansas Delta Art Show.

Senior art student Burt Cason interpreted the philosophy of the Art Department: "The student must first set goals. Then, through experimentation and flexibility, they move from the student who sees and copies to one who constantly analyzes and creates."

Business

Business Division sees innovation and expansion

With fifty percent of the business faculty currently holding terminal degrees, the Southern State business faculty is now one of the best qualified in the South. Two additional faculty members, Jim Kimbell and Rosemary Vance, are away at school working on their doctorates.

Forty new IBM typewriters were added to the Office Administration laboratory in Jackson Hall. New electronic calculators and extensive access to the IBM 1130 computer add to the excellent equipment in Wilson Hall.

Plans were made for the Business Administration Division to move to the J. M. Peace Library Building in the 1974-1975 academic year. With approximately $400,000 to spend for renovation, the SSC Business Division will be housed in outstanding facilities, according to Bruce B. Bevens, Division Chairman.

The Business Division expanded the areas of adult education to help meet the needs of South Arkansas.

Education

New programs to aid teachers

What's new in the Education Department is a course entitled Early Observation-Participation for Teacher Education Students. It provided planned and guided school experiences prior to the student teaching semester. Also, the student can find out earlier in his college career if he really wants a vocation in the public schools. If the student continues his interest, the experience will help make his student teaching semester more meaningful.

The Physical Education Staff is making plans for the graduate program beginning next year. Use of video tapes, film loops, two tennis ball throwing machines, and a physiograph machine were implemented this year in the regular courses.

Speech plans new addition to Auditorium

Falling tiles, water dripping through the roof, and very limited work space were once part of SSC theatre. This year, work began on the new speech addition to Overstreet and the renovation of the auditorium. Despite the closing of Overstreet, theatre production went on as scheduled by employing various local facilities such as the county courthouse.

Dr. Paul Trottman headed the Humanities Division in his first year at SSC. Course offerings in French were cut from the major to the minor status.

In his first year as chairman of the English department, Dr. Dan Ford emphasized innovation and young faculty. Dr. Robert Terry, Mrs. Bettie Mahoney and Mrs. Ethel Chaffin, a professional English tutor, joined the English staff. Both Michael Smalling and Michael Belmont are working toward the completion of their dissertation work.

Tommy Thomason in his first year as head of the journalism department brought the "new look" Bray. Another first, the Bray staff and Thomason attended the convention of the National Collegiate Press in Chicago. A journalism minor was added for students who are working on the B.S.E. degree.

Cadets win at Ft. Riley

In its second year at SSC, the ROTC program boasts three scholarship students and fourteen coeds working toward Army commissions.

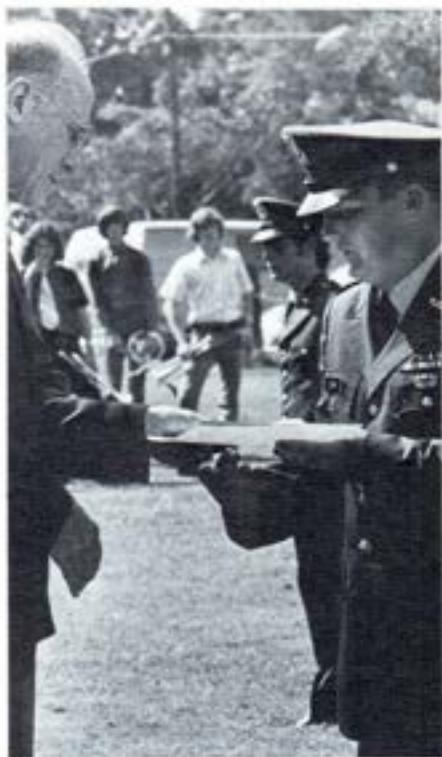

LTC Gary Wilson emphasizes this year's "high quality cadets." In competition at Ft. Riley this summer against 1800 other cadets three cadets were cited for outstanding leadership.

ROTC cadets participated in field competition with other colleges at Oklahoma State University and at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

In the spring, the department hosted an open house and the annual ball. In May an awards ceremony was held to honor cadets for academic and military excellence.

Nursing

Modern labs help nurses

Since its beginning in January 1969, the SSC Nursing program has graduated ninety students including five male nurses.

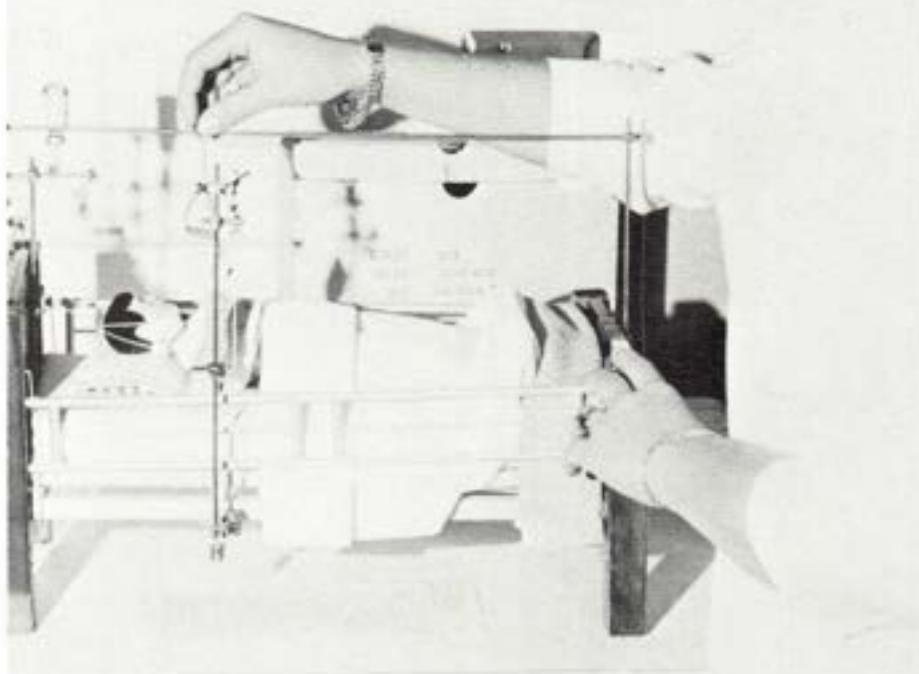

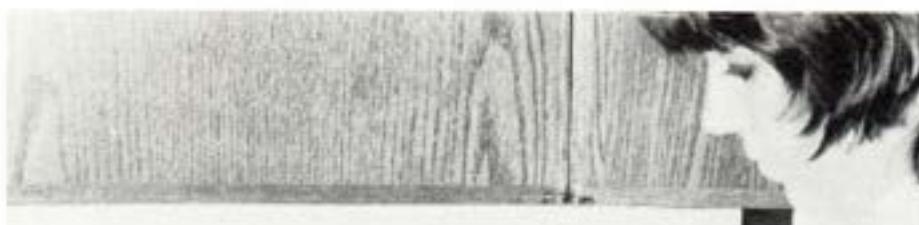

From the attic of the Armory to one of the most beautiful facilities on campus, the Nursing Department has the most modern equipment with an autotutorial lab and a lab with hospital-size beds.

The first eight weeks of training require long hours in the lab and strict examinations before actual hospital observation. Department head, Pat Williams, said that they are lucky to have excellent clinical facilities. Utilizing El Dorado, Magnolia, and Camden hospitals, the South Arkansas Mental Health Center and local kindergartens, the SSC staff stays on the road.

The department is approved by the Arkansas Board of Nursing and accredited by the National League of Nursing.

Mrs. Williams also serves as an accrediting visitor for the National League of Nursing.

Physics Department builds planetarium

With new sophisticated equipment such as 3X6" pocket computers, electronic slide rules, the holographic camera and the laser, the Physics Department takes the most pride in its new planetarium built by the physics students themselves.

