1969

Debbie,
I have enjoyed making your friendship and wish you the best of luck in the future. May God Bless You!
Love ya,
Marsha
Brunley

Dear Debbie,

This year has been the greatest for me. I know you have enjoyed this freshman year. Next year will be even greater. This year has been extra special because I've made so many close friends like you. May God richly bless you and keep you always in His perfect will. May you always find peace in God and peace with God forever. Thanks for being a real neat kind.

Love always,
Dail

Silence echoes through the empty street in front of Graham Hall.

Forsaken bleachers after a football game provide a silent spot.

Silence Lingers Over Campus

Silence hovers over the campus. Driving down a deserted street on weekends. In a vacated union after the excitement of Homecoming is over. Stolen moments beside a rippling pond. Mulerider fans staring in disbelief during the waning seconds of a lost ball game. Silence in its time and place is found throughout the campus.

This year's Homecoming Mulerider stands guard over students and alumni.

A couple discuss plans for the future beside a quiet pond on campus.

Silence Inspires Meditation

College is a time for pondering. Remembering the past. Evaluating the present. Planning toward the future. Any time or any setting can awaken these thoughts into realities.

The stillness inspires an artist to interpret her thoughts on canvas.

Pondering over the many frustrations of registration, freshman Cindy Gladney loses herself in thought.

As the sun sets, agri major Tim Robbins looks beyond toward better understanding.

Aided by the stillness of nature, Sandra Foster lapses into deep thought.

Silence Engulfs Scholars

Everyday sounds of life are suppressed as students prepare themselves for classes. The peacefulness of autumn encouraging constructive study. Empty classrooms inviting silent thoughts. Seclusion furnishing an atmosphere for beneficial study. Shelves of books nourishing silent knowledge. The silence of learning unifies students.

Silent artist Sue Alford builds a special project.

The once-busy steps of the now vacated boys' dormitory McCrary Hall inspires Carolyn Lamkin to concentrate on her studies.

Coed Cathy Adams takes advantage of a quiet moment before class for a hurried last minute look at her notes.

For students who are unable to find a place for quiet study in the dorms, the J. M. Peace Library offers this solitude.

Tired students find room on the floor of the gym lobby to fill out such cards as class schedules and student information cards.

Registration Tries Students

Fast and furious days of registration seem unbearable. Waiting in line. Completing numerous class cards. Hoping a required class hasn't been closed. Seeing summer wages for the last time. Life spent as an underclassman is not in vain because graduation makes the work and frustration worthwhile.

Anxiously awaiting their card packets, students begin registration.

Buddy Mills of Ben Lomond renders money for a Calendar of Events.

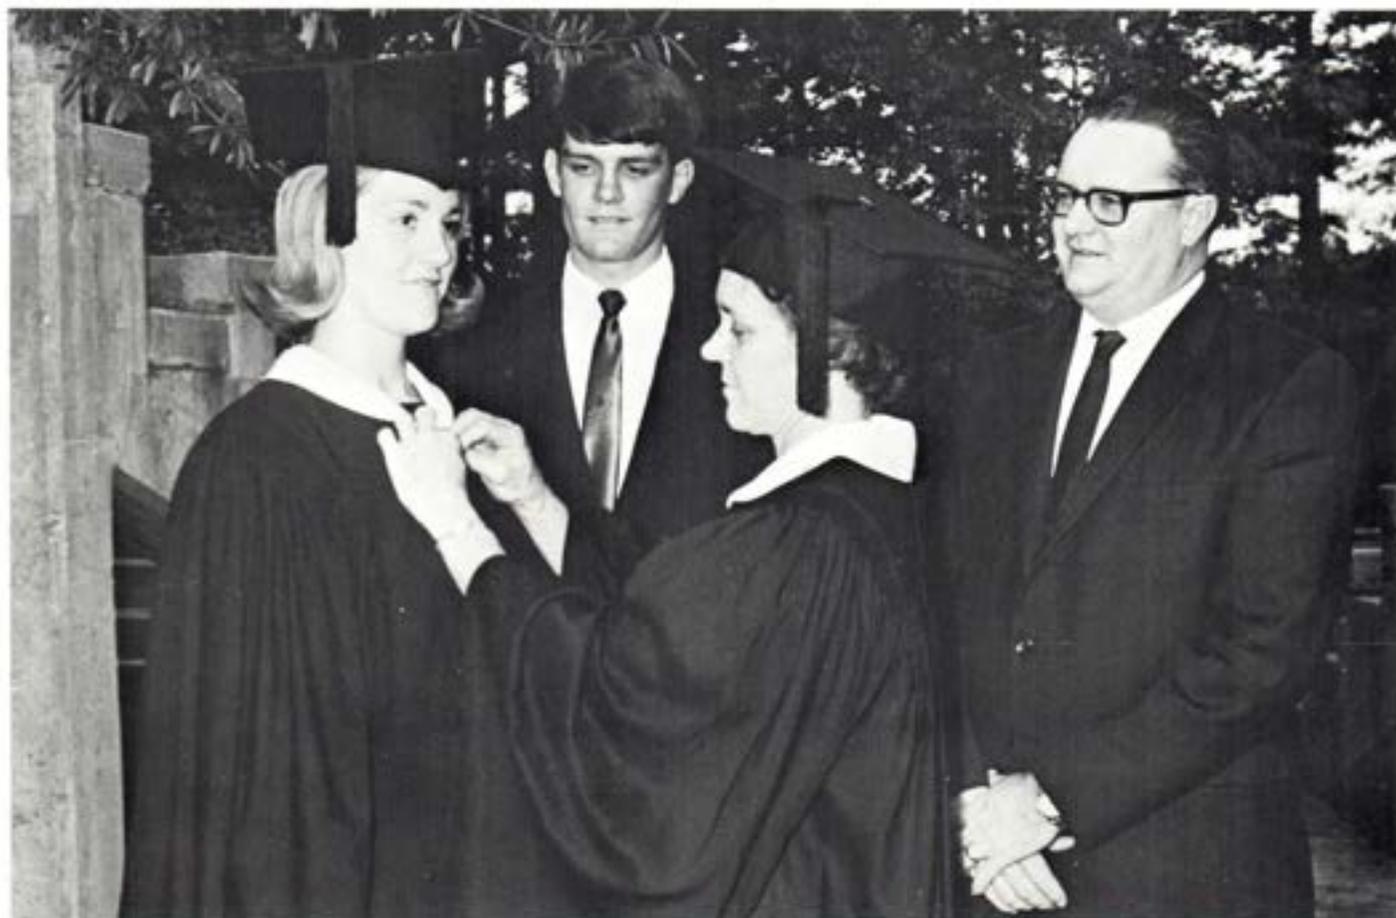

Graduates of the 1968 summer class listen intently as Dr. Rolf Larson, nationally known educator, helps to prepare them for the future.

Graduation Dream Becomes Reality

Linda Timmons, who completed work for her B.S.E. degree last January, is being admired by her family, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Timmons and Allen.

Academics

Students Prepare For Careers Through Academic Programs

A symbol of knowledge is the student under a tall pine in the midst of many more. Yet this pine stands out, for under it the student can find the quiet he desires for study. And this quiet can encourage learning, as seeking the unknown through a microscope. It can encourage searching thoughts. It can encourage memory. These three are essential for the student to possess knowledge. They all contribute to forming the enriched student, and he in turn adds to Southern State College.

President Initiates New Improvements

President Imon E. Bruce examines the architect's drawings for the new classroom building, which will be completed by New Year's Day, 1970.

Dear Students, Faculty and Staff,

As I write this letter, we are approaching the mid-term of the 1968-69 academic year. It has been an interesting semester with many changes, some problems and several pleasant surprises. Among these the biggest surprise has been (for me) the extremely low bid received on the John H. Wilson classroom-laboratory building. This has created the very pleasant problem of selecting and purchasing much more equipment for the building than was originally planned. Other physical changes include the completion of a new parking lot and the work now in progress on 10 new tennis courts. However, the most striking change is probably not in the campus itself, but in the beards, long hair and miniskirts appearing here as in other colleges.

In these changing times my sincere wish for you is still the same — success and happiness throughout your years of college and life.

Yours very truly,

Imon E. Bruce

Imon E. Bruce
President

President Bruce dictates a letter to his secretary, Linda Davidson.

Dr. Bruce returns from visiting the various places on campus.

The construction of the new tennis courts often brought Dr. Bruce out to watch their progress.

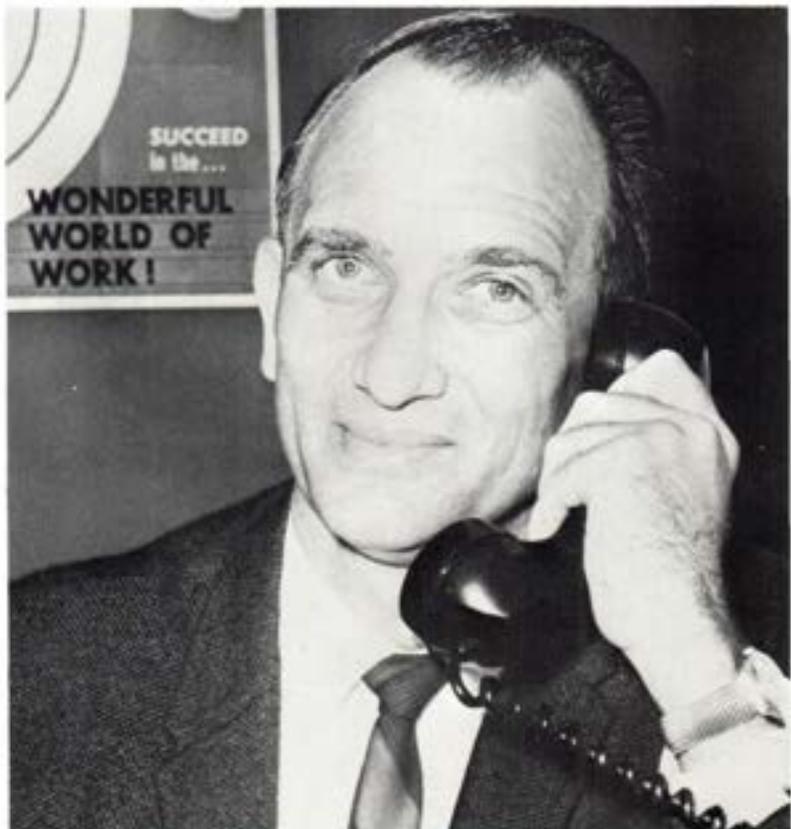

Serving again as members of the Board of Trustees are D. O. Talbot of Magnolia, Henry Irons of Hot Springs, John H. Wilson of Magnolia, Mrs. Ned Stewart of Texarkana and Doyne Hunnicutt of Camden.

Wilson Hall Is Approved By Board

Expanding the campus and giving the Student Senate the right to get on the agenda of board meetings highlighted the activities of this year's Board of Trustees. The board also recommended the appointment of Auburn Smith as athletic director and the advancement of Raymond Powell to head football coach. They approved bids for the construction of the new classroom building, John H. Wilson Hall, and for the construction of 10 new tennis courts. The five-member board, who are appointed by the governor and confirmed by the Senate of Arkansas for five-year terms, consisted of John H. Wilson, chairman, Doyne Hunnicutt, vice-chairman, D. O. Talbot, secretary, Mrs. Ned Stewart, Henry Irons and Dr. Imon Bruce, president of the College.

Lowell A. Logan, acting academic dean, was responsible for formulating and enforcing academic policies of the College as well as serving on the academic affairs, academic standards and faculty affairs committees.

Assistant to the president and director of research, Charles Jackson, represented Southern State at a "Search for Talent" conference held in Washington, D. C., and directed the Upward Bound program this year.

Deans Endeavor To Arouse Interest

Milton B. Talley, Alumni Association secretary, organized a social hour for former SSC students of the Dallas area at the Sheraton-Dallas Hotel in Dallas to generate more interest in the College alumni program and to organize an alumni club in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Donald Haefner, dean of students and associate professor of education, designed the interior and planned the rules for Cross Hall, women's honor dormitory which houses students with a 2.5 or better grade point.

Gary Piper, completing his first year as dean of men, organized the Association of Men Students, which replaced the past Men's Council.

Sponsoring the Associated Women Students and the cheerleaders, Pat Weaver finishes her second year as dean of women at Southern State.

Deans, Directors Increase Duties, Aids

George Messingale opened a new office in the College Center this year, where he carried out his duties as director of student activities.

As the director of student financial aid, Bernard H. Polk handled the distribution of over $800,000 in loans, grants and scholarships.

Moving his offices to Overstreet, Paul Kirkpatrick operates the new Counseling Center there and continues as director of counseling.