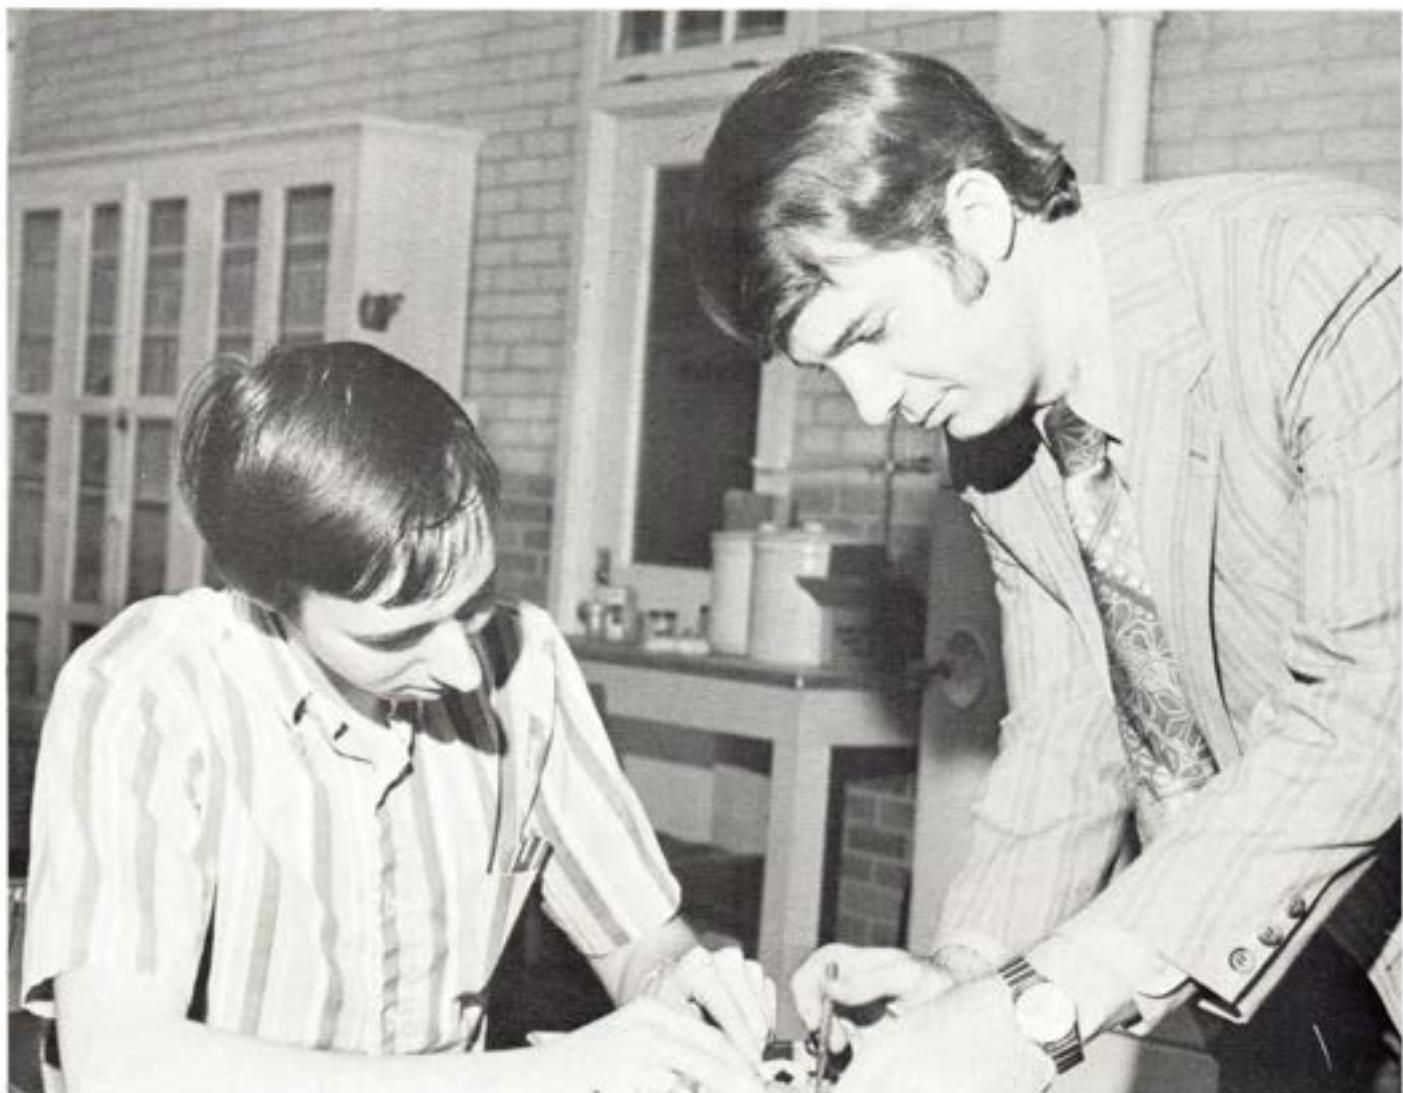

The cardboard planetarium constructed of pentagons and hexagons can seat 15-20 people. Projecting the constellations on its ceiling, Dr. Charles Rodgers and Dr. Carl Rutledge can stimulate a clear starry night on the rainiest day of the year.

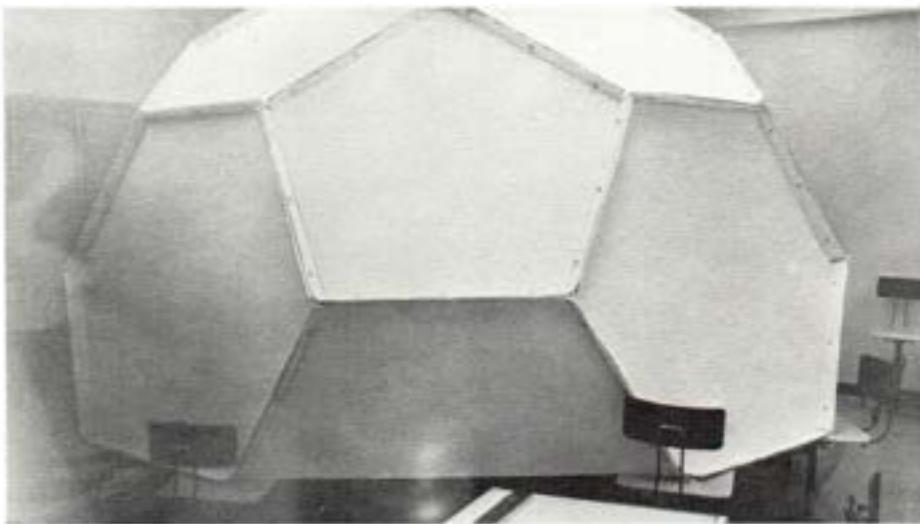

Throughout the General Science Division, plans are being made for graduate studies in the Master of Education in General Science Degree.

Black studies, field trips enrich courses

Dr. David Sixbey has been collecting materials to build a Black Studies file. Eventually, he hopes that a Black American Culture center would be established here similar to the Ozark Folk Center in North Arkansas. The History Department began indexing the Arkansas Gazette from 1819 to the present for articles relevant to black studies. In the Afro-American history course, Dr. Sixbey encourages students to use tape recorders to collect black folklore, songs and stories.

History department chairman, Dr. Jerry Pyle, worked to open U. S. History courses to freshmen to ease scheduling problems. A History essay contest was held for high school and college students.

The psychology and the sociology departments worked together to provide fields of practical experience. Trips to the Mental Health Center in El Dorado, and the state and federal correction institutions were provided for psychology and sociology students.

If you see a large kite-like device with a wing span of over 20 feet come swooping over the hill with a man clinging to its frame, it won't be a UFO or the late Wilbur Wright. Instead, you will view Frank S. Root and brain child of the Engineering Department—the Rogallo glider.

Built by the Engineering Dept., the glider was tested on a large hill on the SSC farm. With this innovation, air-surfing may come to Magnolia.

Twenty-one engineering majors utilized the depart-

Muleriders take second in conference

The Southern State College Muleriders, a perennial power in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference, failed in their bid to make it two straight years as conference champions. The Riders did, however, finish the season with an impressive 8-2 record, good enough for a tie for second place. Head coach Raymond "Rip" Powell and his staff guided the Mules through a season that saw them rank among the top twelve in the nation. Southern State's 4-0 record against non-conference teams added to the over all record of 16-0, that AIC teams had against out of state foes.

Some outstanding performances by freshmen, the likes of Russ Bechtelheimer and David Bohannon, blended with the unfaltering play of veterans like Ike Skaggs and Max Adecock placed this year's team among the very best in AIC's history.

Mules open season

Southern State defense tested

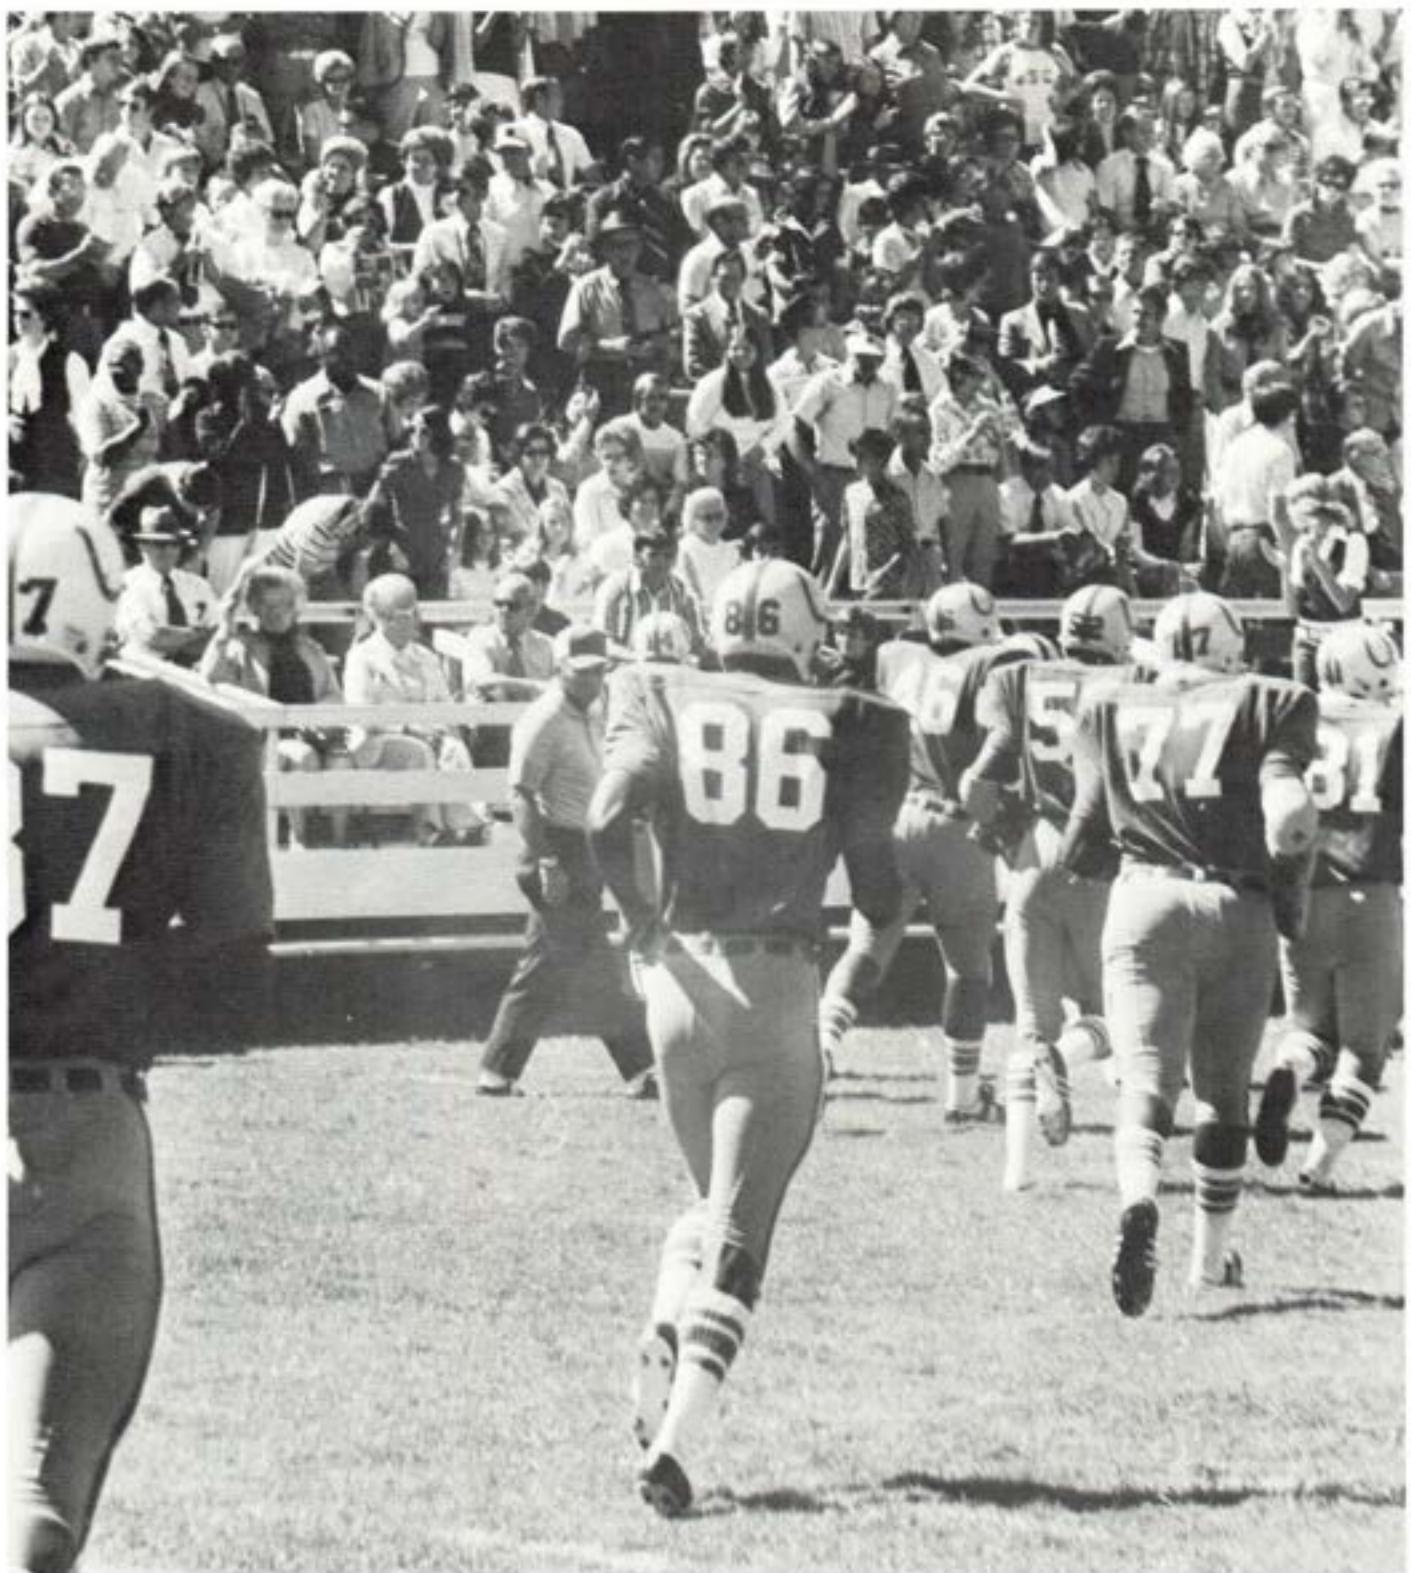

In their first game of the season, the Muleriders came out victorious against Southeast Oklahoma State, the first of four non-conference games scheduled for this year. SOS found themselves six points down when the final gun sounded, due to an eleven yard touchdown pass from quarterback Steve Lamb to tight end Eddie Choate.

The second contest pitted SSC against Central Missouri Methodist, a team which boasted of having the nation's leading punt returner and the nation's fourth leading passer, the previous year. Any doubts that Rider fans had before the game were quickly expelled as the Mules began scoring early in the first period and didn't stop until they had rung up 38 points, against 14 for CMM. The punishing Rider ground game chewed up the Central Missouri defense for 470 yards, bringing back memories of last year's championship team. For the first time in the history of the school, three SSC backs rushed for over 100 yards. David Bohannon led with 151 yards all in the second half, next came Floyd Canady with 122 yards and third was Roy McLemore, who ground out 108 yards in the first half. The Central Missouri coach praised the Mulerider team calling them "the most physical team ever to play on this field."

Homecoming game

Riders crunch non-conference foes

The Muleriders, find themselves on the short end of 20-0 halftime score performed a mild miracle in the second half to pull out a 28-26 victory over the Mississippi College Choctaws.

Freshman QB, Russ Bechtelheimer replaced an injured Steve Lamb in the third period and combined with Larry Reader for three touchdown passes in six total attempts. Floyd Canady scored the other touchdown on a five-yard run.

In the annual Homecoming game, played the following Saturday, the Riders humiliated a ragged Austin College squad 41-0. Bobby Dotson led the scoring with three touchdowns, two on passes from Bechtelheimer, and the other on fumble recovery in the endzone. Canady and David Bohannon scored one a piece and Dennis Rogers hauled in a Carmichael aerial for the final trolley. The Austin game was the final non-conference game for the Mules and upped their record to 4-0.

Riders rank eleventh best nation-wide

Southern State chalked up its fifth win in as many games as the Riders posted a 7-0 shutout over a young but powerful State College team. Rip Powell's Riders, now ranked eleventh nationally, scored their only TD on a thirty-five yard pass from Russ Bechtelheimer to tight end Eddie Choate. The tally came with less than ten seconds left in the first half.

The Mules suffered their first setback of the year on the turf of Henderson State College the next Saturday, as the Reddies proved their were worthy of a top ten ranking by rolling past the 'Riders 17-6. Southern State's only score came late in the game when Larry Reeder hauled in a Bechtelheimer pass deep in the endzone for six futile points. With only a slim chance of winning the conference crown after their defeat at Arkadelphia, the Riders took their frustrations out on Ouachita Baptist University the next week. SSC completely dominated the contest and ended up with a 28-10 victory. The Riders amassed a total of 363 yards; 228 yards rushing and 134 yards passing.