R. B. Gandy, director of public relations, contentedly looks over The Bray, which he co-advices, that announces its All-American selection.

Administration Provides Student Needs

James L. Smyth, registrar, and Maxine Porterfield, assistant registrar, discuss the arrangement of registration cards into the proper classes.

Figuring the debits and credits of the College is part of the work of R. H. Cole Jr., business manager and Margaret Atchison, accountant.

An extra feature of the J. M. Peace Library is a microfilm projector, which the librarians, Carolyn Wyrick, Mary Looney, Naida Tyndall, Kathryn Condray and Velma Lee Adams, head librarian, learn to operate.

Administrators Offer Student Services

As director of the News Bureau, Mrs. J. Stanley Hipp sends news of the honors or accomplishments of each student to his hometown newspaper.

Clyde Thomas, bookstore manager, examines the popular SSC sweatshirts.

Ray Deere, manager of the dining hall, serves a cup of hot chocolate.

Serving the College as nurse this year was Mrs. Tressie W. Shaw.

Staff Oversees Operation Of College

Overseeing the 620-acre farm is the responsibility of Lewis Porterfield, farm manager.

Locating maintenance trouble areas around the campus is a big part of Billy Ray Meehan's job as plant engineer.

Plans for the maintenance of the College grounds and buildings are discussed each day by James H. Jones, assistant plant engineer, and Douglas M. Farrar, assistant superintendent of buildings and grounds.

Selling stamps is a big part of Mrs. C. D. Hipp's job as postmistress.

Business, Maintenance Done By Many

Mrs. Rena Richards and Mrs. Everett Young, assistant bookstore manager, busily add up sales for books and supplies during registration week.

Sara Couch and Bonnie Harris, accounting assistants, work in the Business Office and aid in keeping the records of the College up to date.

Secretaries Serve Administration

Other secretaries were (first row) Mrs. J. Rolan Brown, Mrs. John M. Gillespie, Mrs. Tommy Davidson; (second row) Hazel Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Jimmy Askew, Mrs. Richard Samuel and Mrs. Robert Walz.

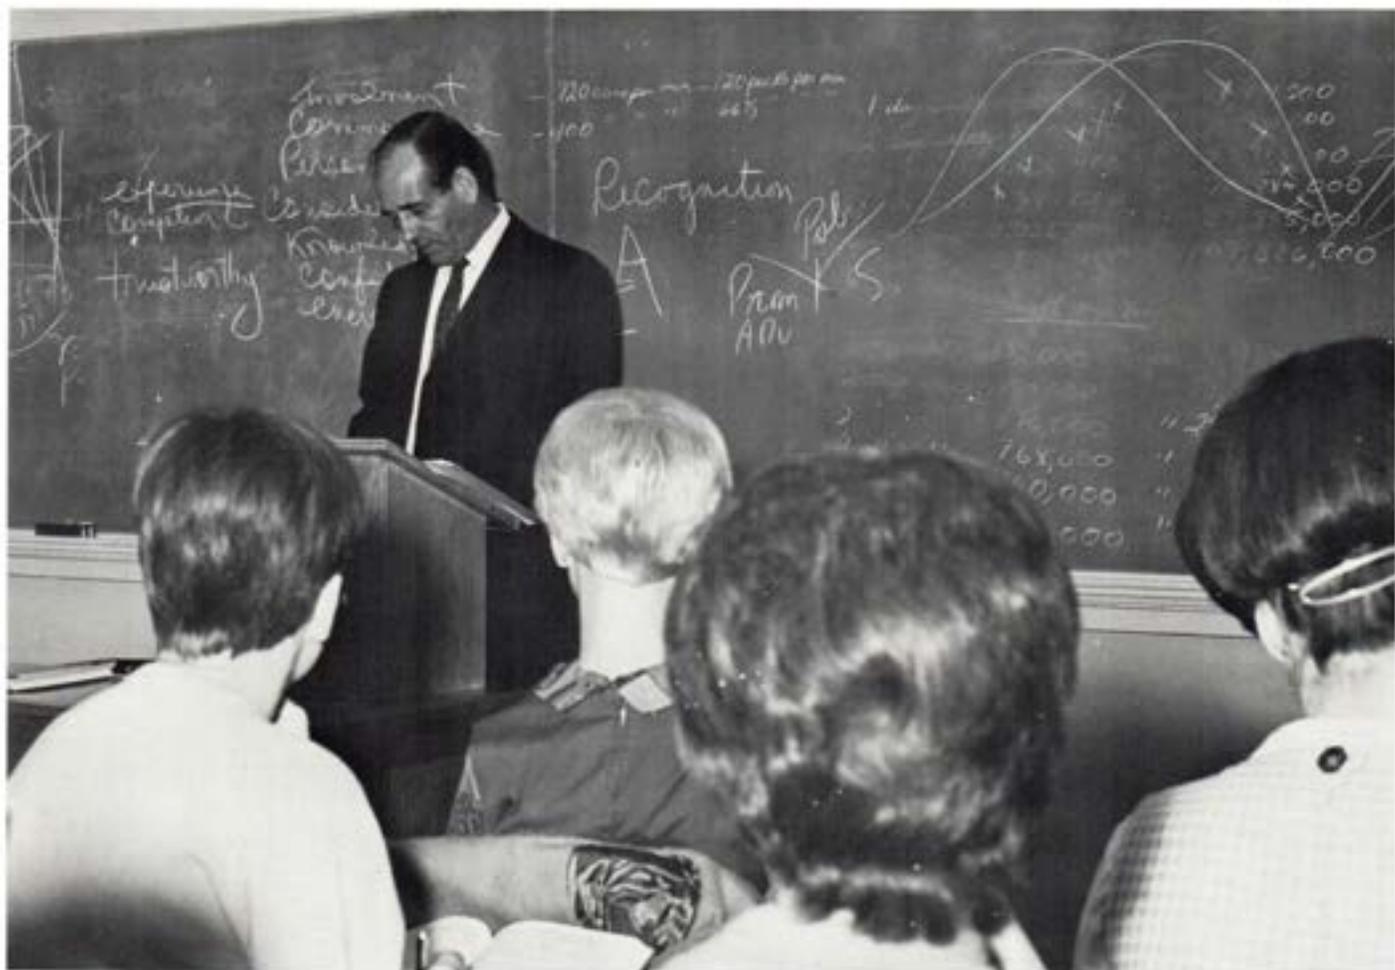

Bruce Bevans, division chairman, keeps in contact with the president.

The Division of Business and Commerce is aimed at training students in the field of business and at giving them a background for graduate study. New instructors in this division included David F. Rankin, assistant professor of business, and Thomas R. McKinnon, assistant professor of economics. Those on leave from the department were Albert Stecker, who attended the University of Indiana, and Scott Boaz and Ann Trexler, who attended the University of Arkansas. This year for the first time a degree was obtainable in Industrial Management, Distributive Education and Marketing. Field trips and new equipment enriched the program of studies in the department. Trips were taken to a retail store in Shreveport and a data processing center in Pine Bluff. This year the senior members of the program attended Career Day at Little Rock, where their training was put to practice in job interviews. A secretarial language lab and new typing equipment was added to the division. An awards banquet was held this spring.

The Division of Education strived to prepare future teachers for public schools. In this preparation the prospective teachers obtained an adequate knowledge of the subject matter to be taught, gained a suitable understanding of child development and the learning process. They demonstrated their qualifications for a professional teaching certificate via student teaching. On leave from the division were Margaret Downing, who was at Texas Woman's University, Ralph Wilson at the University of Arkansas and Larry McNeal, at North Texas State University. Don Marshall, assistant professor of physical education and education, was added to the faculty this year. Study in the physical education department was enriched by such new equipment as a new exercise machine and 10 new tennis courts. This division is comprised of the elementary education, secondary education, physical education and recreation, health and library science departments.

The purpose of this department is to prepare students for professional careers in music, to train music and art teachers for the public schools and to provide training in art and design for majors in fields such as home economics. This division sponsored several art shows, concerts and faculty recitals, which made the school year more interesting. New equipment was bought for the record library and a new etching press and potter's wheel was added to the art department. This year for the first time one was able to obtain a major in art education.

Humanities Section Adds New Tapes, Teachers, Course

The Humanities Division stresses communication. It includes the departments of English, Modern Foreign Language, Journalism and Speech. Each year the Sigma Tau Delta, the honorary fraternity for English majors and minors, publishes a student literary magazine, "Beginnings." New recordings were bought to enrich the foreign language department, and a new course, Modern American Novel, was added to the English department. Those added to the faculty this year included David Allen Fincher, John D. Osier, John C. Calhoun, Patsy Calhoun, Mary T. Weddle and Roy Ockert Jr. Several teachers were on leave from this division this year. From the English department were A. M. Belmont Jr., who was studying at the University of Arkansas, James Holt at Texas Christian University, Tom Chaney at the University of Kentucky and Dale Whitman at the University of Georgia. Robert L. Hartsell of the speech department studied at Louisiana State University, and Val Sterle Jr., an instructor of philosophy, studied at the University of Texas.

Included in the Division of Natural Science are the departments of Biology, Chemistry, Geology, Mathematics, Physics, Pre-professional Training and Medical Technology. Interest in this division was increased by new equipment, new instructors and a new course. Among the equipment acquired were a new balance room and a new instrument room. Also added were a new infrared spectrophotometer, gas chromatograph, five new single pan analytic balance scales and an entire refractometer. New instructors added to the division included William David Bacon, instructor of mathematics, and Jerry V. Lord, assistant professor of physics and general science. The new course added to the curriculum this year was Advanced Chemical Analysis. Several field trips were made to industries this year, and a group attended the American Chemical Society meeting at Northeast State College in Monroe, La.

The Division of Social Science offered programs leading to both the bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees with majors in political science, geography, history, psychology and sociology. The division also directed a pre-profession curriculum for those planning to study law. Phillip Adams, assistant professor of sociology, and David Sixbey, assistant professor of history, joined the faculty this year. Frank F. Schambach, survey archaeologist with the Arkansas Archaeological Survey, also joined the staff. On fall leave this year was William C. Nolan, who attended the University of Mississippi. A new course, The Negro in America, was added to the history curriculum this year. Southern State is believed to be the first college in the state to have this course offered in its curriculum. Field trips brought interest to the division. Some of the psychology majors went to Little Rock to the annual Meeting and Mental Health Assembly of the Arkansas Association for Mental Health, Inc.

Two-Year Program Added To Curriculum

New this year to the Division of Technical and Professional Education was the nursing department. Opened just this spring, the 2-year program was designed to help meet Arkansas' critical nursing shortage, according to Pat Williams, director of the program. The division also offered 2-year study programs in the fields of agriculture, engineering, pre-veterinary science, home economics and forestry. Students in these programs met their basic educational needs chiefly for training at a higher college level. Since last year 122 acres of land has been added to the college farm. The agri force fenced this land and made plans for new barns and corrals. Construction on the new engineering building was begun this winter. Frank Root, head of the engineering department, said he expects to be moved into the building by 1970.

Features

Anyone Accepting Responsibility Must Learn To Pay Its Price

Features are people. They are individuals who must have determination, will power and the ability to work alone. Determination is to finish a job that has been started. Will power is to sacrifice a pleasure for long and trying hours of work. Ability to work alone is to forsake the temptation of leaving when the going gets rough and others abandon the responsibilities. The importance of features depends on these qualities in the individual.

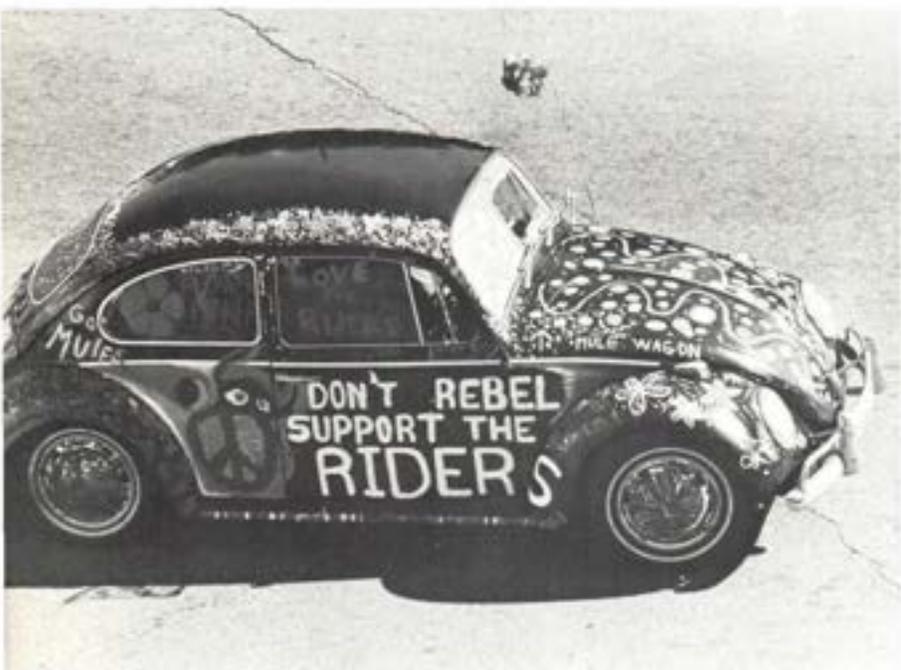

Jack Harrington, associate professor of agriculture, introduced the Homecoming court at the Thursday night pep rally.