Roy McClemore bullded his way over for two touchdowns. Floyd Canady added one, and freshman Benny Harris scored the final TD.

SSC loses crown

Rip's Riders end season with wins

Three lost fumbles and two key interceptions by the Harding Bison defense wiped out any hopes Southern State might have had of at least sharing the conference crown with Henderson. Harding, led by all AIC quarterback Tom Ed Gooden, pushed across two touchdowns while holding Southern State scoreless, and dealt the Riders their second loss of the season 12-0, eliminating them completely from the conference race. The game marked the first time in over two years that an SSC squad had been shut out.

The Muleriders regrouped after the Harding loss, however, to completely overwhelm the Arkansas Tech Wonderboys 24-0. The win left the Riders with a 3-2 conference record and 7-2 overall. Southern State scored twice on passes to Eddie Choate and Roy McLemore blasted in from two yards out for another. Jim Batts rounded out the scoring with a field goal that he booted from 30 yards out. The defense, as usual, turned in another outstanding game. Led by Phil Brook's two interceptions the Riders held Tech to 164 yards total offense while posting their fourth shutout of the year.

The last game of the year saw Southern State swat the University of Arkansas at Monticello 35-20 to put the Riders in a tie with Harding for second place in the AIC. McLemore had his best game of the season, as he ground out 170 yards on 30 carries and scored all five Rider touchdowns.

Southern State's Muleriders, in contention for the AIC championship until the final games of the season, finished in a four-way tie for second with State College of Arkansas, Arkansas College and Ouachita Baptist University.

Clifton Lewis led all Rider scorers for the 1973-74 season with a total of 359 points.

Larry Banks was second in the scoring derby with 283 points, followed by Ron Fluker with 273.

Lewis also led the Riders in rebounds with 186, followed by Shady Patton with 125.

Of the Mulerider starting five, Larry Banks led in free throw percentage with .771, hitting on 71 of 92 attempts. Lewis had the highest field goal percentage of the starters, hitting 160 of 323 for .495.

Riderettes capture state championship

The Riderette basketball team, playing in the newly formed Arkansas Women's Association, breezed through the season, coasted through the state tournament, to be defeated in the AIAW Region IV playoffs in Nacodoches, Texas.

Riderettes had a season record of 18 wins and two losses. At state tournament the Riderettes beat Arkansas College 72-73, Arkansas State University at Beebe 59-48, and Henderson State twice, 91-56 and 60-45. In the Regional tournament, the Riderettes nipped Baylor University 59-56 before bowing out of the tourney.

Mulerider bowlers face rebuilding year

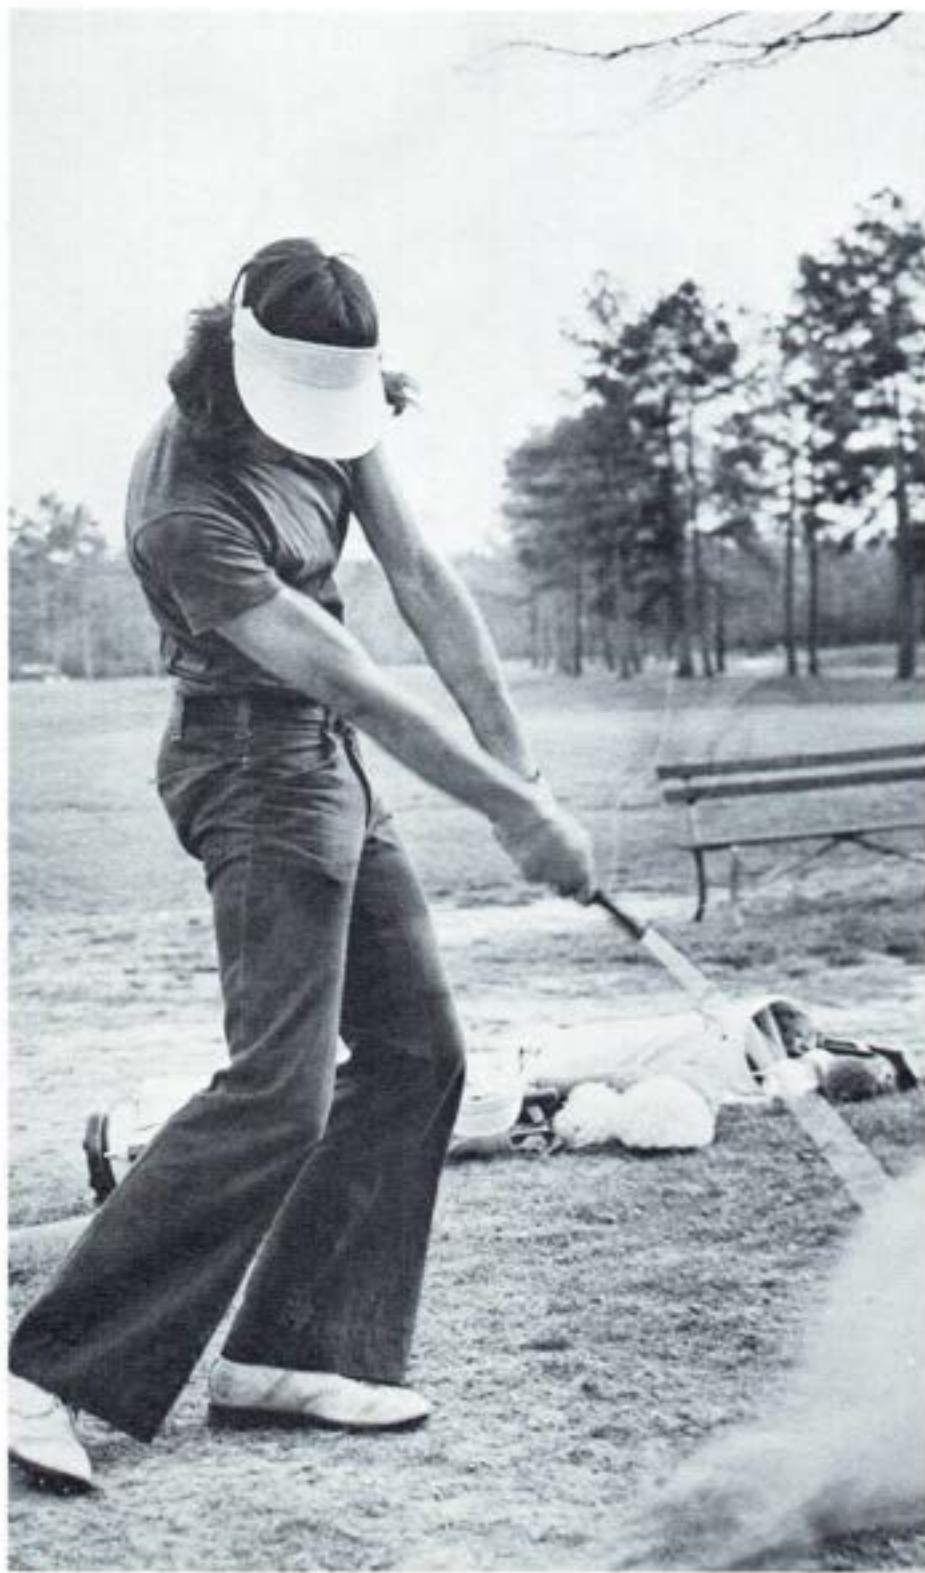

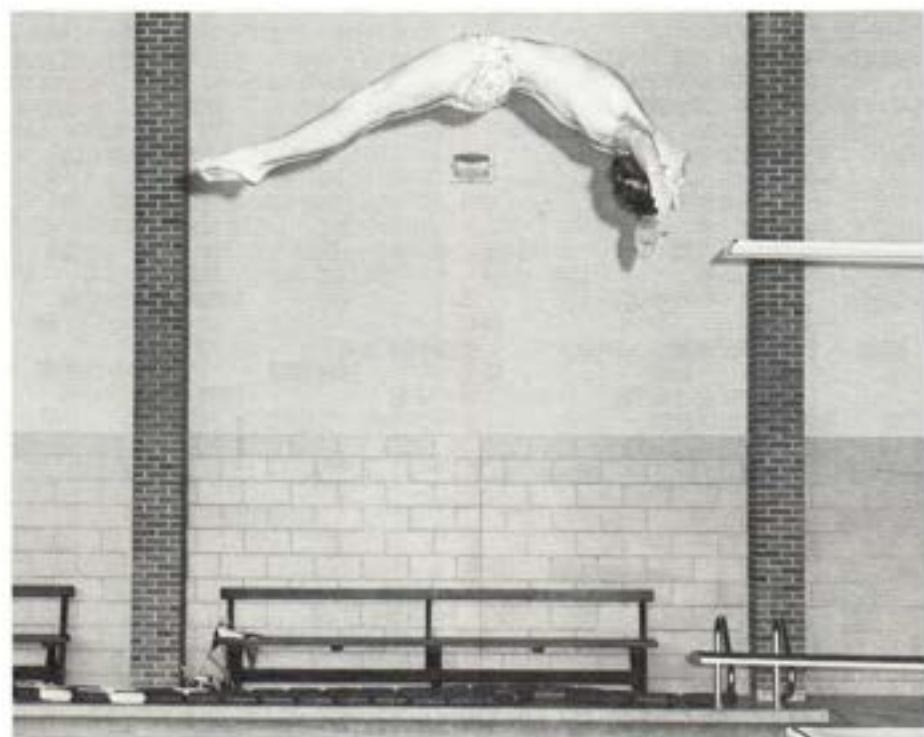

The Mulerider Bowling team faces a year of rebuilding in 1974 after capturing the conference crown from Harding in 1973. In winning the crown from Harding, Southern State beat the team which had won the national title three of the past five years. The only two returnees from last year are Steele Westphale and Cecil Hudson.

Southern State's golf team has two men returning from last year's fourth place team. Sid Moore and John Unger are the only regulars returning. Three freshmen make up the rest of the starting five for the linksters, Marvin Lindsay, Gary Cason and Joe Waddle. Others on the team include Kurt Fenchel, Andy Rogers and Jack Helton. So far this season the team is undefeated in AIC play and has lost only to Texarkana College, both times they have met by two strokes. They have been tough on AIC teams and look to place high in the conference meet.

Men's, Women's Swim Teams

Teams place in two meets

The Rider swimmers finished third in the AIC meet this year, behind Hendrix and Harding. However, the Riders scored higher in the conference meet than any previous SSC team.

Freshman Jerry Stinson set a new conference mark in the 200-yard freestyle. He was also second in individual scoring in the meet.

SSC's women's swim team finished fifth in the Arkansas Women's Extramural Sports Association tournament.

Men's, Women's Tennis

Conference champions continue high

Coach Richard A. Carter has arranged the toughest schedule ever faced by the Muleriders for 1974. The Riders, champions of the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference for the past two years, play schools from the Big Eight, Southland and Southwest conferences. The team is led by defending AIC singles champion Gary Snay, and returning lettermen Gray Roberts, Gary Earlywine, and Jimmy Tiner.

The Riderette tennis team, under the direction of Dr.

Kathryn Brown, continues to be among the top teams in the conference year after year. The Riderettes are once again led by Janelle Clark, probably the top woman player in the state.

Track team boasts top performers

This year's thinclads, coached by George Henry, promised to be even better than last's, when the Mules landed a second place conference finish behind Ouachita Baptist university.

Despite the loss of six sprinters at semester, the Riders still boast a number of top performers. Back from last year is Mike Healer, the conference record holder in the three mile with a time of 14:40. Already this year he's run the event in 14:28.5. Also back are Tim Henry, the conference's fastest miler, Lynn McElroy; defending broad jump champion, Chip Hairston, who holds the fastest time thus far in the 440 yard hurdles, and Don Brown, one of the leading discus throwers in the conference.

Harriers take second in conference

The dynamic duo of Mike Healer and Tim Henry paced Southern State to a second place conference finish behind Harding.

Healer and Henry, recognized as two of the top distance men in the South, finished first and third in the conference meet, while freshman standout Dean Cearley came in fifth. But these three weren't enough to overcome the depth of defending champion Harding.

In dual meet competition Harding was the only school to beat Southern State, and then it was only by six points. After the conference meet, the Riders, under the guidance of Coach George Henry, traveled to Salina, Kansas, to run in the National Cross Country meet, where they finished thirty-first out of 68 teams.

Baseball

Rider nine to aim for conference crown

Coach Monroe Ingram's baseball team, led by the solid performances of pitcher David O'Byrne battled to a second place conference finish last year with an overall record of 19-9.

The fine defense of the Riders helped make up for a hitting deficiency as the Mules beat conference champion Henderson two out of three meetings. Besides O'Byrne, shortstop Rance Rewis and third baseman John White were selected on the all conference team.

This year the Riders hope to nail down the AIC crown which has eluded them the past two years. Ten returning lettermen, two transfers, and an improved hitting attack should give the rest of the conference all they can handle.

Lettermen give Riders experience in '74

Intramurals draw wide participation

Despite a drop in enrollment at Southern State, the Intramural program, headed by Dr. Larry McNeal, continues to expand and involve a greater percentage of students and faculty members than in the past. The program includes the traditional sports like football (181 participants), basketball (233 participants), volleyball, softball, badminton, and tennis and also some newer, upcoming sports such as soccer, eight ball, snooker, and bicycle racing.

Basketball highlights intramural program

Intramural basketball action offered would-be athletes an opportunity to perfect their skills. Men's champions were Greene West and women's champion was Harrod West.

In Memoriam

Jeffrey Huddlestun

*The Lord is my shepherd;
I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures;
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil: for thou art with me;
Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
Though preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:
Though anointest my head with oil;
My cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life:
And I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.
-Psalm 23*

A Year In The Life Of . . .

. . . Yesterday. Where in walks and talks and nobody knows or even remembers. But we were there and the burning of old leaves and letters suffer smoke in our tears and sleepy dreamings . . .

NOW . . .

Take a look backward. Reflect on what this year has meant in your life. Has it meant coming closer to achieving your dreams; attaining fulfillment? Or yet, have you encountered unexpected surprises along the way.

I prefer to believe that each year of life grows better than that which has preceded it. We must have this hope — that each day there is a new challenge, a new cause to pursue, something new to reach out to.

Did you find that the world you were seeking was really not what was meant for you at all? Perhaps you wanted things of a tangible nature — only to rediscover that there is no permanency here, but only in things beyond the reach of the mighty dollar. Welcome to serendipity! As William James once said, "The greatest use of life is to spend it for something that will outlast it."

During our years at college our paths have crossed with countless individuals, and we have each in turn developed a little more of our own individuality. Each individual who's life has in some way coincided with our own is a part of what we have grown to become. One has the power for his life to be an edifice or a detriment to the life of another. Which would you have yours to be?