Spirit Soars During Homecoming

The Homecoming spirit was kicked off by a follow parade led by the SSC cheerleaders. Presentation of the 1968 Homecoming royalty was made the next night at the pep rally. Alumni gathered in the student center, where they could reminisce over their college days and their homecomings. Here there were pictures of past homecoming royalties on display. Included in the Homecoming festivities also was a time to pause and reflect.

Rider Power, rather than Flower Power, seemed to be boosted by this car.

Alumni browsed through past yearbooks in the Hospitality House.

Rider fans released their enthusiasm during the follow parade.

Downtown parade gathered a crowd as the dorm sweethearts passed by.

Students enjoyed reading old Brays exhibited in the Student Center describing the homecoming courts of previous years.

Visitors and students admired Graham Annex's float, which won second place.

Talley Hall's float captured the hopeful expectations of students and alumni for the outcome of the Homecoming game with the SCA Bears.

Setting the pace for the annual Homecoming parade, the Marching Riders displayed their talents in playing and marching before many viewers.

Royalty, "Uniques" Liven Homecoming

Homecoming weekend was filled with the excitement of floats, marching bands, royalty and a dance. Each dormitory rushed to be sure that their own prize-winning float was completed for the final judging. Talley Hall's float with the theme of "Victory Sweet as Honey" took first place prize. The music of the marching band of SSC added to the excitement of the Homecoming parade. Hovering in the night air was the tension of the game, in which the Muleriders faced the State College Bears. Queen Sarajane Collins and her court reigned over the Homecoming game. The excitement and tension of the weekend gradually floated away as students danced to the sound of the "Uniques."

Music by the Uniques highlighted the long-awaited Homecoming dance.

Reigning over a week packed with a variety of many exciting activities and climaxing the Saturday night ball game at half-time was this year's Homecoming court of Maid Gwen Golden, Maid Peggy Burton, Queen Sarajane Collins, Maid Sharon DeWoody and Maid Gayle Williams.

Biennial Harvest Carnival Highlights Fall Activities

DeCapo's "Last Resort" presented Jim Murray and Joan Gardner.

Halloween night the Harvest Carnival, hosted by the DaCapo Club, brought the old armory building to life. Students were given a chance to hit their favorite teacher, roll dice to win money and pay a penny to win a dollar. Special musical entertainment in a night club atmosphere was presented by the DaCapo Club. Harvest Carnival royalty, Margaret Perritt and Vince Massanelli, surveyed the happenings with a watchful eye.

"Revenge Booth" was a favorite among students but not faculty.

Snacks like candy apples, cookies and popcorn were sold.

Jake Peterson sold trash cans, junk boxes and psychedelic posters, some of the articles made by the girls in Nelson Hall.

"Wild Poker Game," sponsored by the AWS, attracted many of the daring male students.

"Gay Nineties" spirit added a unique setting to the carnival.

Vince Massanelli and Margaret Perritt are crowned as Harvest Carnival king and queen for 1968-69 by Robert G. Campbell, DeCapo Club sponsor.

King And Queen Chosen At Carnival

Sheila Smith congratulates Margaret on being voted carnival queen.

Selection of Harvest Carnival king and queen was made by penny votes in the various dorms on campus. Each women's dorm nominated a boy, and each men's dorm nominated a girl for the honor. Votes were cast in each dorm to determine the winner. As a result of this election, Margaret Perritt and Vince Massanelli were crowned king and queen to reign during the activities of Harvest Carnival, which is a biennial event of the DeCapo Club.

Aardvark Show Plays To Full House

There was standing room only at the annual Aardvark variety show sponsored by the Alpha Psi Omega. The top 14 campus beauties were presented in skirts and sweaters and evening gowns. The theme this year was "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." the program was divided into those three separate sections with different stage scenery, as well as separate emcees for each section. Emcees were Karen O'Hern, "Yesterday;" Sara McAllister, "Today;" and Ken Gyuricz, "Tomorrow." Rusty Johnson served as director of Aardvark, and serving as the Miss Southern Belle Pageant director was Paul Miller. The talent show consisted of two jazz ballet routines, a barber shop quartet, Rosey's Group and other vocal numbers. Climaxing the excitement was the crowning of Connie Bailey as Miss Southern Belle.

Jerry Parham and Joan Gardner sang two folk songs to the crowd.

Participating in "Today" was Tal Davis, who sang the song "Today."

Entertaining with a jazz ballet to "Sonny" was Debbie Deckelman.

Lu-Lu Langley performs in "Tomorrow" with a dance.

Judy Nash accompanied Joan Gardner, who performed the familiar "Yesterday."

Sara McAlister was master of ceremonies of the "Today" section.

'69 Variety Show Entertains With Many Songs, Dances

Dee Gates, accompanied by Ron Crider, sang "Come Rain or Shine."

Dressed in the style of years gone by is Karen O'Hern, "Yesterday's" m.c.

Ricky Irwin, Norma Daley, Rosalie Adams and Bobby Callicott composed "Rosey's Group."

The well-liked barber shop quartet of David Mallett, Bob Endel, David Adcock and Jeff Christenson harmonized for the audience in "Yesterday."

Judy Nash, accompanied by Joan Gardner on the guitar, charmed the full house with "Pray to Remember."

Ken Gyuricz and Larry Running entertain the audience in "Tomorrow."

Nik Hagler, director, coaches Kathy Pipkin in one of her scenes.

Terry Carlson, playing Arthur Henderson, talks to the other survivors.

Larry Powell, who portrays the lecturer in this play, solemnly examines the cold body of Arthur Henderson, who had been the ruler of the survivors.

'After the Rain' Illustrates Controversial Issues

"After the Rain," a modern 3-act drama by John Bowen, opened the 1968-69 SSC theatre season. The action took place in a university lecture hall in the year 2171, two hundred years after the great rain. It was a reenactment of the origin of the society rebuilt by the nine survivors of the world-wide flood which was supposed to have devastated the world as it is now. The play gave a picture of the New Society, which evolved from the remains of the present society. Interesting answers to some of man's most searching questions were offered in this play: How does a society build itself? How does religion begin? How do leaders arise? The play was in competition with plays presented by other colleges for the right to represent Arkansas in the American College Theater Festival to be held in the spring in Washington, D. C.

Workshop Theatre Creates Mood Of The Gay Nineties

"Lily, the Felon's Daughter," Tom Taggart's 3-act gay ninety melodrama, was presented by the SSC Workshop Theatre. The setting was in Boston in 1890. The heroine, Lily, "as pure as driven snow," was the adopted daughter of Jonas and Betsy Fairweather. Compton, Betsy's son who was dearer than life to her, was Lily's sweetheart. Contemptible Craven Sinclair strived to aggravate Compton and Lily's plans for a happy future together. Accused of forgery and embezzlement, Compton left town on the night they became engaged. His departure left his innocent father to serve his time in jail for him. To climax the eventful night, Robin Steel, Lily's real father who was thought to be dead, returned from the state pen to claim his daughter.

"The American Breed" entertained both audiences attending the first Student Senate-sponsored concert of the season with "Bend Me, Shake Me."

Big-Name Cast Highlights First Concert Of Season

"The American Breed," B. J. Thomas and Billy Joe Royal headlined the first all-star concert of the season, which was sponsored by the SGA. Another group known as "The House" accompanied the performers and sang a few songs themselves. Two shows were presented in the College gym. Sonny Martin of KAAV in Little Rock was master of ceremonies.

B. J. Thomas thrills the audience with one of his well-known records.

Another big name performing in this concert was Billy Joe Royal, who sang his very popular hit recording, "Down in the Boondocks," to his fans.

Several students helped to operate the lights at the concert.

Performing his hit, "I'm So Lonesome I Could Cry," was B. J. Thomas.

Entertaining the crowd with a comedy number, including Mickey Mouse ears, was "The American Breed," who sang the "Mickey Mouse Theme Song."

Stimulating more interest in music, the Choral Society provided an outlet for students to learn about music and participate in musical programs.

Choral Society Includes Students, Presents Concerts

The Choral Society presented two programs during the school year, one before Christmas and the other one in the late spring.

Concert Choir, Madrigals Entertain Across State

Under the direction of Dr. Gene Kelsay, the Concert Choir presented several concerts and also appeared on a state television network. Forty members made up the choir, which rehearsed three times a week. The choir presented a concert at Smackover High School this year. As a part of their Christmas activities, the choir taped a special program on KETS television station in Conway. They also held a Christmas concert. In the spring this choir took a tour and also performed for the students on campus in several concerts. They also participated in the opera in Shreveport, La. A select number of students make up the Madrigal Singers, who were a part of the Concert Choir.

Pageant Climaxed With Perritt Reigning

Margaret Lee Perritt, an English major of Waldo, was chosen Miss SSC of 1968 by a panel of judges at the AWS-sponsored pageant. She competed with 11 other coeds in swimsuit, evening gown and talent divisions. Margaret, sponsored by Talley Hall, was first runnerup to Miss Southern Belle last year, a cheerleader, a member of the 1967 Homecoming Court and a member of Who's Who. Graham Hall sponsored the first runnerup, Gayle Williams, a medical technology major of Hope. Judy Nash, a music education major of El Dorado and second runnerup was sponsored by the Young Democrats.

Bands Perform, Host Various Events

Playing at all home football games and two of the out-of-town games were the Marching Riders. The two out-of-town games included those at Henderson State College and Arkansas Tech. Rider spirit was boosted at each pep rally by this performing band. The pep band often played at the home basketball games. It also participated in the Columbia County Fair Parade, the Homecoming Parade, the Christmas Parade and the Third District Livestock Parade at Hope. February 20 and May 8 were the dates of the two concerts presented by the concert band. This band also made a tour April 1, 2 and 3 of various high schools in Arkansas where they performed in assembly programs. The concert band also helped sponsor the Regional IV High School Band Festival held March 21 and 22 at Southern State.

Playing at the Thursday night pep rallies was a big part of the band's many duties.

Athletics

Division Of Athletics Stresses Fitness And Sportsmanship

Participation makes athletics. It involves hard work for the individual and many hours of practice to attain the perfection needed. Often an athlete must work alone to improve his skills. But the silence that surrounds him during those moments whispers encouragement to continue. His drive is often rewarded by his contribution to winning a game or an event. Though this is the most rewarding, knowing that a job has been well done has its place in recognition. Athletics require much stamina, but at the same time athletics add to the spirit of excellence at the College.

Staff Promotes Athletics

A large part of the success of the Athletic Department of Southern State College is accredited to the director of athletics, Coach Auburn Smith, who set stable groundwork in order for the department to reach its goal. However, this program could not have been successful with Coach Smith alone. Although Coach Smith served as head football coach, much of the responsibility rested upon the teamwork of the entire coaching staff. This team of efficient coaches strived to create an atmosphere of physical activity along with the ever-present need for physical fitness. In doing this they made the participants in each division of athletic competition more successful.

Auburn Smith, former star quarterback, heads athletics at SSC.

Rip Powell heads the track team and defensive football line.

Calvin Neal coaches the offensive football team and swimming team.

Coach Watson is the power force behind our Mulerider basketball team.

Heading the women's tennis program this year is Coach Katherine Brown.

Evelyn Pack began her first coaching year for the Riderette swim team.

Bob Staten, newest member of the Mulerider coaching staff, is head baseball coach, assistant football coach, and scout for the Riders.

S-Club Important To SSC Athletics

The S-Club is the sports club for the men on the SSC campus. Its membership is restricted to the male participants of school-sponsored intercollegiate athletics who have lettered and who are in good standing with the athletic department in regard to eligibility, current participation or past participation and personal behavior. The objective of the S-Club not only is to support all varsity sports, promote school spirit, pride and entertain all prospective athletes while they are visiting the campus, but also serve as chaperones to the neighboring school teams in hopes that their actions as representatives of SSC will enable them to impress some new talent to enroll in some sort of sports activities at the SSC campus. The S-Club receives most of its funds from the operation of concession stands during basketball and baseball seasons. With these funds the S-Club bought new blazers for the football team, new uniforms for the cheerleaders and helped to furnish the athletic department with a universal weight unit.