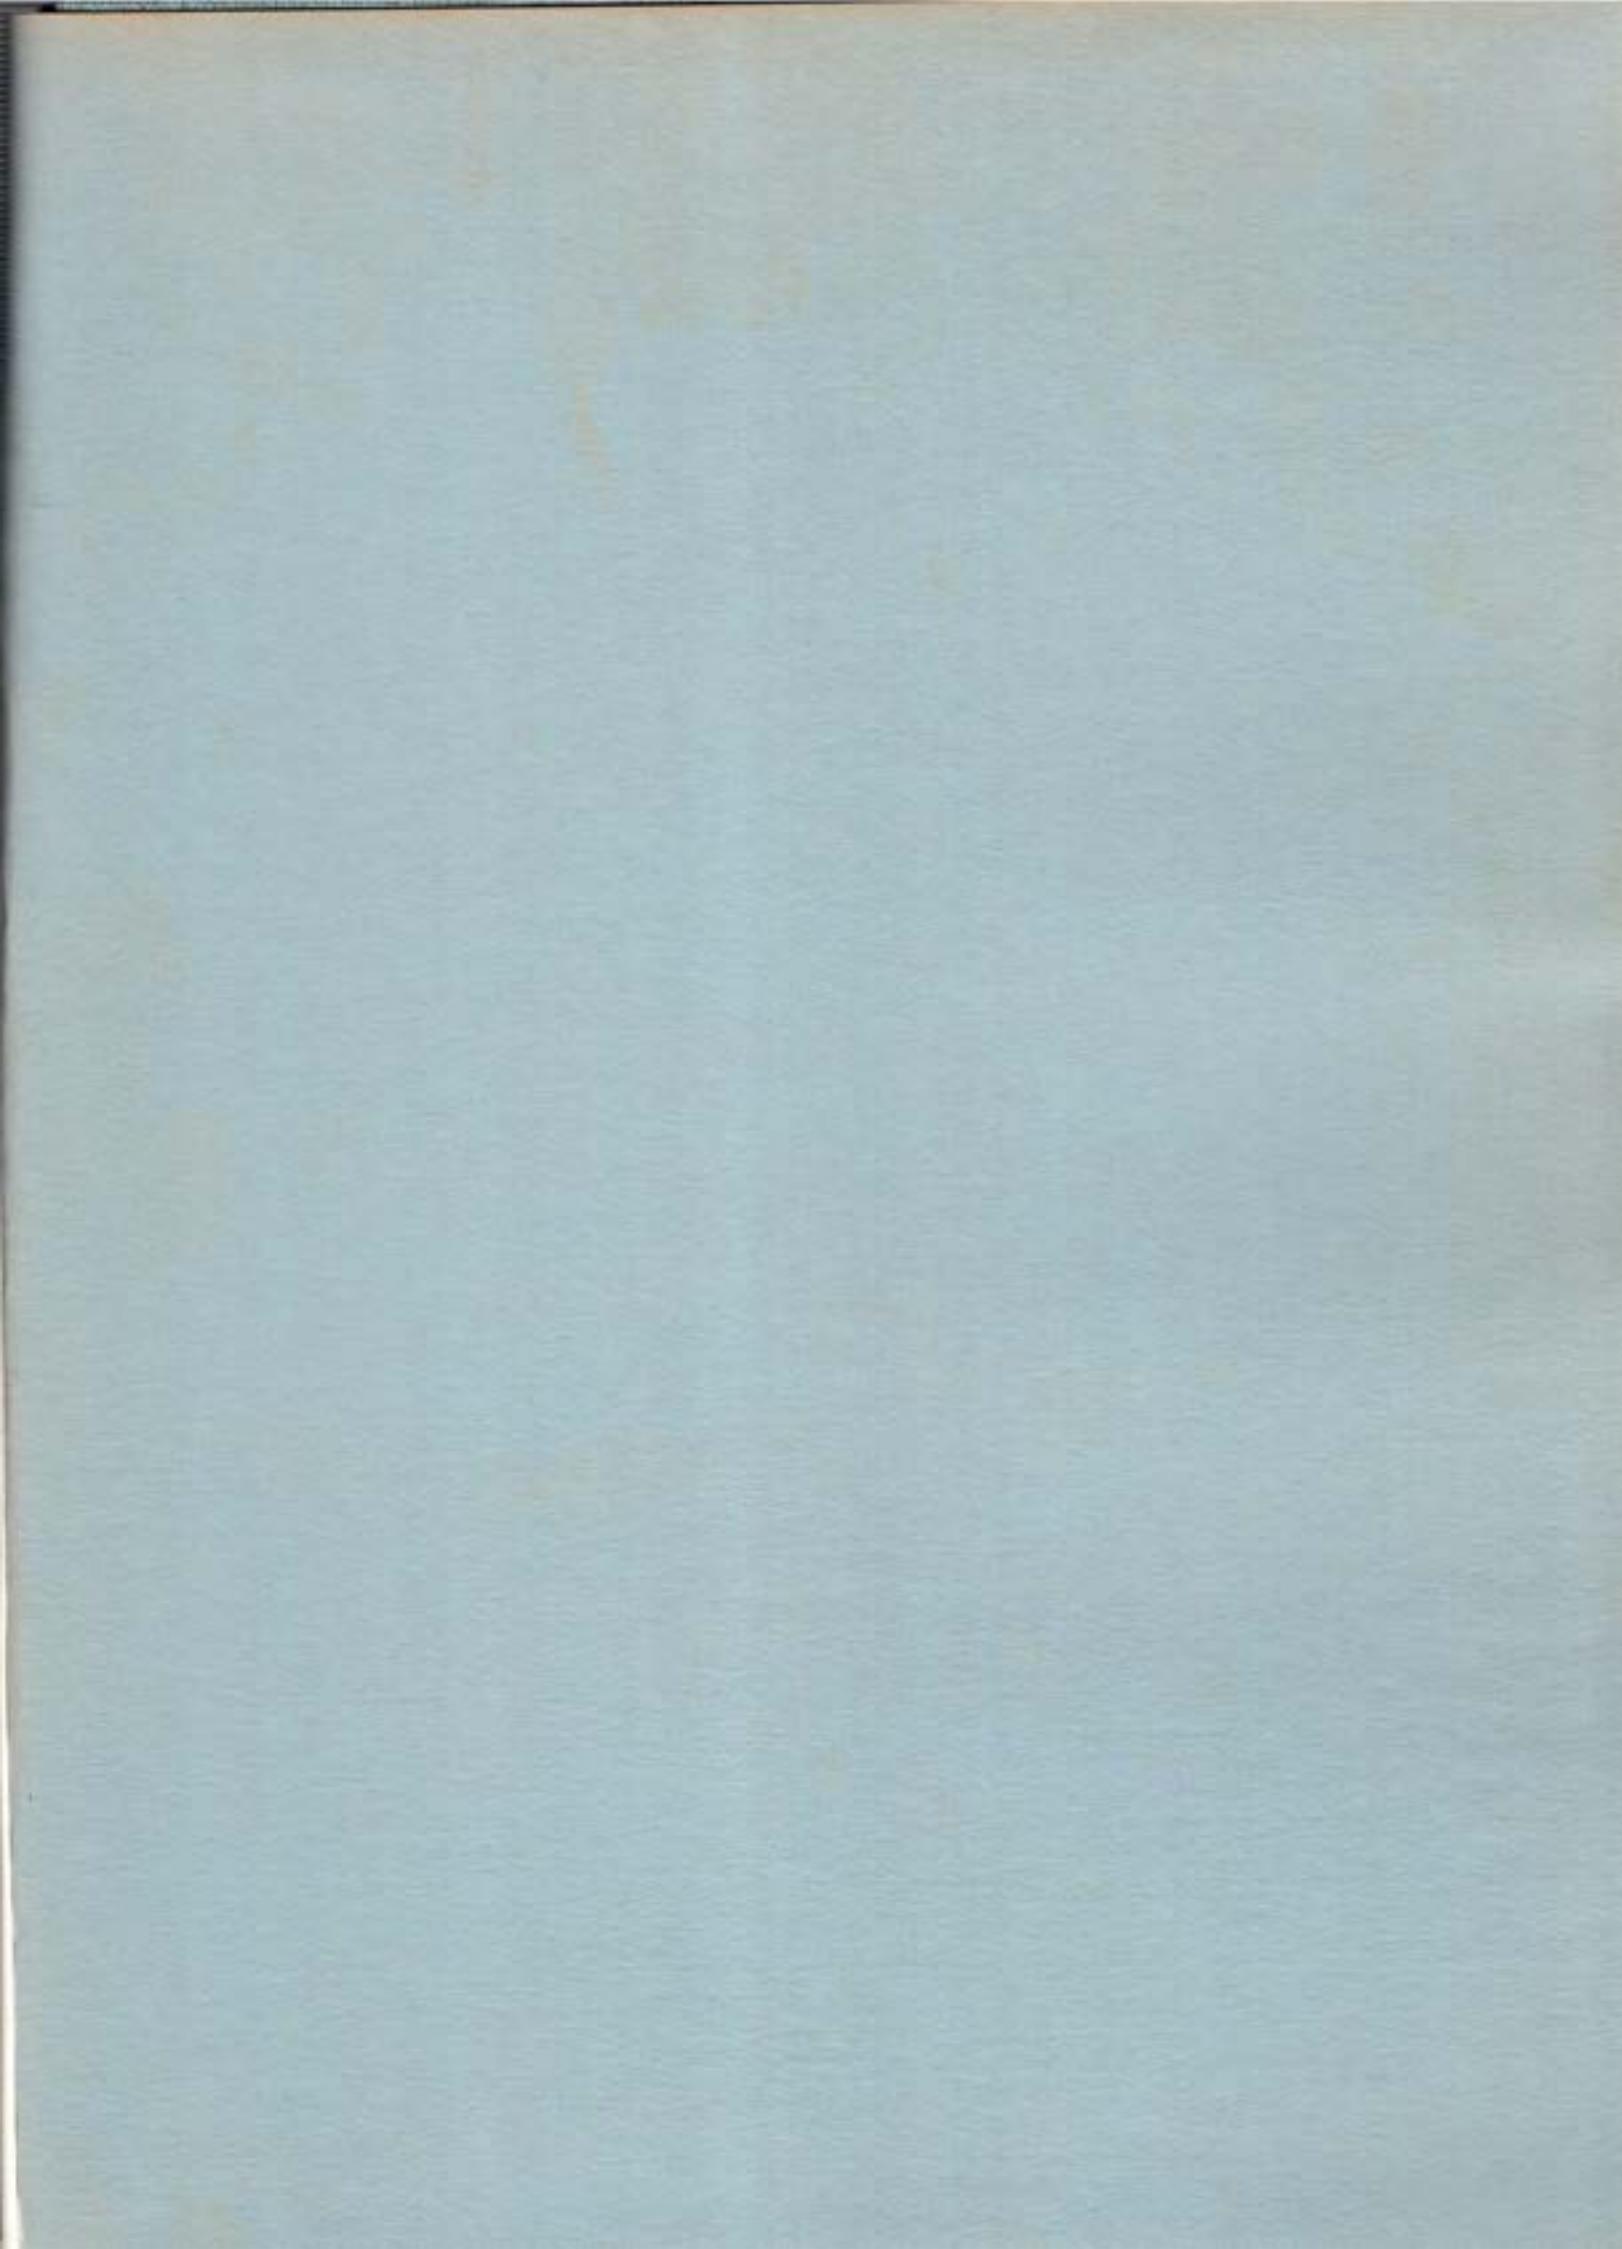

Memories are not all happy ones, but it is the totality of trials and tribulations, as well as our triumphs that contribute to individual growth. Our development cannot stop with a college degree. We must be ever-ready to extend ourselves, utilizing to the fullest capacity our potential.