AIC Competition Especially Strong

The Southern State Muleriders completed the 1968 football season with a 21-13 victory over Arkansas A&M. With this win the Riders compiled a 3-6 season record. The Riders, under the direction of Coach Auburn Smith, had a tough season as the team was hampered both by injuries and outstanding competition. The final success of a season should not only be measured in terms of wins and losses but by the accomplishments made by the team as a whole. Two defensive players, Marvin Gilbert of Galveston, Tex., a junior guard, and Mike Telford of El Dorado, a sophomore safety, made the AIC first team but chose not to play in the All-Star game. Larry Cloninger of Marshall, Tex., a sophomore defensive halfback who made honorable mention, represented SSC at the 1968 All-Star game against Arkansas Tech.

Riders Scalped The Savages

The Muleriders started off the 1968 football year with an impressive 26-20 victory over Southeastern Oklahoma. The Riders were first to register a score with a 30-yard pass play from Stanley May to Teddy Adkison. The extra point conversion failed leaving SSC with a 6-point lead. The Savages fought back with a touchdown and extra point to lead the fighting Riders. SSC then moved ahead before the half with a touchdown pass from May to Tommy Reeder. Just after the half, the Savages again tied the score. The Riders surged ahead in the final quarter scoring twice on 1-yard plunges by quarterback May and Mike Hooten. The quarterback of the Savages, Ish Kaniatobe, scored their final tally from the 1-yard line leaving the final score 26-20 in favor of SSC. Offensive standouts for SSC were Phil Trotter with 103 yards on 23 carries, and Stanley May, who completed 9 of 18 passes for 53 yards and 2 touchdowns. Wayne Volentine caught four passes for 52 yards. Defensive standouts for the Riders were Bruce Palmer, Mike Telford, Jodie Martin and Mike and Phil Harrington. Rusty Kauffman kicked two PAT'S for SSC, as well as keeping SEC backed up with his long kickoffs.

Livingston Jolts SSC

The Southern State Muleriders received their first loss of the season in the game with the Livingston Tigers. The Tigers dominated the first quarter by scoring the first three times they had the ball. Don Page, quarterback for the Tigers, accounted for all three scores on the runs in the first quarter making 2 yards and 14 yards and a 24-yard pass to Walden Tucker. During the second quarter the Tigers gained a commanding lead of 32-0 after recovering a fumbled punt on the Riders' 24-yard line and kicking a field goal. The only touchdown scored in the first half was scored by Robert Dotson with a drive of 78 yards. The Tigers scored their final touchdown in the beginning of the fourth quarter after a 60-yard march. Bertram kicked the PAT. The final score was 41-6.

Injuries Helped Drive Riders To Second Loss

Halfback Don Moir gains extra yardage by carrying Choctaws with him.

The Southern State Muleriders received their second loss of the season when they met the Mississippi College Choctaws. The Riders were preparing for the AIC opener game. It was believed that a major slow-down of the game was due to the fact that several of the key players were injured in previous games. Mississippi won the lead in the first quarter when quarterback Andy Sumrall hit Jimmy Jones with a 9-yard scoring pass. The Muleriders pulled up to tie the Choctaws in the second quarter with Wayne Volentine's outstanding catch from Stanley May. In doing this, he completed a 19-yard scoring play. After a fighting battle in the final period, Mississippi College came out in the lead with a final 17-7 score. Although tailback Phil Trotter was out of the game, the Muleriders got an outstanding performance from Mike Hooten. Jim Etheridge excelled at the monster position.

Muleriders Throw Harding Bisons

This SSC Mulerider game with the Harding Bisons was the AIC opener for both clubs. With both teams fighting in the pouring rain, they found it difficult to score. The Muleriders were leading at 16-14 over the Bisons when Jerry Copeland hit split end Don Dixon with a 10-yard touchdown pass. Shortly afterward, Phil Trotter intercepted a pass from quarterback Stanley May completing a 17-yard touchdown play. Halfback Phil Trotter proved to be the downfall of Harding due to his unbelievable speed. Mike Hooten did most of the running in this Mulerider game. He picked up 108 yards in 21 carries and a 42-yard touchdown run, completing SSC's second score. On the second play of the last period, Trotter started things rolling by throwing his first collegiate pass — a 23-yard touchdown completion to split end Wayne Volentine. SSC stole the victory with a final score of 36-14.

Muleriders Lose to Mighty Defense of Reddies

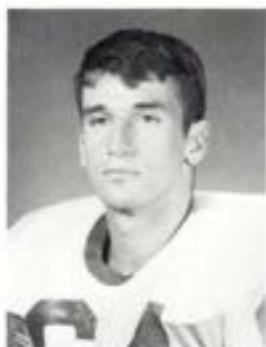

The Southern State Muleriders fell victims to the mighty defense of the Henderson State Reddies by the score of 16-2. The Riders scored first on a safety when Riders Mike Harrington and Bruce Palmer tackled the Reddie quarterback in his own end zone. The Southern State squad, unable to amass a strong offense, were forced to punt the ball to the Reddie 20-yard line. The Reddies then took control of the ball and marched on to score and lead the Muleriders 16-2. The Reddies were never behind again as they scored twice in the third quarter with a touchdown and a field goal. Punter Rusty Kauffman proved his effectiveness by keeping the Reddies from having good field position with his overall punting average of more than 42.9. SSC, after losing to Henderson, dropped to a third place tie in AIC Conference action with Henderson and Ouachita.

State College Bears Ruin Riders' Homecoming Game

With their offence bogged down, the Southern State Muleriders were unable to stop State College, and the Bears rolled to a 24-6 win in Homecoming. The Rider defense held the Bears scoreless until late in the second quarter when Darrell Hatchett plowed in from seven yards. Neither team scored in the third period, but the Bears broke it open in the fourth with two touchdowns and a field goal. SSC did not cross the goal until Stanley May tagged Kenny Camp with a 15-yard pass with two and a half minutes to play. The big plays in the drive were two May passes to Phil Trotter. Southern tried an on-sides kick, trailing 17-6, but were foiled by a 48-yard runback. Hatchett scored from four yards out. State College, paced by tailback Frank Richardson and Hatchett, piled up 256 yards on the ground while the Bears' defense limited the Muleriders to 84 on the ground and 79 in the air.

Tech 'Blows' Past Stubborn Riders

Phil Harrington throws down a Tech pass receiver.

Arkansas Tech, which finished the season as one of the top teams in the nation, downed Southern State 16-9 at Russellville. Part of the second half was played in a blinding rainstorm, during which Tech scored one of its touchdowns. The Wonder Boys took the lead on a 43-yard field goal by Dan O'Bar in the opening quarter. They marched 80 yards for a TD just before the half ended, Leon Armstrong going the last six yards. When the rainstorm hit, bringing winds up to 40 miles an hour, Tech got its last tally — an 89-yard pass-run play from Anderson to Rick Thone. Early in the fourth period James Black slammed over from four yards away for the Riders' first points. Four minutes later Bob Hattabaugh tackled O'Bar in the end zone for a safety to close out the scoring. Only the "stormy" pass play kept the final outcome from being much closer in several respects.

Rugged Ouachita Tigers Hold Riders Scoreless

Southern State's defense turned in another sterling performance, but the offense sputtered and Ouachita's Tigers copped a 14-0 victory at Arkadelphia. An interception just before intermission set up OBU's first score. Tailback John Cunningham broke away for a 52-yard TD in the fourth period. Otherwise, neither team moved the football well. Cunningham netted 127 yards for the day, while the Riders were paced by Mike Hooten with 48 and James Black with 44. Kenny Camp snagged nine passes for 78 yards. SSC had two chances to score but could not come up with the big play.

SSC Roars Back To Upset Aggies

After a near free-for-all in the third quarter, the Muleriders snapped out of the doldrums and whipped arch-rival Arkansas A&M 21-13 to end the season. Senior signal-caller Stanley May ran for two touchdowns and passed for a third, bowing out as a Rider with 88 yards rushing and 105 passing. Freshman fullback James Black was also a standout, piling up 99 yards on the ground. Kenny Camp snared four passes, including one for a 30-yard TD, and Phil Trotter caught two, one for 47 yards setting up a quarterback sneak by May for the score.

Happy Muleriders carry Assistant Coach Rip Powell off the field after upsetting A&M again.

Gilbert, Telford Selected To Play In All-Star Game

The Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference All-Star squad consisted of 35 players chosen by the AIC coaches. Mike Telford and Marvin Gilbert were invited to play on the first team in the all-star game against Arkansas Tech. Larry Cloninger, the only one of the three who participated, was also invited to participate in the game. Other Muleriders receiving honorable mention were Boyd Rosser, Chuck Linam, Benny Reeder and Kenny Camp.

Marvin Gilbert played defensive guard for three years at SSC.

Larry Cloninger played flanker for the Muleriders this fall.

Riders Drop First Two Games Then Cop Home Opener With Little Rock

With a young team, tempered by only three seniors and no juniors, Coach W. T. Watson's Mulerider basketball team got off to a slow start. On a season-opening road trip, the Riders fell to East Central Oklahoma 75-73. Barry McMahan gunned in 25 points, and Jim Deathrage followed with 18. The Oklahoma quintet shot 48 per cent from the field and out-rebounded SSC 39-35. The following night Southeast Oklahoma knocked off a cold-shooting Mulerider team 63-50. Ronny Tollett paced SSC with 15 points, and Deathrage canned 11. Returning to their home court, though proved beneficial as the Riders out-raced Little Rock University in another non-conference tilt. Tollett poured in 20, followed by 18-point efforts by Deathrage and sophomore center Bill Barnes. The Riders fired a sizzling 57 per cent from the field, a statistic that was to prove a season best.

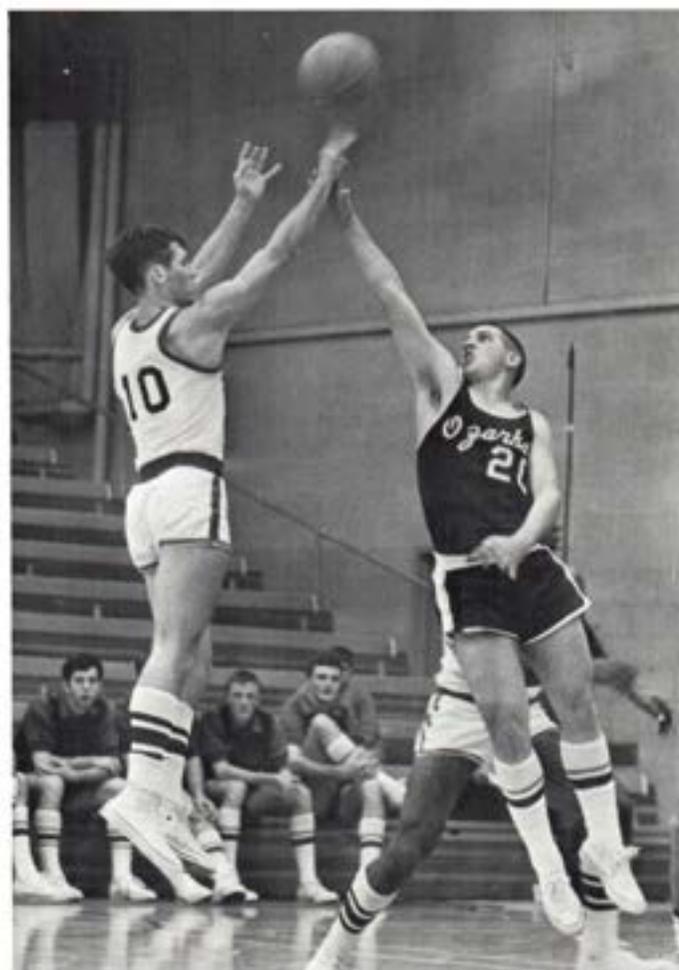

A hand in the face for Ronny Tollett, but it doesn't stop him from swishing.

Batting the ball away from the Riders' Mike Williams (40) is Cecil Carter (24) of Ozarks. The Mountaineers weren't often this successful.

Dead-eye Ronny Tollett goes for two but is fouled by Ozarks' Easley.

Southern Staters Blast Mountaineers, Skim By Quintet From Hendrix

A trip to Conway for the first AIC contest ended in disappointment for the Muleriders as they dropped a 73-66 decision. Eighteen points by Jim Deathrage and 17 by Ronny Tollett could not overcome State College's 56 per cent field goal shooting. In their next game at home, SSC socked College of the Ozarks, a team destined to win only one AIC outing all season, by a 91-58 count. Four Riders scored in double figures, led by Barry McMahan with 19 and Deathrage again with 18. Ozarks was badly outbounded and outshot as the Riders had another night of better than 50 per cent gunning. Hendrix came to town several days later for another AIC battle, from which the Riders walked away with a none-too-convincing 68-67 triumph. Substitute Edsal Kesterson sank both ends of a 1-and-1 free throw situation to give SSC the decisive points. Tollett led with 17 points.

Showdown At Henderson May Have Been Turning Point For Rider Cagers

A showdown at Henderson in mid-December proved to be the turning point of the '69 cage season, in Coach Watson's words. The unbeaten Reddies trailed at half-time 39-35, and the Riders played well enough to win . . . but they lost 69-67. Henderson rolled on to another AIC championship, and SSC struggled around the .500 mark most of the year. Al Flanigan's 16 points was a bright spot. The psychological effects of that game were showing when Southern hosted Harding. Sinking 33 of 34 free throws, the Buffaloes waltzed to a 91-74 win, one later revenged. Bill Barnes netted 19 points, and Ronny Tollett contributed 18, but the Bisons' Bob McKeel was too much, notching 33 points. Just before the Christmas holidays, SSC downed Northeast Louisiana 63-51, although both teams played poorly. Barnes canned 18 markers as the Muleriders scored their fourth victory in nine outings.

Harding's Mike Lamb (42) can't stop the Riders' freshman guard Al Flanigan from getting off his jump shot.

Setting a screen for Ronny Tollett at the top of the key is Bill Barnes (52). Harding's Bob McKeel is in for a surprise.

Getting open near the base line is Harry Hughes, while Harding's Mike Lamb and Marvin Levels guard Al Flanigan.

Southern Records AIC Wins Over AC, A&M

Northeast Louisiana sharpened its game over the holidays, but the Riders did not, and a rematch at Monroe ended in an 82-65 Indian win. Northeast center Henry Steele bagged 25 points and 18 rebounds, while Ronny Tollett had 20 points. Returning to AIC action at Batesville, sophomore guard Barry McMahan ripped the cords for 18 points on 9 of 10 field goal tries, and Southern State whipped Arkansas College 62-55. The win evened the Mule-riders' conference record at 3-3. An exciting game at Monticello was highlighted by a superb effort on the part of jumping jack Bill Barnes. The El Dorado sophomore poured in 29 points and grabbed 17 rebounds as the Riders topped Arkansas A&M's "run 'n gun'ers" 95-74. SSC popped in 47 per cent of their shots from the field and a highly unusual 81 per cent from the free throw line. Tollett garnered 22 markers.

Aggie Tommy Morrison stays close to Rider forward Mike Williams.

Ronny Tollett gains a step advantage as Bill Barnes clears the lane of Ouachita guard Terry Reed (21).

Gunning for the goal against SCA is Jim Deathrage (54).

Two Losses On Home Court End Rider Hopes For Conference Crown

After a break for final exams, Southern State's hoopsers opened an important 3-game home stand. Ouachita, an SSC nemesis past and future, threw a stumbling block, in the Riders' comeback plans, taking a 71-64 victory. Jim Deathrage fired in 25 points, but no other Rider could reach double figures. Ronny Tollett sparked a 65-51 triumph over State College, flipping in 29 points and even grabbing 11 rebounds, an unusual number for a ball hawk. Bill Barnes snared 16 rebounds as the Riders enjoyed a 58-32 board advantage. The home stand ended though, as it started. Arkansas Tech, despite being outscored 68-56 from the field, notched an 83-75 win. The Wonder Boys connected on 27 of 34 charity tosses to make the difference in a come-from-behind effort. The Riders led at the half 44-41 but could not overcome a 24-9 foul advantage for Tech. Barry McMahan scored 22 points.

Up and in for Harry Crossett despite the efforts of Arkansas Tech's David Combs (51) and John Gross (43).

Henderson's defense was almost impenetrable in the first half, especially as the 30-26 mark on the scoreboard would indicate.

Riders Win Two Road Tilts, Fall To Reddies In Close Home Meeting

Taking to the road, the Riders found fewer "road jobs" and less formidable opponents. They blasted College of the Ozarks again 65-55 behind a 24-point output from Bill Barnes. The SSC quintet was out-rebounded and did not shoot well but Ozarks was colder from the field. The Riders were behind at the half 27-22. At Hendrix, Southern had an easier time against the Warriors despite a 6-minute dry spell. Freshman Al Flanigan came off the bench and tallied 15 points to add to 15 by Jim Deathrage. Turning into February and the stretch run, the Muleriders entertained Henderson . . . and lost another close one, 59-54. Barnes was magnificent, scoring 26 points, but SSC could not hit from spots other than the pivot. The Riders outrebounded the Reddies 41-33, outscored them from the field 48-42, but not from the free throw line. Henderson's defense thus proved just a shade better than SSC's.

Two points for Al Flanigan against Henderson — they didn't come often enough and seldom were they this easy for the Muleriders.

Rugged Danny Davis tangles with tough Bill Barnes under the basket.

Substitution for SSC were even impressive against Arkansas College. Here Harry Hughes pulls down a rebound with William Keith aiding.

Tollett's Sharpshooting Silences Bison Crowd, Band At Harding Game

A hostile crowd and a loud band greeted Southern State's basketball team at Harding College as the two teams prepared to battle for fourth place in the AIC. After the game, Ronny Tollett probably wished he could have played all his collegiate contests in the chilly Harding gym. The Magnolia guard's performance was unbelievable — he ripped the nets for 30 points on 15 of 19 shots, almost all from 15-25 feet away. He also played a tremendous floor game, stealing the ball time after time from the Bisons' touted ball handlers. The result: SSC pulled off a stunning 78-68 triumph . . . and the crowd, and band, filed out quietly. Back home against Arkansas College, Southern State won its fourth in five outings, bombing the Scots 73-48. This time Barnes was the hero again, canning 24 points and grabbing 14 rebounds. Coach Watson emptied his bench late in the game, and even the substitutes scored at will against cold AC.

So surprised was this Scot defender that a little man like Al Flanigan could jump so high, he resorted to extreme measures.

Jumping jack Bill Barnes would appear to be blasting off, but where is the basketball? Only the referee knows for sure.

Barnes Sparks Muleriders Past A&M, Ouachita

With three regular season games left, Southern State still had an outside shot at third place in the AIC. Bill Barnes and Ronny Tollett spurred the Muleriders past Arkansas A&M 84-71 in the last scheduled home tilt. Barnes sacked 23 points and 16 rebounds as he continued his steady improvement, and Tollett collected 20 points. A&M's Tommy Morrison had a fantastic night, scoring 31 points, but fouled out too early, leaving his team punchless. At Arkansas Tech a flu-ridden Mulerider crew met an injury-ridden Wonder Boy quintet, and the latter came out on top 79-71. Al Flanigan netted 18 markers for SSC, and Barnes added 16, but Tech controlled the boards and shot better than the visitors. Later in the week, the Riders closed with a sweet 63-61 win over Ouachita in a game punctuated by a near brawl between the official scorekeeper and a referee. Barnes recorded 19 points and 10 rebounds. The taste of revenge was not to last long for the Riders, though.

Tommy Morrison (45) of A&M had a hot hand against the Riders, but he didn't get much help. Here SSC swarms in for a loose ball.

Tipping in two points for the Riders against Arkansas A&M is Harry Crossett, while Barry McMahan (12) stands by in case of a miss.

Pushing a layup toward the bucket is freshman Al Flanigan, but the shot didn't count because A&M's Randy Muse (35) had fouled him.

"Pick two" says an AM&N player to Harry Crossett of the Muleriders.

SSC Falls To OBU In AIC Meet Finals

Southern State's fourth place finish earned the Rider a home game in the first round of the AIC Tournament. They entertained a highly regarded Arkansas AM&N team and rolled to a 97-65 victory. Five players scored in double digits, topped by Bill Barnes again with 21 and Al Flanigan with 19. The Golden Lions were unable to connect from the field, and they were held to their fewest points of the season. On to Pine Bluff for the second round went the Riders. Arkansas Tech, favored to win the tourney, was chopped down by a mighty team effort from Southern State. Again five Riders hit double figures as SSC scored a convincing 99-84 triumph to move into the finals against Ouachita. Barnes flipped in 22 points and pulled down 18 rebounds, his season high. Ronny Tollett and Barry McMahan each added 18 points. Against Ouachita, in the second half at least, the Riders could do nothing right. The Baptists, who committed 13 fouls in the first half to 6 for SSC, were called for only two after intermission until the last two minutes of play. OBU thus won the tourney with a 77-66 margin.

Riders played rough under the backboards against a taller Tech team.

Phil Skinner, junior, approached the pole-vaulting pit in a meet.

Sprints, Relays Provide Riders' Main Strength

Defending conference track champions of 1967 and 1968, the Riders were out to break all track records. With 14 returning lettermen, the Riders' main strength was in the sprints and relays. Coach Rip Powell's recruiting program obtained the right talent for a very strong backup in the distance and field events. This season the thinclads participated in meets with Henderson, Hendrix, East Texas Baptist College, Harding, Ozarks, Northwestern Louisiana, Arkansas Tech, Arkansas A&M, State College, Ouachita and Grambling. They also ran in the Tiger Relays at Little Rock and the North Little Rock Relays at North Little Rock.

Runners Set 13-0 Mark; Place Second In AIC

Compiling a 13-0 record, the cross country team did not meet defeat until they entered the AIC meet in Conway. They fell to the Harding Bisons 41-68 to finish second in the AIC race. Only one letterman, Ronnie Isom, returned from last year's team, which finished third in the AIC race. He was aided by two other members from last year's team, Ronald Sweat and Bill Shaw and seven freshmen.

Baseballers Share Title

The SSC baseball team for this year displayed the markings of an experienced group of players. Returning this year from Southern State's co-champion squad of 1968 were 11 of 13 lettermen of which eight were seniors. This year's team showed strength from every position, but the key to the entire season was hitting. The fielding average for the Riders in the '68 season was .952, one of the best in the nation. The pitching staff moved the team forward with a 2.73 earned run average. The batting average for the SSC team was .234.

One Letterman Returns

The SSC golf team consisted of five golfers this year. There was only one returning letterman, Tommy Warren, a senior from Camden. The remaining four players on the team experienced their first year for SSC, but they had previous experience in high school and independent golf meets. They met in competition with Ouachita Baptist University in Magnolia and met in a double dual with Arkansas Tech and Harding at Searcy. The major point of the season was the AIC conference meet. The winner among the AIC, NAIA, Little Rock University and John Brown University meets represented District 17.

Swimmers Share Fifth

The SSC swim team had a fine participation schedule with meets both at home and at other colleges. They swam several dual meets with State College of Arkansas, Hendrix, Harding, Henderson and Ouachita. It was a year of tough competition, and the SSC Riders tied for fifth place in the AIC swim meet. John Blue proved valuable to the team in two events, the breaststroke and the individual medley. Mike Silliman did a commendable performance on the 200-yard fly and 500-yard freestyle. Sandy Santoli displayed his competitive ability in the sprints.

Members of the women's swimming team included (first row): Suzanne Russell, Edith Frazier, Lynn Turner, LuLu Langley, Paula Bollinger, Janet

Riderette Swim Team Wins Second In AWESA

As last year's defending state champions of the Arkansas Women's Extramural Sports Association, the Riderette swimming team finished second to the Henderson team at the state meet at Hendrix. Three of the seven individual records broken at the meet were set by Edith Frazier. She set new records in 100-yard individual medley, the 50-yard breaststroke and the 50-yard free. The team, coached by Evelyn Pack, was led in scoring by Miss Frazier and Sharron Settlemyre. Carolyn Woffard was the only returning letterman from last year's team.

Members were (first row): Alice Steed, Kay Coleman, Jo Adcock, Phyllis Landes, Peggy Butler, Paula Evans, Lynda Williams, Remona Autrey; second row: Linda Daggett, Carolyn Allison, Charlotte Lovell, Becky Payne, Judy Payne, Sharon Guyot, Betty McNeil, Barbara Mulky and Sallie Dalton.