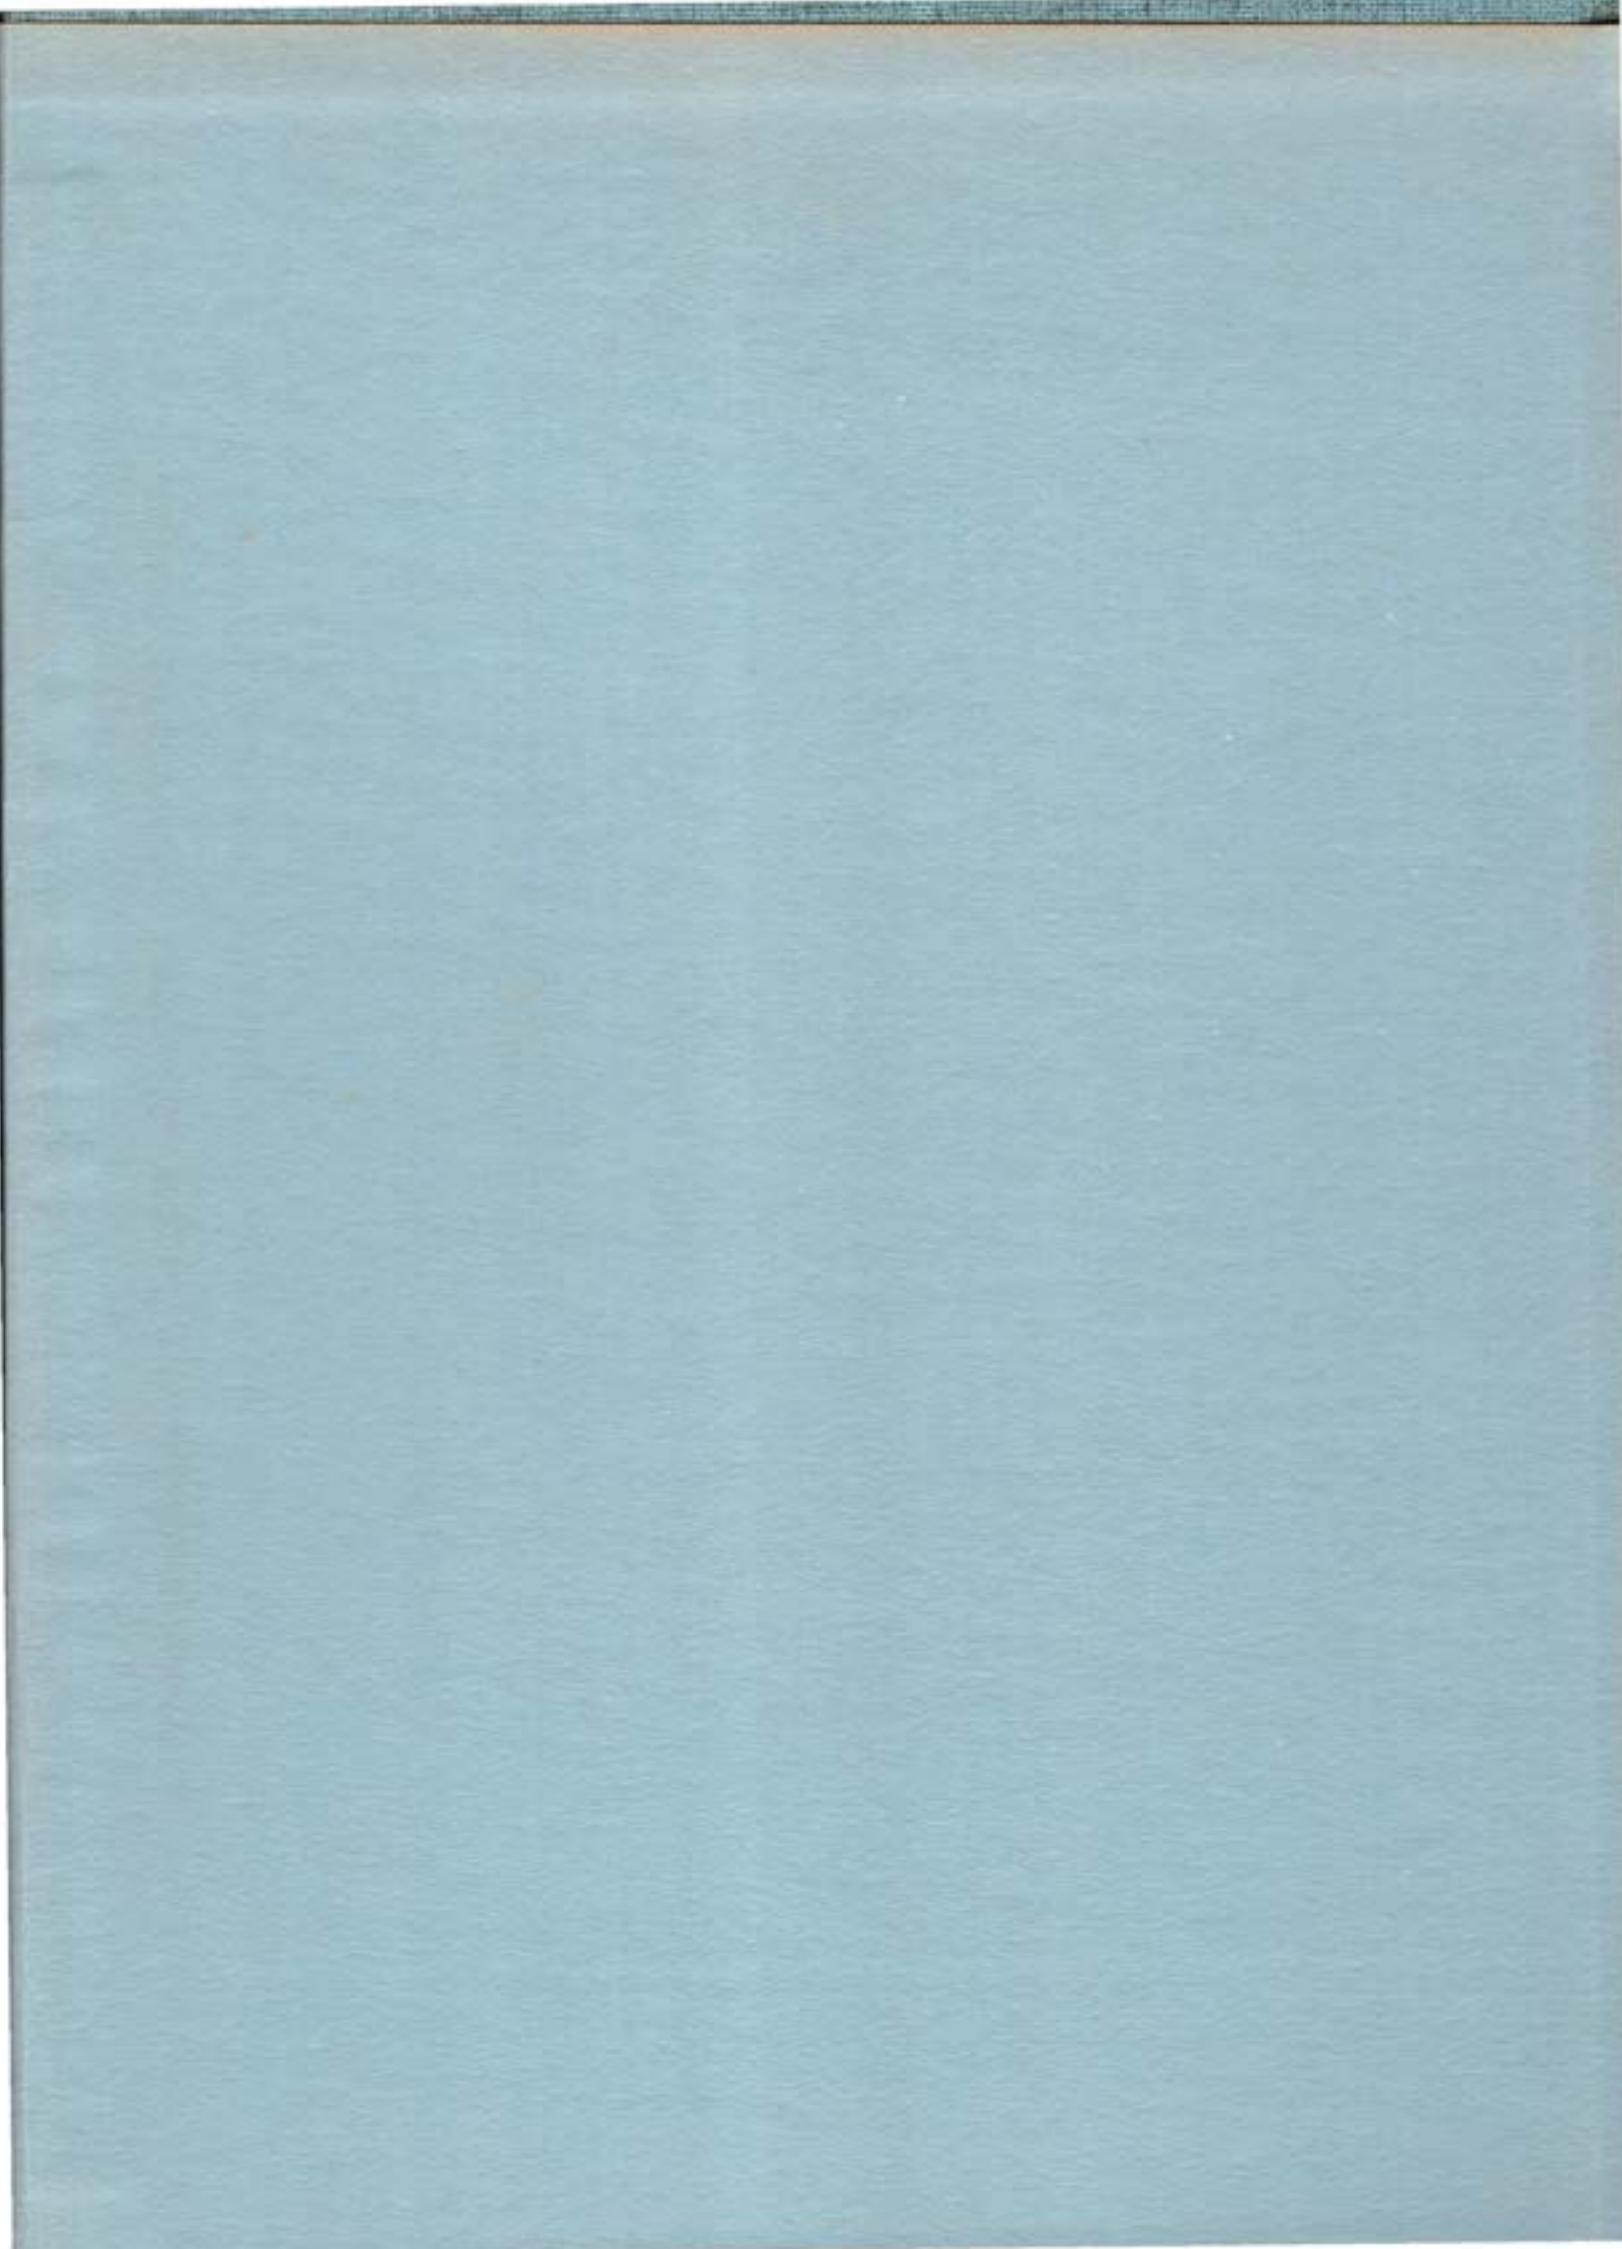

I suppose each of us has his own conception of success. Throughout the year I have come to realize the truth of Booker T. Washington's quotation "Success is to be measured not so much by the position that one has reached in life as by the obstacles which he has overcome while trying to succeed."

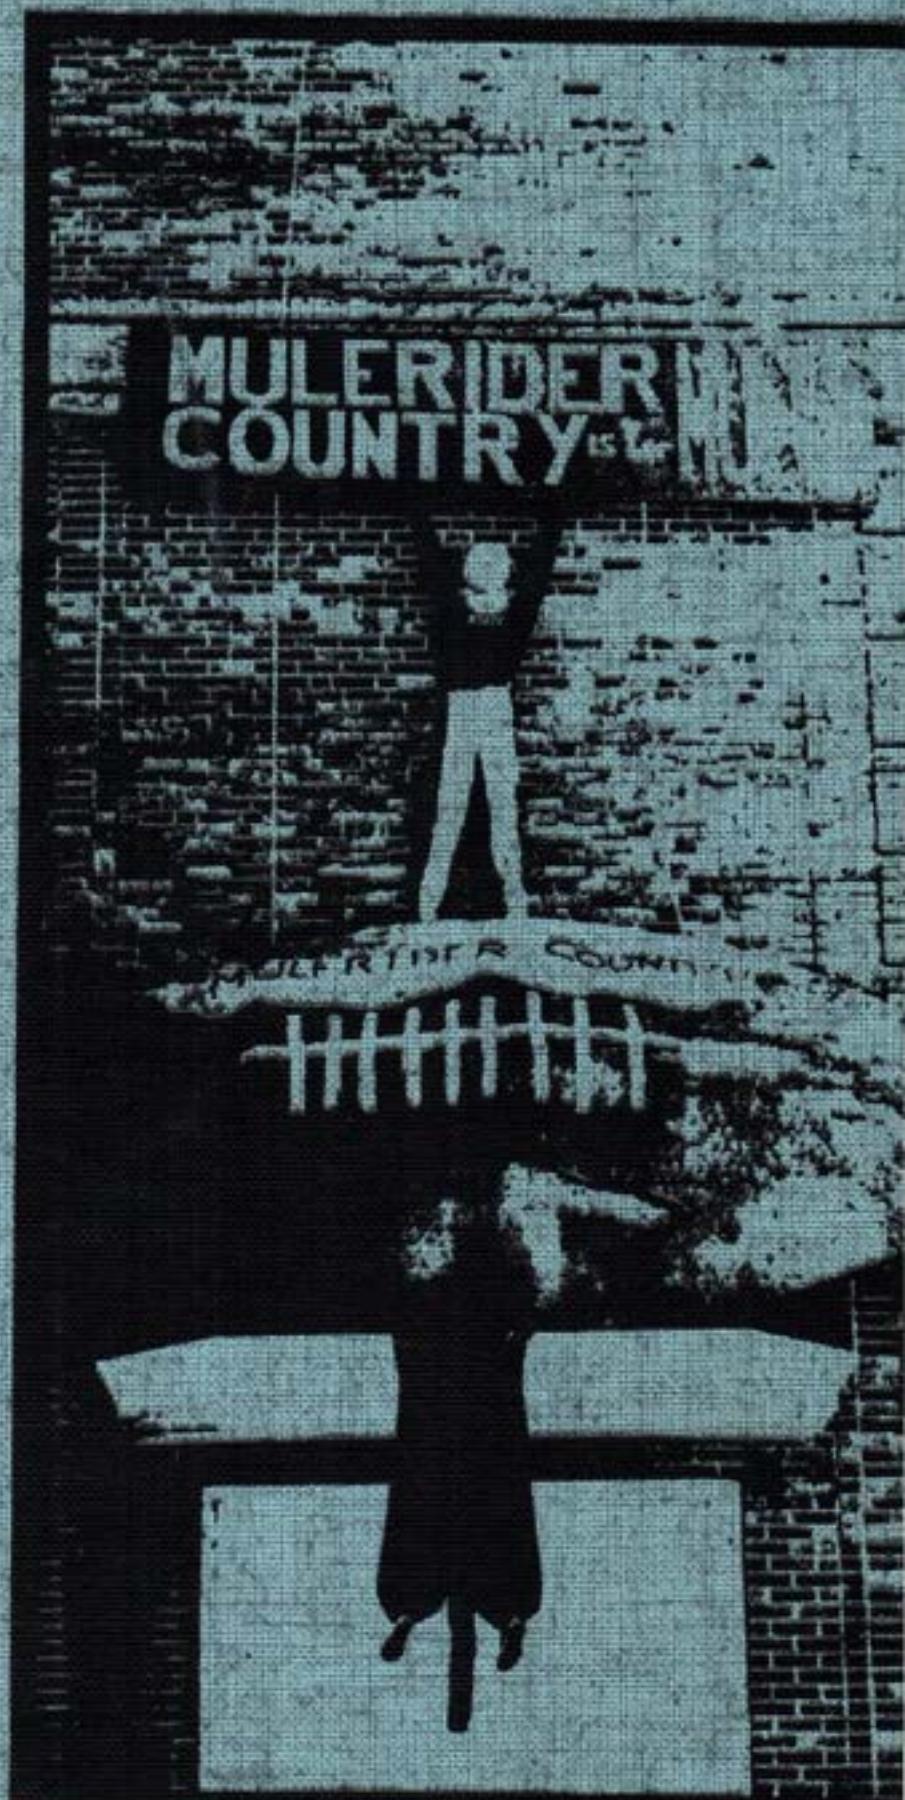

Now . . . I bid you to go in peace as you prepare for the next year in your life . . . for the show must go on!