Riderettes Represent Arkansas In Regional AAU Playoff

As a result of their winning season, the Riderettes were invited to play in the first annual Women's Collegiate Basketball Tournament at Amarillo. The Riderettes were the defending champs at the Northwestern Tournament and succeeded in winning for the second consecutive year. At the Northwestern Basketball Tournament in Natchitoches, La., the Riderettes played in three winning games. In the first game with Nicholls State, they ran away with a score of 59-19. SSC beat Stephen F. Austin with a 57-26 score. In their final game with Northwestern, the Riderettes won another victory with a final score of 51-42. By winning this tournament, they received the nomination to represent Arkansas in the Regional AAU playoff at Ouachita Baptist University where they beat the Kentucky State Champs. By beating Kentucky, they received the honor to play in the national tournament in Gallup, N. M. The team traveled to Texas Women's University in Denton, Texas, and won that invitational tournament also. In the Texas Women's University Invitational Basketball Tournament, the Riderettes played the University of Texas at Arlington with a score of 73-34 in favor of SSC. The second winning game in this tournament was with Texas Women's University 65-40. The final game with Northwestern put the Riderettes ahead with a 59-51 score. ## Organizations

Students Broaden Experiences Through Membership In Clubs

In the early days of Greek drama the Greek theatre played an integral role. It was at this Greek theatre that people came to see actors present the plays in honor of the Greek god Dionysius. Here it was where organizations began their appeal to people. As the years passed, the Greek theatre was no longer the center of organization, for organizations began to spread to other areas. On this campus organizations provide the students with activities that encourage them to progress, to grow and to learn. Through these various organizations the student broadens his knowledge and learns to cooperate with others, perhaps of a different background than himself. But for an organization to be successful, its members must take their share of the work. An organization needs workers.

Tri-C Holds Spring Sales Seminar, Awards Banquet

Tri-C, the Commerce Civic Club, was established to stimulate an interest in the business professions. This interest was stimulated through speakers and programs designed to supplement the classroom and textbook. For the purpose of efficiency, the club was divided into the accounting and economics, general business and business education divisions. The officers of each division were responsible for the meetings and programs for their division. The general officers coordinated activities which involved the entire club. The general officers and the officers of the three divisions formed the executive council which made decisions concerning the entire club. The organization sponsored its annual sales seminar in the spring. B. W. Chafin and others from the Little Rock Sales and Marketing Executive Club spoke at this seminar. Others who spoke included Mrs. Coy Walthall of Merle Norman Cosmetics; Gordon Herbig, comptroller for Firestone Coated Fabrics; Porter Briggs, executive secretary for Arkansas Careers, Incorporated; Pat Thomas, a certified public accountant; and Bruce Bevins, professor of business and commerce. The awards banquet was held to honor the outstanding students in the area of business.

Business education division officers were Martha Tollett, secretary-treasurer; Mary Tollett, vice president; and Sandy Hickey, president.

General officers included Curtis Clayton, president; Bobbie May, vice president; Delores Tucker, secretary; and Ronnie Ridgell, treasurer.

YD's Host Party Leaders, Sponsor Booth At Fair

The Young Democrats stayed very busy campaigning for various Democratic candidates, since this was an election year. They sponsored a booth at the County Fair and helped operate the Columbia County Democratic Headquarters. Many state party leaders spoke to the club this year, including candidates Marion Crank, Bill Wells, Virgil Copeland, Columbia County Democratic central committee chairman, and Mike Kinard, Democratic nominee for Presidential Elector. Chuck Johnson, YD'S president, was selected as a delegate to the state convention and served as state vice president of the Arkansas College and University Young Democrats, which gave him a seat on the state executive committee. Two other Southern Staters, David Reynolds and Sherry Johnson, were also seated on the executive committee.

Alpha Chi members were (first row): Carolyn Lamkin, Patricia Bolding, Laura Sweet, Carolyn Gaylord, Gayle Williams, Susan Cobb;

Highest Academic Honor On Campus Stresses Scholarship

Ranking within the upper 10 per cent of the junior and senior classes has been the primary requirement for membership in Alpha Chi, a national honor society. This honor has long been known as the highest academic honor to be achieved on this campus. Its objective was the stimulation, development and recognition of scholarship and the elements of character that make scholarship effective for the best. Officers this year were Ken Cowling, president; Wayne Johnson, vice president; Carolyn Lamkin, secretary; Jerry Frazier, treasurer; and Rodney Chandler, representative on the regional council.

Society Holds Discussions, Attends College Weekend

Episcopal students and others interested in the Episcopal church composed the Canterbury Society. This religious club met for worship at the regular services in St. James' Church and for discussion and snacks at the campus home of the faculty sponsor and chaplain, Dr. George Sixbey. The society sent some representatives to the Episcopal college weekend at Camp Mitchell on Petit Jean Mountain and to the student ecumenical conferences.

Equestrians Hold 'Playday,' Rodeo As Major Projects

Holding a "playday" in October and a rodeo in May were the two major projects of the Riding and Rodeo Club. The purpose of the club, sponsored by Elinor Hartsell, was to promote interest and enthusiasm in all aspects of horsemanship. Officers were Steve Featherston, president; Gerald Oglesby, vice president; and Terry Thomas, secretary-treasurer.

Officers of the newly organized Chemistry Club were Wendell Edwards, president; Tom Sawyer, vice president; and Steve Whaley, treasurer.

New Chemistry Club Tours Space Center In Houston

Many interesting trips were taken by the Chemistry Club, which was organized in the early fall. The club visited Louisiana Tech in late March to attend a seminar. They traveled to Houston April 3-5 and toured the University of Houston and NASA. They also visited Dow Chemical in Freeport. Dr. John Trisler, director of the Division of Research at Louisiana Tech, was a guest speaker on Feb. 7. The Chemistry Club has been working on a constitution which would be acceptable to the American Chemical Society in order that they might become a chartered member of this organization next year.

Chi Alpha Members Lead Services At Local Church

Looking over one of the religious booklets are Steve Klippert, David Porter and Gwen Davis.

Chi Alpha's purpose was to spread the influence of Christ on campus through the leading of the Holy Spirit. The group was student led but sponsored by the Assembly of God Church. The meetings were held each Tuesday evening in the fellowship hall of the First Assembly of God Church. The programs were designed to give spiritual refreshment for students. The members frequently led services at the First Assembly of God Church, sang in groups at other churches and planned various social events to encourage Christian fellowship of students.

Officers were Rev. Charles Northcutt, chaplain; Anne Hudson, reporter; Nelda Brown, secretary-treasurer; Marvin Gilbert, vice president; and Gail Ponder, president.

Fancy animal cakes, displayed by Sidney Rushing and Donna Horton, were given away as prizes at the club's booth during Harvest Carnival.

Conventions, Tours, Shows Keep Members Interested

The American Home Economics Association devoted the year to learning new methods and better techniques of homemaking. The group attended a Sarah Coventry jewelry showing, a demonstration at Arkansas Power and Light and toured Frog Level. Some members also attended a leadership conference at the University of Arkansas. Other activities included the Christmas buffet dinner and style show and a cake walk booth at the Harvest Carnival. A.H.E.A. members also served as hostesses for such events as the FHA Federation 17, Homecoming, Freshman Parents' Day and Fine Arts receptions.

A.H.E.A. officers included: Elaine Hefner, secretary; Lynda Lewis, treasurer; Debbie Nutt, reporter; Paula Setliff, vice president; Jo Kokko, historian; and Toni Peace, president.

Members of this music service organization included David Adcock, Anne Hudson, Dixie Walker, Diane Ferrell, Dannie Lynn Mayo, Bob Hudgens, Nancy Brown, Camille Robertson, Byron Holt, Jim Murray, Cecile Robertson, Kay Hipp, Vivian Patton, Jim Fairchild, Bob Endel, Jeff Christenson, Lequieta Reed, Judy Nash, Joan Gardner and Dr. Robert Campbell.

Musicans Provide Ushers, Present Several Programs

One of the many activities of the DaCapo Club, the service organization here, was providing ushers for campus recitals and cultural arts concerts. The club also gave receptions for guest artists and co-sponsored a Homecoming reception for Richard Oliver and Shirley Smart. This year they sponsored the Harvest Carnival and also presented a special program during National Music Week. As their annual project, the club presented a program of American music to the Magnolia Music Club. Membership in the DaCapo Club was reserved to music majors and minors and also associate members.

Elected as officers of the DaCapo Club were Jim Murray, vice president; Jeff Christenson, historian-reporter; Judy Nash, secretary; Anne Hudson, treasurer; and Bob Endel, president.

Officers and sponsors were Carolyn Gaylord, president; Richard Parrish, 1st vice president; Karen O'Hern, secretary-treasurer; Linda Bullock, 2nd vice president; Joe Bates, Ida Flemister and Eva Goodenough.

Psychology Club Promotes Interest Through Speakers

The Psychology Club promoted interest in psychology and gave those interested an opportunity to further their knowledge of the various aspects and vocational possibilities of the field. Its membership consisted of majors and minors in the different branches of the psychology field. Guest speakers were present at the monthly meetings.

Officers lead the members in a discussion of various topics.

Sigma Gamma Epsilon members were Robert Giles, adviser, Chris Franks, Charles Ard, Gery Holloway, Warren Adcock and Tommy Davidson.

Sigma Gamma Emphasizes Scholarship For Members

Requirements for membership in Sigma Gamma Epsilon, the national honorary fraternity for earth science majors, were exclusively academic. At least a 2.5 cumulative grade-point average — and a grade-point of 3.0 in earth science courses was required. The organization met the first and third Tuesday of each month in Overstreet Hall. Officers for this year were Warren Adcock, president; Chris Franks, vice president; Tommy Davidson, secretary-treasurer; Gery Holloway, historian; and Charles Ard, sentinel.

Members of the Pre-Med and Science Club were (first row): Alan Sweltzer, Cynthia Trout, Mary Nell Williams, Sharon Ward, Catherine Chest-ham, Ricky Contratto, Willis Beene; (second row): Gloria Pressley, Paul Best, Gary Lewis, Ronald McGee, Tom Sawyer, Olga Nelson and Bill Shaw.

Members Tour Infirmary, Enter Ambulance In Parade

Field trips to the University of Arkansas Medical Center and St. Vincent's Infirmary, both in Little Rock, gave the Pre-Med and Science Club members a broader view of today's medical world. Guest and student lecturers also enlightened members on a variety of scientific and medical subjects. In the line of entertainment, club members built an ambulance float for the Homecoming Parade.

Wesley Holds Mission Sale

Wesley Foundation, under the direction of John Walker, attempted to minister to all segments of the campus. They furthered their cause through service projects, discussion groups, classes, worship experiences, coffee house ministry, personal counseling and involvement in campus life. In the spring, Wesley held a "Mission Village" sale, which was connected with the Mission Village Project. At this sale they sold articles produced by people of different countries. "The Fish," Wesley's coffee house, was open for use by the Methodist members as well as others on campus who wished to attend.

Officers and sponsor were Ernest Pickings, secretary; Dr. J. Wesley Childers; Cheryl Terai, acting president; and Edgar Zacapps, treasurer.

Palestinian Lectures Two Days On Arab-Israeli Conflict

The International Club scheduled a variety of programs designed to present the culture, history and politics of foreign countries. Guest speakers, foreign students, films and social gatherings helped to foster an understanding of the world as it is today. Khalid I. Babaa, a native of Sumeria, Palestine, was here two days for a lecture series on the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Kappa Kappa Psi officers included Jim Fairchild, treasurer; David Seals, secretary; and Jeff Christenson, president.

Tau Beta Sigma officers were Sheila Smith, president; Lyna Gayle Sinquefield, vice president; and Francis Grantom, treasurer.

Music Clubs Sell Cushions, Sponsor Picnic, Reception

Kappa Kappa Psi and Tau Beta Sigma served as a brother and sister organization for the betterment of the college band. Members were chosen from band members who had proven their worthiness over an extended period of time. Music, along with service to the college and community, were the patron arts of Kappa Kappa Psi and Tau Beta Sigma. They were responsible for the success of the concerts and the marching band. This year the organization engaged in several money making and service projects. These included an annual freshman picnic for band students, a stadium cushion sale and a reception for Shirley Smart and Richard Oliver for their many long years of service.

Honor Society Strives To Promote, Encourage, Stimulate

Pat Bolding and Judy Mellinger prepare refreshments for a meeting.

Lambda Sigma Alpha, senior women's honor society, strived to promote high scholastic standing, to encourage use of leadership abilities and to stimulate full development in the mental, physical and emotional areas. Members were selected not on the basis of academic achievements alone but also on extracurricular activities which contributed to individual growth.

Kitty Burns was program chairman and Rachel Atkinson president.

Lambda Sigma Alpha members included (first row): Carolyn Gaylord, Rachel Atkinson, Kitty Burns, Velma Lee Adams; (second row): Susie

Evans, Jane Austin, Irene Conn, Pat Bolding, Margaret Perritt and Judy Mellinger.

Ellen Rhein, Lanita Ables; (third row): Diane Hunter, Kay Furr, Diann Howell, Camille Byrd and Katherine Burns.

Club Hears Speakers, Gives Children's Christmas Party

The campus club for elementary education majors, Phi Sigma Chi, was guided through the Associative Child Education International. Its objective was to work for the education and well-being of children by raising the standard of preparation and by encouraging the continued professional growth of educational leaders. All elementary education majors were encouraged to join, because the programs presented were beneficial to those pursuing a career in the teaching field. Speakers this year included Helen Edgard, field supervisor for ACEI of Little Rock; Louise Phillips, the curriculum director of Magnolia Public Schools; Green Mise, principal of Central Elementary School in Magnolia; and Eugene Aist, director of educational media lab in El Dorado. Santa Clause was at the Christmas party the group gave for a dozen children at their regular December meeting.

Officers are Katherine Burns, first vice president; Maxine Jack, president; Lanita Ables, secretary-reporter; and Diann Howell, historian.

Members were (First row): Toby Gafford, Jan Rybiski, Doug Hoff, Elaine Fenton, Albert Pilone, Ted Sigman, Gordon Murray, George Ferrelaj;

(second row): Bill Shaw, Brenda McNulty, Father Enderlin, Robert King, Mary Ellen Rhein, Linda McNulty, Larry Rossini and Gary Giampino.

Newman Club officers were Elaine Fenton, president; Ted Sigman, vice president; Jan Rybiski, secretary-treasurer; and Bob King, reporter.

Catholics Generate Interest Through Several Activities

As an affiliate of the National Newman Club Federation, the SSC Newman Club furthered the spiritual, intellectual and social interests of the Catholic students on campus. In the fall the club enjoyed a spaghetti supper and a weiner supper. They also sponsored a car in the parade and sold hot dogs to the dorms during Homecoming. The club featured a ball toss booth at the Harvest Carnival. In the spring they held their annual "Ship Wreck" Dance. Father Stroock of El Dorado was a guest speaker in the spring and spoke on "Birth Control and Sterilization of the Illiterate" to the members.

Nursing Club Starts First Year, Works In Four Hospitals

Newly organized this year was the Nursing Club. Various areas of nursing included in the curriculum were fundamentals of nursing care, medical-surgical nursing, maternal child care and psychiatric nursing. After completing this patient-centered program, the students obtained their associate degree in nursing. This new two-year nursing program enabled graduates to take the state board examination in Arkansas to become registered nurses. The four area hospitals cooperating with the program were the Magnolia City Hospital, the Ouachita County Hospital in Camden, the Warner-Brown Hospital and Union Memorial Hospital, both in El Dorado. The following held offices in the Nursing Club: Sandra Brasher, president; Cynthia McCormack, first vice president; Sherry Emison, second vice president; Roy Jean Allen, secretary-treasurer; Bettye Franks reporter; and Penny Rowland, parliamentarian.

Young Republicans Break Record, Enroll 148 Members

The Young Republicans' Club, composed of students interested in politics and wishing to learn more about government and political affairs, broke their record in the annual membership drive and enrolled 148 this year. Four members attended the National Republican Convention in Miami Beach. The club also did survey work for Governor Rockefeller and helped at the Rockefeller-Britt headquarters. They sponsored two candidates on campus this fall, Jerry Thomason and Lynn Davis. Members made a trip to Little Rock to learn how to make campaign posters for Ed Allison, state land commissioner candidate. They also attended a Rockefeller political rally and sent delegates to the state convention.

Campaigning for the Republicans were Bill Waller, Kathy Braswell, Mike Rhoden, Diane Hatfield, Cindy McCormack and Marsha Gore.

The Young Republican officers included: Bill Waller, president; Edelma Glover, corresponding secretary; Kathy Braswell, recording secretary;

Charlotte Oglesby, treasurer; Debbie Nutt, parliamentarian; and Diane Hatfield, vice president.

ABS Promotes Fellowship, Christian Growth, Service

Since begun, the Association of Baptist Students has been a Christian organization designed to promote evangelism, missions, fellowship, Christian growth and Christian social activities. ABS was designed to serve the college student. Activities were planned with the Christian maturity of each student in mind. The Baptist Collegiate Center, located at the southwest corner of the campus, equipped with a recreation area, a TV lounge, stereo and record library, kitchen and snack area and a E. B. Jones Memorial Library, has served as the center for all activities for the ABS. "The Seekers," a group especially interested in evangelism, was organized January 6. This group of dedicated students engaged in street evangelism, jail witnessing and personal soul-winning. Programs for the ABS were varied in such a way that something was offered for everyone. Each program was designed to inspire and strengthen the students for greater service in Christian living.

This year's officers were Judy Evans, secretary-treasurer; Margaret Perritt, president; and John Rowe, vice president.

'Beginnings' Awards Prizes In Freshmen Competition

Sigma Tau Delta, an honorary fraternity for English majors and minors with a B average, strived to promote the mastery of written expression and to encourage worthwhile reading. "Beginnings," the annual literary publication of Sigma Tau Delta, was begun in 1968. Included in it were the best of the literary works submitted by faculty and students. As an annual project, the fraternity sponsored theme writing competition for freshmen. The top three themes were awarded prizes, and the first prize theme was printed in "Beginnings."

MBSF Strengthens Students Through Services

Missionary Baptist Student Fellowship met each Wednesday evening in the College Field House. It promoted the cause of Christ on campus by providing Christian inspiration and strengthening the lives of students. Calvary Missionary Baptist Church, the MBSF sponsor, provided bus transportation to all services. The group enjoyed a fellowship hour each Sunday after the evening service. Activities this year included the annual MBSF banquet in May, Parents' Day at Calvary Baptist Church the Sunday after the banquet, acting as host to the MBSF from State College of Arkansas at Homecoming and a weekend visit to the Henderson-Ouachita MBSF.

Officers included Sandra Foster, president; Becky Steelman, secretary-treasurer; Sharee Shannon, reporter; and Wayne Johnson, vice president.

Brenda Mills asks the MBSF members a series of questions on the Old and New Testaments during a Wednesday night meeting in the gym studio.

P. E. Association Sponsors Festival, Clinics

Consisting of physical education majors and minors, the Physical Education Association sponsored many activities for the athlete. Included in these activities was the Intramural Festival held the third weekend in March. During the Festival they had playoffs in all intramural sports to determine the championships. Guest speakers used demonstrations to illustrate different sports. Student participation was not required but was encouraged. Four different schools took part in the baseball double header to add to the Festival an exciting element. During the entire year the P.E. Association sponsored a play night for all physical education majors. At the end of the year a Senior Send-Off Banquet was held to wish the graduating seniors well in their new jobs. The P.E. Association sponsor life time clinics to keep people of all ages interested in sports activities.

Meetings were often discussed by Linda Daggett, secretary-treasurer; Rabun Reynolds, president; and Bob Hattabaugh, vice president.

Members include (first row): Cindy Gladney, Barbara Jean, Teresa Burleson, Sharron Settlemire, Kathryn Coleman, Edith Frazier, Cecilia Shuffield; (second row): Becky Chipman, Peggy Butler, Janey Haden, Alice Steed, Linda Daggett, Paula Evans, Samaneth May, Sally Dalton, Mary Critten, Rabun Reynolds; (third row): Dr. Richard Carter, Robert McGuffin, Ronald

Agri Club Hosts Banquets, Features Renowned Speakers

Performing various activities this year was the Agri Club. Guest speakers at their bimonthly meetings were county extension agents, soil and water conservation agents, Production Credit Association representatives and others. This year the club sponsored the Farm-City Week Banquet and the Agri Club Banquet. Last spring Sen. J. William Fulbright spoke at the Agri Club Banquet. Entertaining guests at the Farm-City Week Banquet this fall was Hollis Williams, national director of the Watershed Program and Soil Conservation Service in Washington, D. C. Agri classes made such trips as judging trips to Houston and Ft. Worth, visits to well-known area farms, trips to the J. M. Poultry Processing Plant and the paper plant in Springhill.

Second-Year Debate Squad Argues In Four Tournaments

The debate squad, in its second season of inter-collegiate competition, was coached by James L. Meikle, substituting for Robert L. Hartsell who was on leave for graduate study. Debaters participated in four tournaments and visited as observers at one tournament. The debate resolution for the year was "That Executive Control of United States Foreign Policy Should Be Significantly Curtailed." A sample debate was presented for the campus International Relations Club because of its interest in the topic. The teams won approximately one-half of their debates for the season.

Geology Club Increases Students' Interest

An interest in geology has been the basis for membership in the Geology Club, which has existed for several years on this campus. The main purpose of the club was to provide an organization where interested students could meet, hold discussions, hear special lectures and, on occasion, take trips to areas of geologic interest. Students holding offices this year were Chris Franks, president; Tommy Davidson, vice president; and Donna Gaddy, secretary-treasurer. The club's sponsor was Robert Giles, instructor of geology and general science.

Engineers Sponsor Banquet, Elect Sweetheart

A new member of the Junior Engineering Technical Society, the Engineers' Club, was organized to give students interested in engineering an opportunity to share their interest with other students and professional engineers. The students saw and discussed films at their meetings. The club, along with the Southwest Chapter of Professional Engineers, had an engineers' banquet. In the spring they visited the University of Arkansas for Engineers' Week. A Turkey Shoot was held to raise money for club activities. They toured the Naval Space Surveillance Station at Lewisville.

BSU Sponsors Activities, Picnics, Retreats, Missions

Heading the list of activities sponsored by the Baptist Student Union was the Summer Missions Program. Seven students served in this program last summer. They were Jerry Parham, Jerry Thompson, Janet Sinette, Kaye Coston, Ron Wilson, Ron Maples and Judy Davis. Other activities included picnics, retreats, spaghetti suppers, Vespers each Wednesday night and each day at noon. All these activities helped to carry out the purposes of the BSU, which were to develop a concern for evangelism and missions, to train the members for Christian leadership and to provide students with opportunities for Christian fellowship and recreation.

Dorm Life, Activities, Studying Dominate Students' Lives

A dorm room plays an integral role in the life of most of the students on campus for it serves as home for two different students. Behind its closed door can be found the silence of many emotions — the silence of bewilderment in being a freshman, the silence of preparation during intensive study, the silence of relief because an exam has been passed, the silence of reminiscence on receiving a letter from home and the silence of worry because there is no more money. All these find shelter and release behind the door of that small room in some dorm that a student calls his own.

Several concert band students put in many hours of diligent practice in preparing for their first spring concert held on campus Feb. 20.

Campus Governments Are Center Of Leadership

Leading the students were the three government associations — the Student Government Association, the Association of Men Students and the Association of Women Students. Each of the three strived to maintain high standards for all students and to provide various activities for the members and the school.

The officers serving the Association of Men Students for its beginning year on Southern State's campus were (first row): Gordon Humphrey, secretary; Jimmy Dale, president; Tommy Hughes, first vice president; (second row): Ed Trice, second vice president; and Larry Whitehead, treasurer.

AMS Launches Its First Year, Sells Directories

The newly organized Association of Men Students replaced the Men's Council and was parallel to the Association of Women Students. Dean Gary Piper, the key sponsor and leader, said the reasons for the new organization consisted of a need to give the men more representatives, a better voice in what involves them and to convince them that they play an important part in SSC government. This organization sold student directories listing the name, hometown, major, classification, post office box number and dorm residence of the students.

AMS members listen as a speaker explains the parts of a drop of blood.

Senate officers included Paul Hoover, president; Chuck Johnson, vice president; Charlene Flowers, secretary; and Paul Miller, treasurer.

Senate Has Honor Banquet, Receives Place On Agenda

New steps were taken this year by the Student Senate in order to improve its overall functions. One of the newest activities was an honor banquet held in the spring to recognize outstanding students. Executive officers received the right to be placed on the Board of Trustees' agenda. The representatives had the right to offer suggestions, but they were not allowed to vote. The Senate also sponsored a lecture series featuring social critic and author Vance Packard. The elections committee and the student activities committee were the two major committees of the Senate. The student activities committee planned various events. A Howdy Week was planned to acquaint new students. Several dances were sponsored, including the Christmas, Valentine and Spring Formal. The elections committee set up rules for Senate elections. Several members represented SSC at the Region 13 Conference of College Unions in New Orleans and the Arkansas Association of Student Government in Conway.

During International Night, Ida Flemister talks to students.

Student senate representatives listen attentively as Paul Hoover, Senate president, brings up another issue to be discussed at the meeting.

After Senate, Mike Dunn, John Thurston, Paul Hoover, Mike Rhoden and Paul Miller discuss the issues brought up during a Senate meeting.

AWS Sponsors Delegates, Secret Pals, Questionnaires

The Association of Women Students served as the governing body for the women students and promoted many activities for the college coed. During the first week of school, AWS sponsored a Be-In to acquaint freshmen girls with AWS and Southern State. As Christmas season always offers the opportunity for singing, AWS took advantage of this by sponsoring girls' caroling to the boys' dorms. To help promote the Christmas spirit, secret pal week was also set up, along with a prize of $10.00 for the best decorated women's dormitory. AWS sent delegates to both the state and regional conventions. The state convention (AAWS) was held at Arkansas State University in Jonesboro on February 21. The regional convention (IWAS) was held at the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa April 3. Another AWS sponsored activity was Sadie Hawkins Day in the spring. The fashion committee took a survey of women's dress rules of several colleges and universities and sent out questionnaires in an attempt to evaluate women's dress rules at Southern State.

Freshman women were welcomed at a Be-In sponsored by the AWS.

Cheryl Terai, Jane Lovell, Karen Sharetta, Olga Nelson, Karen O'Hern, Rhonda Crevens and Ann Dowdy.

Officers—Phyllis Landes, AWS contact; Olga Nelson, treasurer; Ann Dowdy, president; Brenda McNeil, vice president; Cheryl Terai, secretary; and Sarah Rice, legislative chairman.

Dorm Life Improves Cooperation, Understanding

Residents Of Greene Participate In Intramural Sports, Homecoming

The north wing of Greene Hall housed the athletes of Southern State again this year. As did the other men's dorms, Greene Hall participated in all the intramural events. During Homecoming week, the men built a float, which they entered in float competition. This float also appeared in the Homecoming parade. Before the holidays began, the men had a Christmas party in the dorm.

Opal Fabian served again as residence director of the athletic dorm.

Sarajane Collins reigned as Greene's sweetheart.

Officers of Greene were Benny Reeder, vice president, and Jim Deathrage, president.

Graham Grabs Swimming, Wrestling Championship

Housing 115 male students, Graham Hall participated vigorously in many campus activities. Planned activities included fall and spring dorm buffets, a Christmas buffet at Peace Courts and spring outings. Last spring they won the swimming and wrestling championship in intramurals. Residents maintained a basic level of scholastic progress to round out a fulfilled college experience.

Several residents of Graham illustrate the confusion that occurs when the telephones begin to ring on one of the three floors.

Elected as Graham Hall's sweetheart was freshman Rita Caldwell.

Two boys enjoy an evening with guitar music and an intriguing book.

Members of executive council were Gary Murray, representative to Associated Men Students; Dan Daniels, secretary; Danny Veach, president; and Glenn Poore, representative to Associated Men Students.

Upperclassmen Dorm Gives Donation, Holds Hobo Day

Graham Annex strived to serve as an example in illustrating their strength, unity and organization throughout the year. The Annex sponsored a Hobo Day in order to raise money for different uses. The men of the Annex over-powered their opponents in the intramural events. They were number one in football, number one in soccer and took first, second, fourth and fifth in cross-country. It might also be worthy to note that the Annex donated to the library the money they received in the Homecoming float competition. This upperclassmen's dorm maintained a commendable scholastic record. Looking to the future, their plans were oriented to the fulfillment of the ideal "college male."

T. W. Cleek completed his fourth year as Graham Annex's supervisor.

Benny Garner gives Annex's second prize float, "Stomp The Bears," an appraising look and remembers the hard work that the float required.

Freshman Carolyn Edwards was elected as Graham Annex's sweetheart.

Clova Williams, residence director, watches after the men in Talbot.

Talbot Represents Foreign Nation In Internat'l Week

Talbot Hall, with approximately 200 male students, had many activities for its residents. A get-acquainted party at the beginning of the year as well as the annual dorm picnic at the end of the year were enjoyed by all. There was also an annual Christmas party and AMS caroling, which boosted the Christmas spirit. The residents participated in intramural sports, Homecoming activities and the Harvest Carnival. As one of the dorms chosen to participate in International Week, Talbot Hall represented a foreign country.

Included in dorm council for Talbot were (first row): Tom Hughes, president; Mike Rhoden, S.G.A. representative; (second row): Harold Pace, S.G.A. representative; Mike Bearden, A.M.S. representative; and Jimmy Dale, A.M.S. representative.

Talbot's residence hall assistants were James Pride and Orvin Foster.

Talbot Hall, one of the five newer men's dormitories, illustrates the progress that Southern State has taken in expanding its campus facilities.

The men in Talbot chose freshman Nancy Griffin for their sweetheart.

Talley Claims Two Firsts, Wins Spirit Stick, Float

Talley Hall, the home for approximately 140 men, won the spirit stick three consecutive times during football season, which enabled them to keep it for the entire year. Their float also won first place in Homecoming float competition. The residents enjoyed their annual Christmas party held in the dorm lobby. They invited Mr. and Mrs. Milton B. Talley and also presented them with gifts. During deer season, Talley had a deer cookout and invited the administration. As a friendly gesture, the men raked the leaves on Dean Piper's lawn. In May they held their annual dorm picnic.

Randy E. Manus, pictured with his wife Peggy and his daughter Dawn Michelle, served his first year as resident hall director for Talley.

Resident hall officers this year were John (Fuzzy) Thurston, president; Tom Sawyer, vice president; and Larry Jameson, secretary-treasurer.

Margaret Perritt was elected dorm sweetheart for the second year.

Serving as resident hall assistants for Talley were Carroll Wolfe, east wing; Richard Bates, north wing; and Paul Cardoza, west wing.

Acting as Cross Hall's first set of officers were Bitsie Beeler, treasurer; Jane Lovell, president; Karen Sherretta, vice president; and Ann Scrimshire, secretary.

Honor System Initiates Start Of Cross Hall

Cross Hall, Southern State's experiment with honor, was established this year. The ex-athletic dorm housed junior and senior women who had a cumulative grade point of 2.5 or better and who met the approval of Pat Weaver, dean of women. Liberal rules governed the residents of Cross since they were on an honor system. The most outstanding privilege of the women was the right to come and go as they pleased. To do this, each girl was given her own key to the front door. Cross Hall also entered a float in the competition during Homecoming, and the residents enjoyed a Christmas party.

Residents and their dates enjoy using the modernly equipped kitchen.

Bitsie Beeler uses her own key to open the door after closing hours.

Women In Bussey Sponsor Needy Family At Christmas

Bussey Hall, the oldest girls' dorm on campus, was home to 160 girls. This year they co-sponsored a dance with Harrod Hall. On Halloween night girls from all the dorms serenaded the boys' dorms with "Pumpkin Carols," which were written by Bussey. For their Christmas project Bussey sponsored a needy family, and also held open house. They had another open house on Feb. 11 for the faculty and the administration. A Hobby Hoedown was held in April. In this activity residents of Bussey showed their hobbies to the other girls on campus.

Entertaining themselves with a game of cards are the officers, Jane Head, treasurer; Mary Stanford, secretary; Rose Sridham, president; and Helen Nolan, vice president.

Bussey's dorm council consisted of (first row): Mary Mitchell, Shay Hryniewicz, Jane Plunkett, Helen Michael, Bonita Harrell, Sara Rice, Lequita Reed; (second row):

Susan Wallace, Ann Beck, Linda Merritt, Shirley Dismuke, Jane Ross, Gloria Pressley, Gwen McJunkins and Diane Hankwitz.

Mrs. Nora Jo Byers is Bussey Hall's dorm mother.

Serving refreshments to the residents of Harrod at their Christmas party were the officers, Becky Chipman, vice president; Susan Cobb, president; Cindy McCormack, treasurer; and Debbie Waller, secretary.

Elected by the residents of Harrod Hall to serve on the dorm council this year were (first row): Lanita Ables, Martha Tollett, Debbie Waller, Susan Cobb, Sally Dalton; (second row): Sydney Rushing, Cindy McCormack, Becky Chipman and Brenda Rateliff.

Calling a girl over the intercom for her date is one of the duties of Mrs. Mary Dale, dorm mother.

Harrod Sponsors Royalty, Sports T-shirts, Decorates

The girls in Harrod, the newest women's dormitory on campus, rallied in purchasing royal blue and gold T-shirts bearing their dorm title. An active part was taken by them in sponsoring a booth for the Harvest Carnival and in electing Harvest King. Christmas was reflected throughout the dormitory with enthusiasm in decorating doors and windows, sharing with secret pals and the selection of an honored Miss Merry Christmas, Michele Andrews. Numerous delegates from the dorm were sent to the State AWS Convention held in Jonesboro at Arkansas State University, and also a delegate was sent to IAWS, the regional convention at the University of Alabama, located in Tuscaloosa.

Girls enjoy new things—especially diamonds—as these girls prove by excitedly admiring a friend's new engagement ring.

Gathering in a group to listen to someone play the guitar is part of the fun of living in Harrod.

Girls and their dates enjoy watching some evening programs on the color television in the contemporary styled living room.

Nelson Hosts Administration For Open House

Nelson Hall, housing 64 coeds, participated in and sponsored many activities this year. Their Homecoming float, "To All Our Champs, Old and New," earned third place in float competition. Before Christmas Nelson held open house. On Feb. 11 they sponsored another open house especially for faculty members and administration. Mrs. Mildred Clark, dorm mother, provided all-night coffees for the girls during exam week. In intramural sports Nelson placed second in softball and basketball. A foreign student from Korea, Poong Ja Kahng, lived in Nelson during the fall semester. For their Harvest Carnival project, the girls sponsored a "Hippie Boutique," where they sold posters, trash cans and junk boxes. On Nov. 26 Nelson featured the Soul, Inc. at their dance. As did the other girls' dorms before Christmas, Nelson went carolling with the AWS and also had a party.

Mildred Clark became Nelson Hall's residence supervisor this year.

Lera Hindman, Virginia Sharp, Debbie Davis and Ramona Autrey take a break to relax and play cards before they return to their studies.

Getting ready for the next big dance, Annie Easter, Yvonne Coleman and Cynthia Russell brush up on the latest dance steps for the occasion.

Nelson's executive council included Shirley Anderson, president; Jan Cowling, vice president; Mary Ellen Rhein, secretary; and Suzanne Bayles, treasurer.

Print Shop Produces ID's Programs, Forms, Tickets

Housing The Bray office, the Mulerider office, the photography labs and printing machines is the Print Shop. Here workers printed football programs, ID cards, brochures, office forms, tickets and almost anything else the College needed printed. Bonnye Powell was in charge of the Print Shop procedures. The Print Shop staff also does much of the work on Bray production.

At the IBM Computer is Bonnye Powell, Print Shop supervisor.

Dale McCoy and David Sneed operate the off-set press in the Print Shop.

Working on type are Madeline Childs, Madeline Sneed and Brenda Mills.

Mike Johnston, Diane Hatfield and Sheryl Powell are type-setters.

One photographer that frequented the Print Shop was Phil Jackson.

Paul Best aided the Mulerider staff by taking some pictures.

David Dodson was chief photographer for all the publication staffs.

Photographers Aid Three SSC Publication Staffs

With a camera in hand and pocket bulging with film, the SSC photographers covered the various events on campus. Taking pictures for the Mulerider, The Bray and the News Bureau was a full-time job. Pictures taken by the photographers appeared in the local paper and papers throughout the state. The photographer staff included four members.

Added to the staff late in the year was photographer David Sides.

The Bray Wins All-American Rating

Named as All-American was the 1967-68 Bray, edited by Phil Jackson. This honor was received after only two years of publishing the Bray weekly. As most of this year's staff members were new at working on a college newspaper, they tried to follow the precedents set by last year's award-winning Bray. A new faculty adviser, Roy Ockert, was added to help with the publication. Each member of the staff put in long hours of hard work in bringing the news to students.

Mike Bearden, co-editor, cuts a headline to make it fit a dummy.

Co-editor Carolyn Bolt spends much of her time at the make-up table.

R. B. Gandy and Roy Ockert, advisers, look at last year's Bray.

Other members included Dinah Robertson, editorial assistant; Ed Trice, editorial assistant; Jo Tubb, feature editor; and Sharee Shannon, news editor.

Richard Parrish, one of the advertising men, works on a layout.

Bray Staff Works Hard, Enjoys Free Moments

Fred Eason and Phil Jackson, associate editor and editor of last year's Bray, hang up the certificate they received for an All-American rating.

Kay Porterfield, campus editor, completes the make-up on page two.

Rookie Staff Creates '69 Mulerider

Working on the 1969 Mulerider involved many hours of tedious work for the eight members of the staff. All members had little or no experience working on a college yearbook previously. As a result extra time was required for them to learn the techniques of yearbook work. Five deadlines were scheduled for the staff to meet. Proofreading the 288 pages before they went to press was another job for the editors. Roy Ockert advised the yearbook work.

Sandy Harrison, lay-out editor, begins to work on a page.

Working on the football section is Larry Powell, sports editor.

Staff Learns Techniques Of Yearbook Work

Frances Wilson, copy editor packs another layout in preparation for another shipment to the press.

Sharee Shannon, co-editor, completes another page in the deadline rush.

Co-editors Elaine Hefner and Sharee Shannon worked hard to meet the five deadlines to insure yearbook delivery on May 15.

Yours Truly, The Editors

Sharee and Elaine sail off to drown their yearbook headaches.

At times the co-editors felt they were on an island by themselves.
